

SPRING//GOLDHELM

After discussing with Anbera about some of the options available to them on what to do next about Tarvok's Town Takeover, the Wayless step outside and begin to make their way to the temple for the Mountain Sages. As they travel between districts, and foot traffic lightens up, a dark figure, who Vasira recognizes, appears and takes her out stating "Greysky sends his regards." Vasira falls to the ground and the assassin uses her other shortsword to go after Phoebe, stating "and that's for helping her," and knocking her out as well. After a surprise round where Vasira saves one Death Roll, the Wayless spring into action and initiative begins...

ROUND 1:

Siggy: Stepping over Phoebe, grabs hold of the assassin and casts 3rd level Inflict Wounds. A sickly green necrotic energy flashes through their eyes and scars as they state, "you want to fucking try that again?"

Elska: All the shadows in the area darken to an impossible shade of black and stretch towards her as she growls, "don't you touch them."¹ The tension in her chest momentarily snaps as she casts Ray of Sickness. A dark ray of shadows shoots out of her hands and misses. It instead hits a nearby stone building which begins to wither away

Gnomish Figure: Arrives in a dark red cloak with a dagger and drives it into the back of the assassin

Assassin: Disengages and dashes away

Vasira: Saves another Death Roll

Harlow: Shouts something about healing Phoebe and Vasira and dashes after the assassin

Berry: Arrives on the scene and stabilizes Vasira²

ROUND 2:

Siggy: Casts Guiding Bolt at the gnomish figure but misses

Elska: In her absolute panic at what just happened, tension knot itching to be released again, she tries to focus through her anger and fear and joins the chase after the assassin, catching up and brutally slashing their throat, covering Harlow and herself in blood. The panic sets in as she looks at Harlow in horror

Phoebe: Succeeds a Death Save

Gnomish Figure: Checks on Vasira

Vasira: Unconscious but stable, just vibing

Harlow: Looks at Elska in a very "What the Actual Fuck" way

Berry: Stabilizes Phoebe
