THIS DOCUMENT WAS MADE NOT AS AN ATTEMPT TO CANCEL THE PERSON IN QUESTION BUT TO BRING LIGHT TO THEIR BEHAVIOR AND ACTIONS. PLEASE DO NOT START ANY SORT OF WITCH HUNTS AGAINST THIS INDIVIDUAL. WE DO NOT CONDONE HARASSMENT OF ANY KIND.

This is not a Document any of us wished to make (especially during Christmas) and we really wish we could keep this matter private, but considering how not only has this person's behavior gone on for this long, as far as we know, nobody has spoken up on this. It is time to change that and finally expose this person for who they truly are.

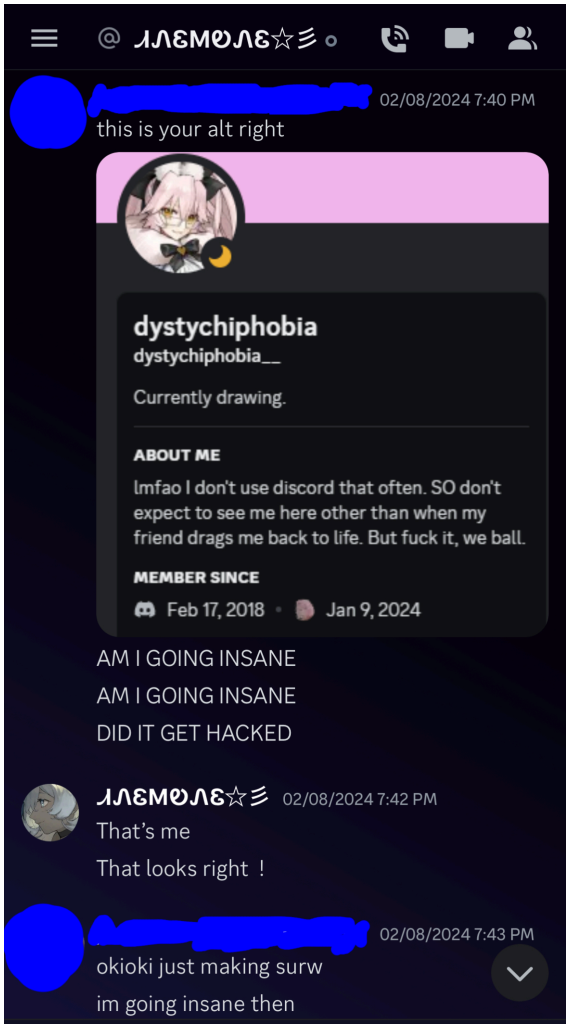

This Document was put together and made to call out an individual known as Star, who you might know better as his Merlin account @mageofbloom (formerly @blossomingsea). What you may not know, however, is that Star also answers to another name: Moon / Lune, better known by his Jing Yuan account @arbiterspear.

We've known about Star / Moon for a while as he has been present in many Discord Servers that some of us, the writers of this Doc, were in, as well as in the Twitter RP space. After hearing the stories about Star / Moon, people sharing similar experiences, and getting the testimonies of these people, we feel that it is safe and finally time to address the behavior and actions of this person. His behavior and actions have affected many for so long. Enough is enough.

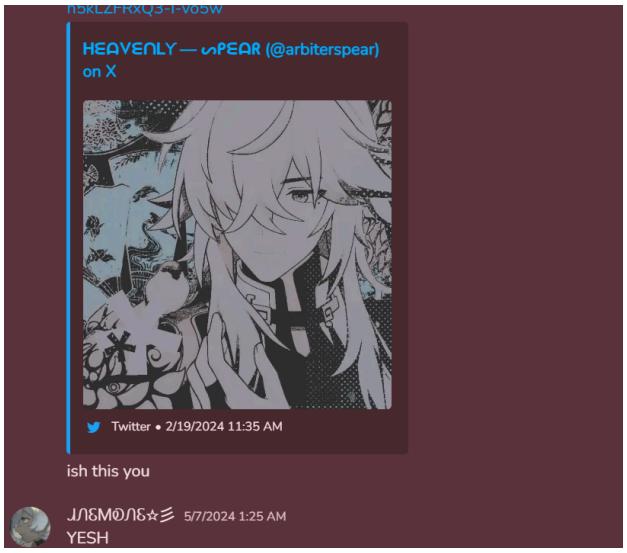

For the privacy and safety of the individuals who will share their testimonies, we will be blanking out their names and icons. We'll divide this Doc into sections as we go, so let's go over them one at a time.

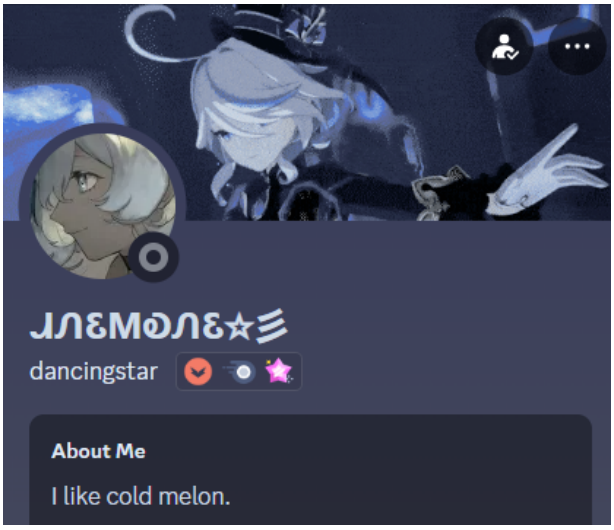

Proof that Star and Moon / Lune are the same person.

Before we discuss Star's actions and behavior, let's address something very important: The two writers known as Star and Moon are the same person. We realize that this is a very bold claim but there is proof of Star admitting that he and Moon are in fact the same person. Screenshot evidence is provided below and we want you to take a moment to figure out what's wrong with them (which will be answered below not to worry). We hope these screenshots shown here are self explanatory (if not then we're not sure what more we can say here).

[For better viewing for the pics above just in case]

In case you didn't figure it out by now: Notice how Star has Nitro on both his main and alt Discords. We're led to believe that Star intentionally did this to convince other people that he and Moon aren't the same person. That being said, we did consider the possibility that the only other plausible explanation for buying two Nitros for two Discords is for streaming purposes, and even then, it still wouldn't make sense to intentionally try to pass off as another person using his alt Discord. Of course, all of these are just theories at best and we'd love to hear what Star / Moon has to say for himself.

Now that we've hopefully established that Star and Moon are in fact the same person, we can now go over the reasons this Doc was made in the first place. So without further ado, let's tackle this, shall we?

Star / Moon Exhibiting Creep Behavior.

This is the main reason for us wanting to make this Doc. Star / Moon has continuously been creepy towards other muses, particularly on his Jing Yuan account (@arbiterspear). A lot of this behaviour has only been directed towards female muses, especially muses they have taken a liking to. There have been many instances where they make contact with an account with the guise of wanting to plot with them, but only having the intentions of roleplaying smut/lewd with that person. They usually come off being friendly and try to message muns of those muses, and eventually switch their behaviour into being too clingy for one's comfort. They start to desperately interact with the accounts despite not receiving the same attention, to the point that it feels obsessive and weird. If their needs aren't being met or if the person they're intending to chase after doesn't meet the expectations they want (ex. the muse they want being a lesbian or not interested in having a relationship with Star / Moon's muse), they would immediately resort to ghosting that person. This can be backed up by the following people, who wish to remain anonymous but still wish for their testimonies and evidence to be shared here.

Instance No. 1 of Star / Moon being a Creep.

To start things off, here's our first instance of Star / Moon being weird under the guise of his muse. The original post was meant to be a joke about a certain cutscene where OP's muse is present and here they switched and implied the idea of giving a "visual demonstration" of sex, which was unwarranted and not in any way planned/talked about prior to these exchange of lines.

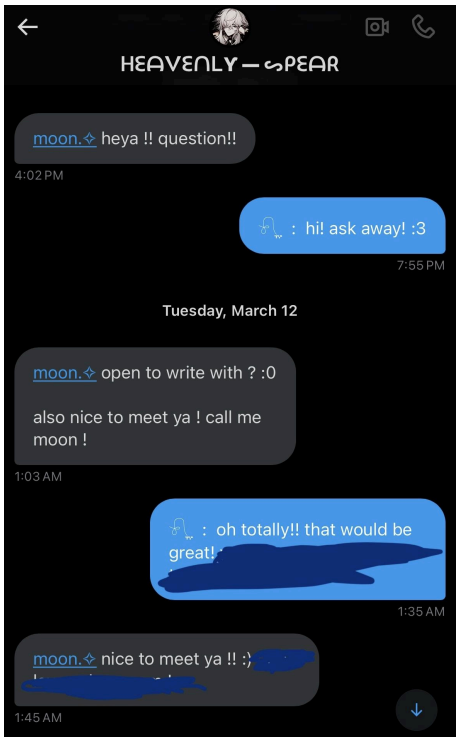

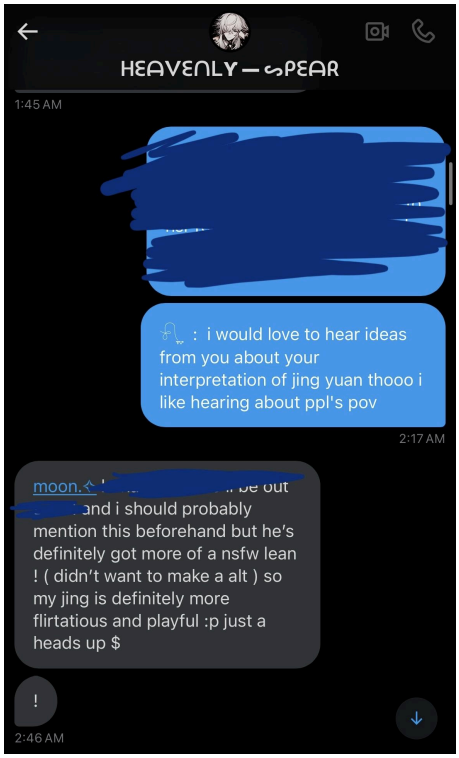

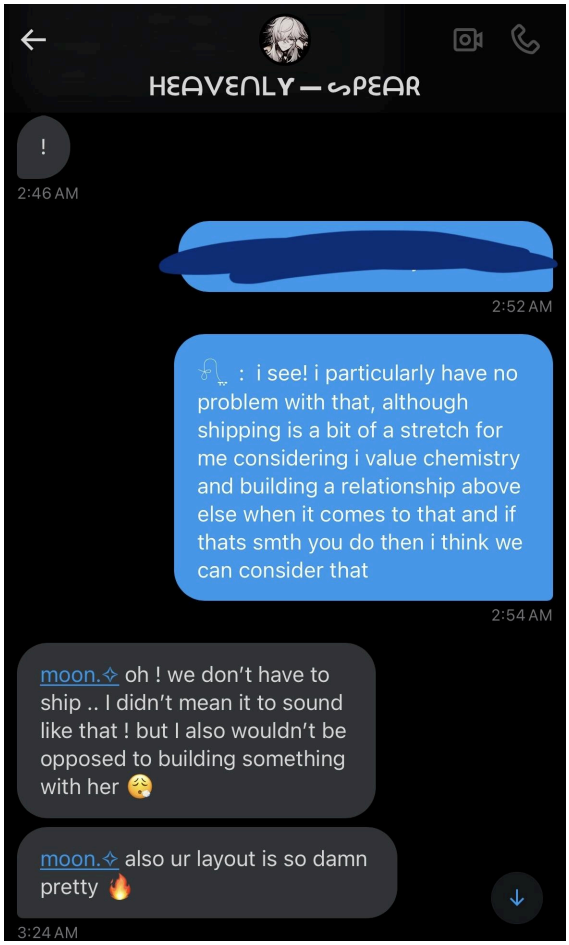

[For better viewing purposes]

Although the context may seem tame and looks pretty well-received, it has left a bad aftertaste in OP's perception of them as this interaction carried the vibe that Star / Moon was insinuating anything sexual between them even though OP explicitly stated that there be nothing romantic or suggestive in their muse's relationship without further chemistry, which clearly is what they lack.

This DM is proof of that being established before they started writing together.

Instance No. 2 of Star / Moon being a Creep.

This next case honestly had us appalled when we first heard it. To think that Star / Moon would go to these lengths just for some quick e-sex. It's actually disgusting and, dare we say, manipulative. As you can see in this testimony, OP felt pressured by Star / Moon into writing smut together. The reason OP didn't speak up is because OP was unsure of how to express their discomfort, scared to express their discomfort even. And still, Star / Moon continued to push them for smut related purposes.

We wish for you all to read these series of DMs provided by OP above. They show just how manipulative and conniving Star / Moon truly is. As you can see in these screenshots, when confronted about his supposed creepy behavior, Star / Moon attempts to excuse his actions by using the "but they never showed discomfort" and "they're overreacting" cards, trying to get the blame off of him in this same convo. He even attempts to use the excuse that his account is "NSFW leaning" (BTW you can be NSFW leaning and STILL have normal interactions! He said it himself that he is NSFW leaning and not NSFW focused). Even with that in mind, it does not excuse hounding female muses for smut purposes. He even has the audacity to claim that he "is not a bad person" in his own words. We'll leave a few screenshots below but you can read the full DM convo in the link provided.

While we're here, OP has provided another DM screenshot of Star / Moon being creepy towards their muse. Quite interesting how this is the first thing he says after OP did not reply to his earlier response from a few days ago as shown. Care to explain this,

Star / Moon? Again, just because they didn't express discomfort before it doesn't make your creepy behavior okay.

Instance No. 3 of Star / Moon being a Creep.

Another testimony from a completely unrelated party from us (who will remain anonymous as well for their privacy and safety) also wishes to have their testimony regarding Star shared here as well. Here is their testimony, we also implore you all to hear their story with Star.

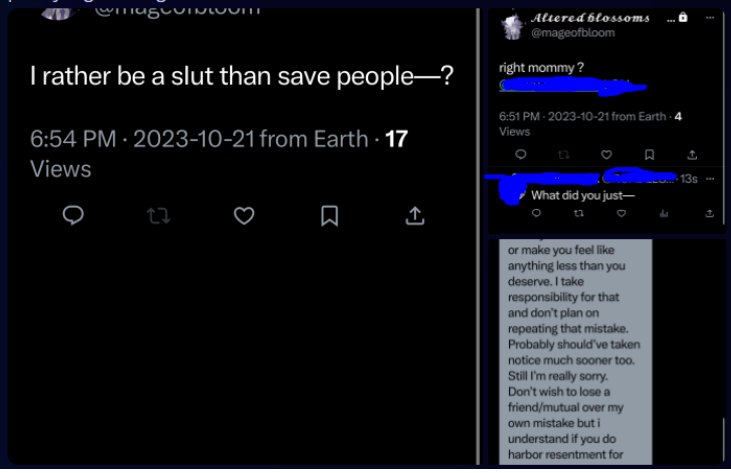

[redacted] Today at 9:03 AM

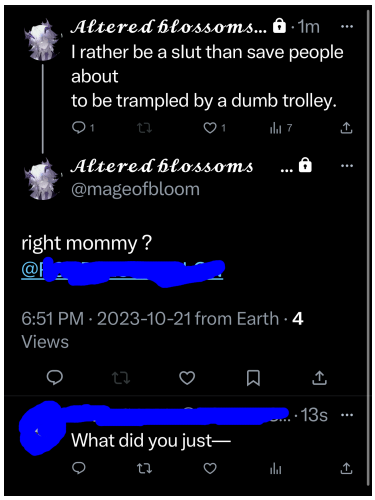

Back in Fate RP, I remember there was a situation where people were making light hearted jokes about the trolley problem. So, I hopped onto my Morgan le Fay and decided to engage with it myself.

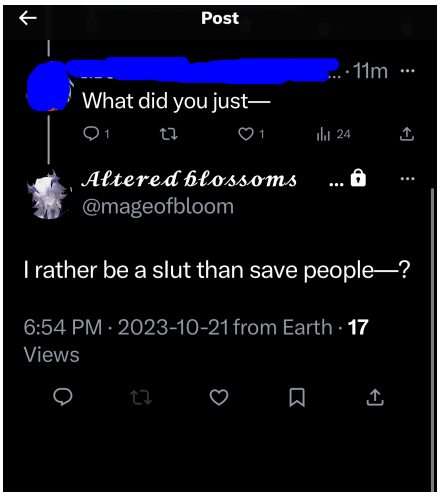

I made a joke saying she would speed up the trolley, only for mageofbloom to reply like this:

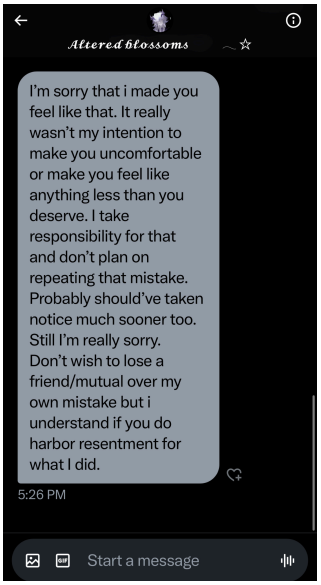

i stopped responding, but expressed discomfort (enough so that I decided to outright log off for the night). I removed them on Discord, and sent them a dm explaining my discomfort not long after (I can't find my message to them, but I have a transcript of what I actually sent), but they seemed to take accountability for what they said and the discomfort they caused.

... Except I found out not long after that they had blocked me (on several accounts), which raised up some pretty big red flags for me. (edited)

[redacted] Today at 9:07 AM

I also had times where they implied sexual things towards my muses but when I asked to elaborate how it wasn't, they would stop responding and refuse to actually clarify

Idk if that would be useful, though

But it was odd and rubbed me the wrong way

[For better viewing purposes]

