

Creating a timeline to publish your book is important in terms of keeping your project on track for its release date as well as ensuring you don't miss the smaller details.

Below are important milestones in your publishing timeline accompanied by slots to add the dates you wish to complete them by.

Start Outlining Your Book	Date:
Begin Writing Your Book	Date:
Plan Social Media Posts to Talk About Your Writing Process	Date: Dates to post them:
Begin Finding Alpha Readers to Read Your First or Second Drafts	Date:
Give Your First or Second Draft to Your Alpha Reader List with a Feedback Deadline	Date:
Begin Making a Book Cover or Searching for a Book Cover Designer	Date:
Search for More Readers to be Beta Readers	Date:
Get the Feedback from Alpha Readers	Date:
Implement Edits	Date:
Find an Affordable Professional Editor	Date:
While Awaiting Edits, Begin Building Marketing Material for Your Book	Date:
Begin Searching, Following, Interacting with Their Content, and Building a List of Book Reviewers on Social Media	Date:
Implement Edits from Editor	Date:

Send Edited Book to Beta Reader List with a Feedback Deadline	Date:
Begin to Post Reveals (Book Cover, Description, Locations, Characters)	Dates:
Implement Any Final Feedback	Date:
Begin Reaching Out to Book Reviewers on Your List	Date:

Provide a Sneak Peek Read on Social Media or YouTube	Date:
Ask on Social Media, Friends, and More to Build an ARC Reader List, Sending Out EPUB's via Email with Links to Where They Can Review	Date:
Book Publication	Date: