

Conservation Is Not Neutral Bibliography

Compiled by Anita Dey, Agents to Fight Deterioration

@AgentsToFightDeterioration | @conservationbydey

Many of these articles were introduced to me through talks and articles by Fletcher Durrant, University of Florida Libraries & Sanchita Balachandran, Johns Hopkins University. Thank you both for taking a charge towards educating the field at large. I am truly inspired by your passion and hope I can continue creating lasting footprints.

This bibliography is just a start. As a google folder, this can be updated with new readings, so please contact me if you would like to add or have any comments on the current reading list. I hope we can collaborate to create a resource that can be shared in the conservation community. Feel free to share this link with any and all. I will try to save a copy of as many of the articles listed below in the google folder as I legally can.