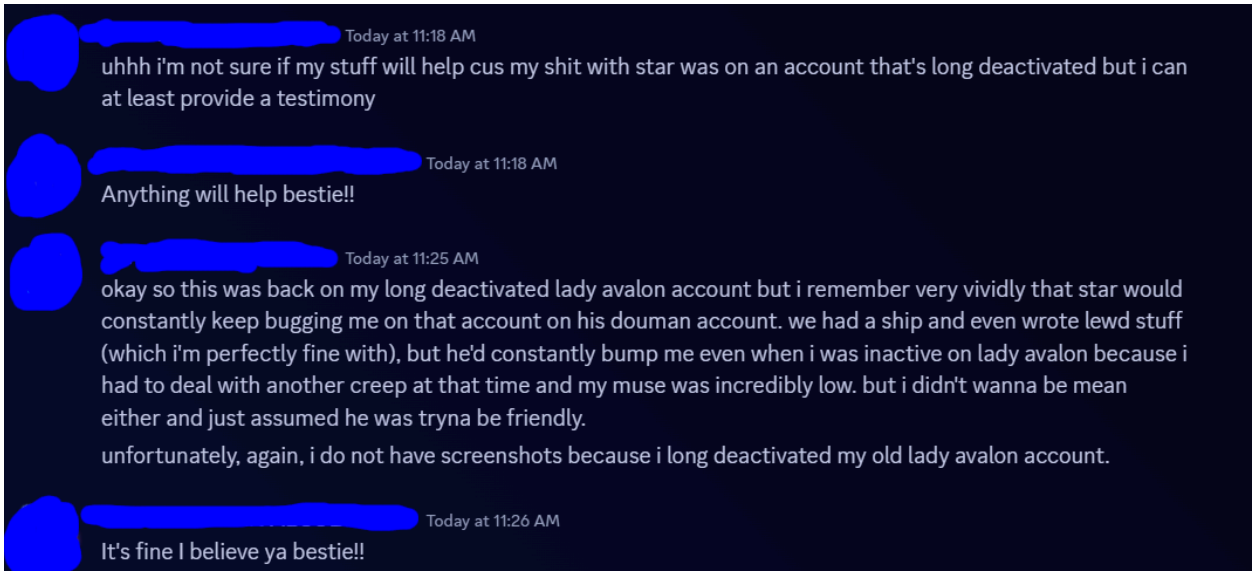

As you can see in these screenshots, Star continuously made this person incredibly uncomfortable with the aforementioned creep behavior of his. And considering the behavior that was shown above, the last screenshot described here perfectly lines up with Star / Moon's known behavior.

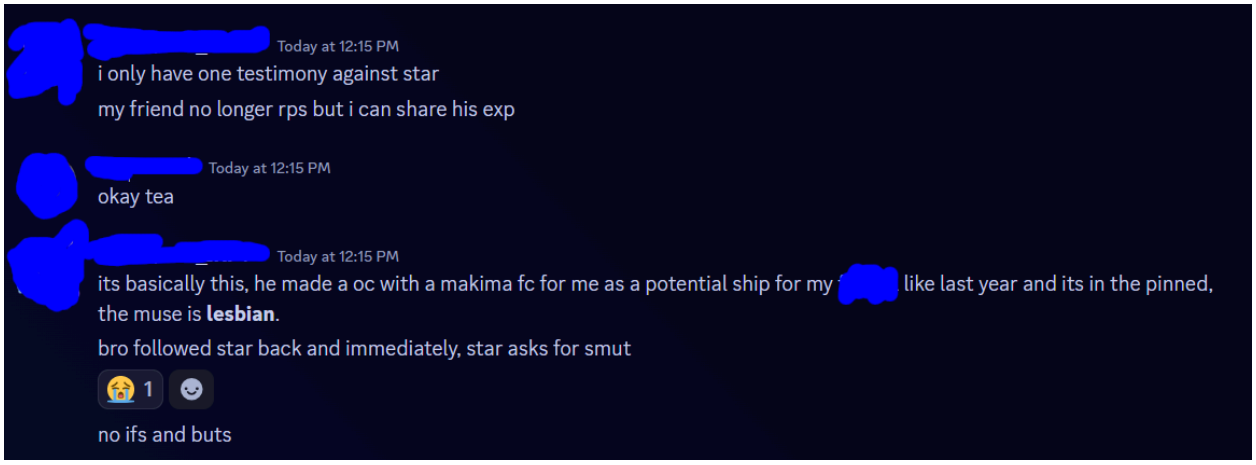

Even More Evidence and Testimonies against Star / Moon.

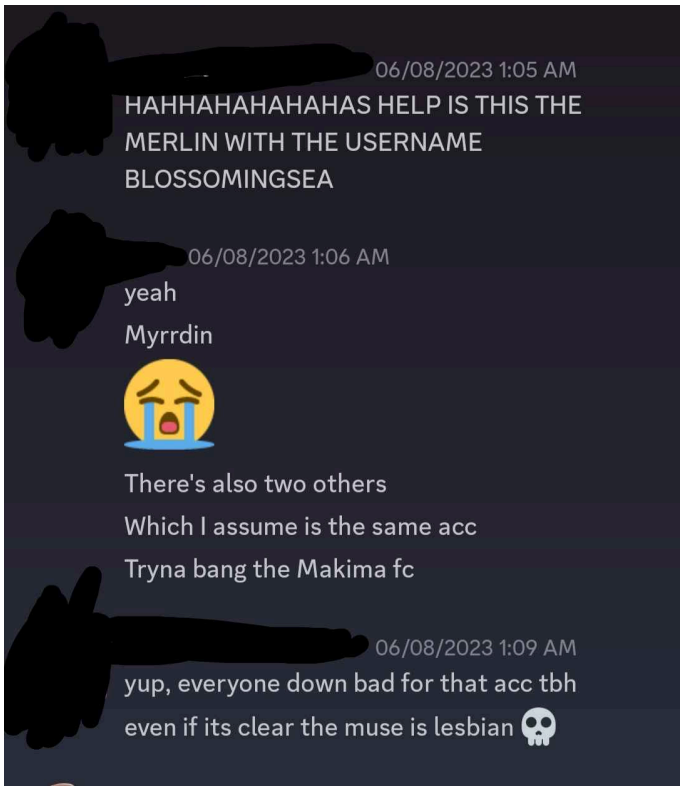

To wrap up this section, we'll dedicate this section to include either Star / Moon expressing said behavior in public for anyone to see, or testimonies that, while there isn't screenshot evidence, are still worth mentioning since the testimonies perfectly align with Star / Moon's creepy behavior.

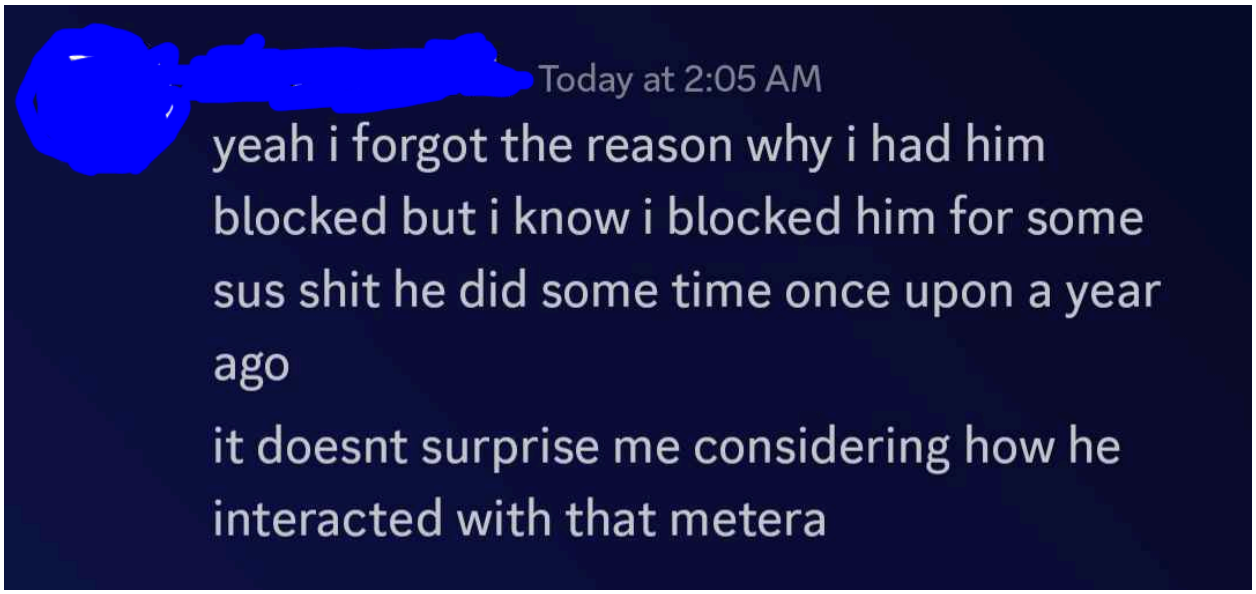

Another instance of Star / Moon being incredibly pushy with a female muse (from a completely unrelated party from us mind you). As you can see, the person did not acknowledge him for three times straight and Star / Moon only stopped then.

okay so this was back on my long deactivated lady avalon account but i remember very vividly that star would constantly keep bugging me on that account on his douman account. we had a ship and even wrote lewd stuff (which i'm perfectly fine with), but he'd constantly bump me even when i was inactive on lady avalon because i had to deal with another creep at that time and my muse was incredibly low. but i didn't wanna be mean either and just assumed he was tryna be friendly.
unfortunately, again, i do not have screenshots because i long deactivated my old lady avalon account.

The fact that most of this evidence and testimonies gathered here came from completely unrelated parties says a lot about just how widespread Star / Moon's creepy behavior is and how uncaring he is about the other party's feelings when it comes to smut and ships.

Update (12/25/2024).

Another individual has come out with their testimony regarding Star / Moon! And reading this, this perfectly aligns with Star / Moon's behavior as well. Please hear them out and do not let Star / Moon get away with this.

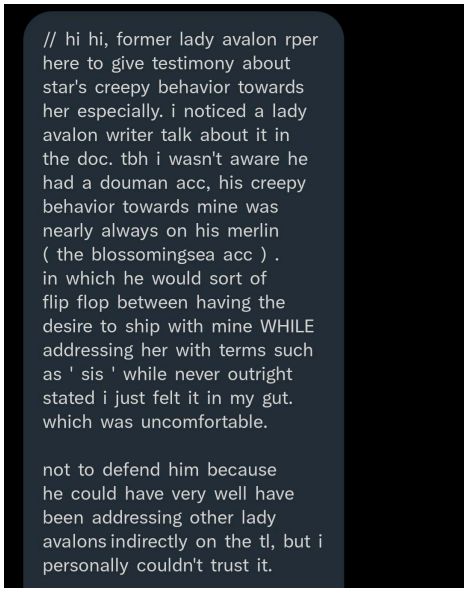

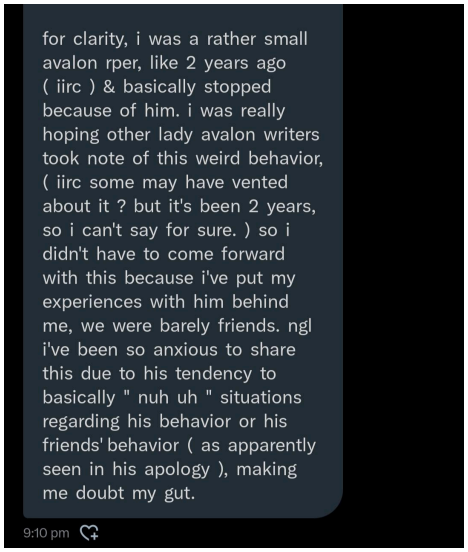

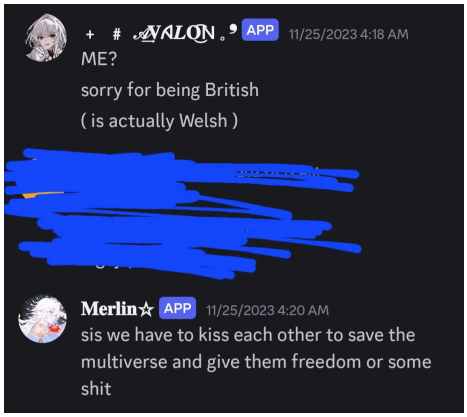

[For better viewing]

(Update 12/28/2024) Star / Moon implying the idea of wanting incestuous romance.

We apologize for having to update this Doc once again, but it turns out, according to another testimony of another individual who also ran a Lady Avalon account, this isn't the first time or only time Star has targeted Lady Avalon writers. Not only that, Star / Moon implied the idea of having an incestuous romantic relationship with this person's Lady Avalon account! The screenshot provided speaks for itself.

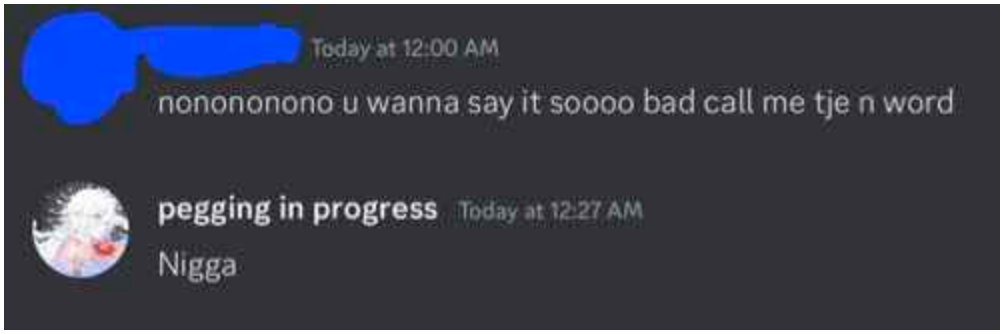

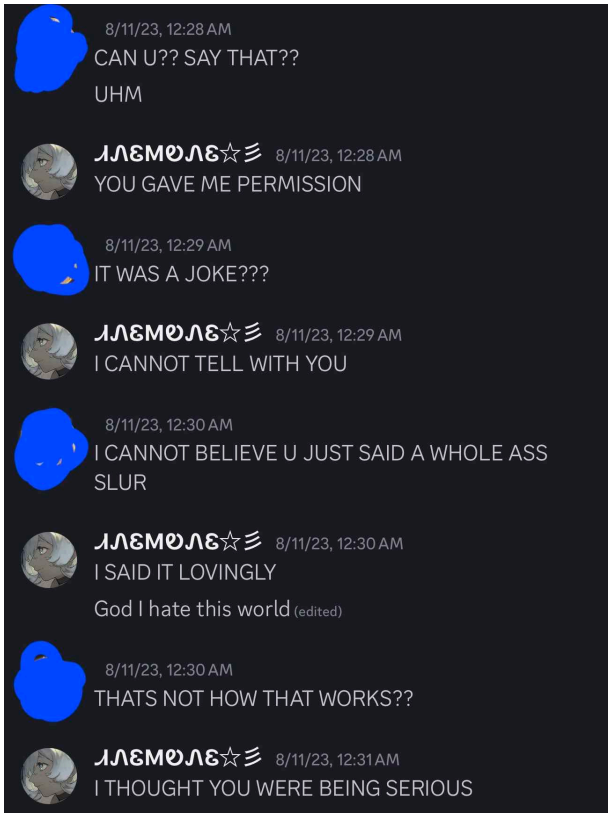

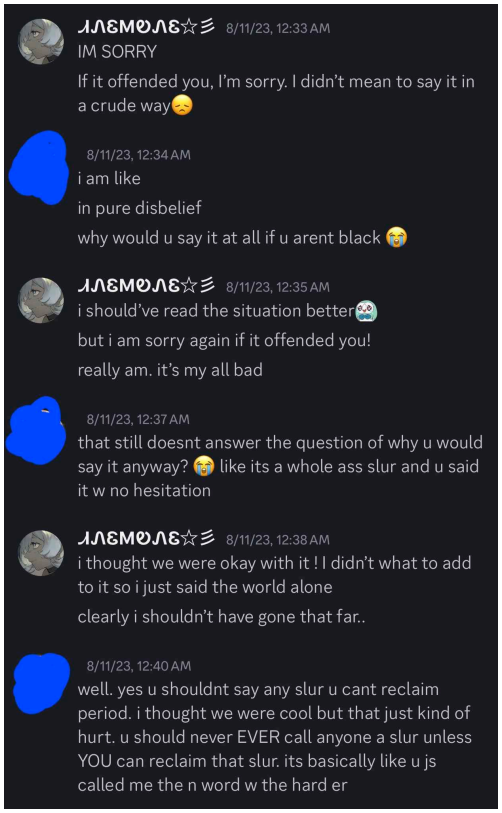

In Star's own words here, he said: “Sis we have to kiss each other-” and I'm pretty sure we can stop there. What exactly does this mean, Star / Moon? Why are you insinuating the idea of a romantic relationship while using familial terms like “sis” or “sister”? Care to explain this too? I think it tells us all we need to know about you. You do not “accidentally” imply the idea of incest through wording like this.

(Update 12/25/2024) Star / Moon being Racist.

We thought Star / Moon was simply a creep who harasses and manipulates female muses & muns for ships or smut but it turns out he’s a lot worse than we could have ever imagined. The screenshots speak for themselves here.

As you can see OP expressed discomfort in the fact that Star / Moon could casually say a slur that he cannot reclaim. Keep in mind, OP is black and OP, along with many people who know Star / Moon personally, can confirm that he isn't black himself. One source confirms that Star / Moon is Mexican American in fact.

According to OP through voice memos provided in our DMs, even after OP cut off contact with Star, Star would continue to try to reestablish contact with OP through their alt and other identity as Moon / Lune. On top of that, to nobody's surprise, Star / Moon would also try to push OP for ships back when OP ran a Fu Xuan account.

Regardless, it's disgusting to know that Star / Moon seemed so willing and eager to say a slur that he cannot reclaim himself. Even if it was a joke, that does not excuse him saying a slur.

Star / Moon Following Taboo or Questionable Lewd Accounts.

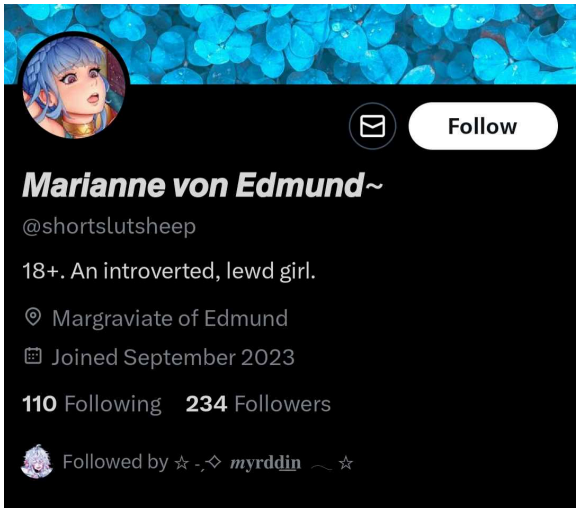

This case is rather minor and miniscule compared to the earlier section above, but we feel it's still worth mentioning. At first we excused Star / Moon for following taboo or very questionable lewd accounts under the assumption that he was simply just ignorant of the nature of these accounts, and that's totally fine, it happens! But then we dug through his Followings and found out he's followed some very questionable accounts even now. All of these were found through Star / Moon's Followings on either his Merlin or his Lancelot, you can even have a look for yourself at his Following on any of his accounts (which will be listed in the conclusion section if you keep scrolling down) if you don't believe us. We hope that these are also self explanatory.

// NSFW WARNING!!

// TW FOR RAPE MENTION AND IMPLICATIONS!!

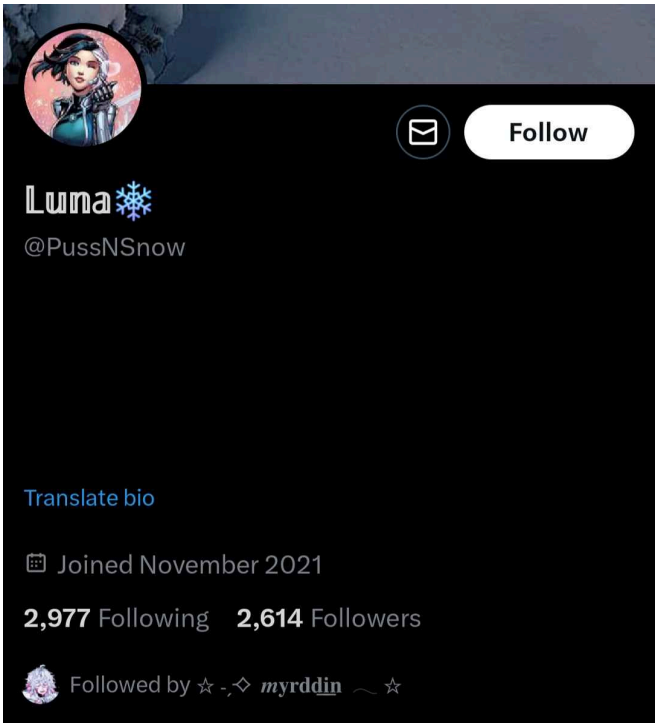

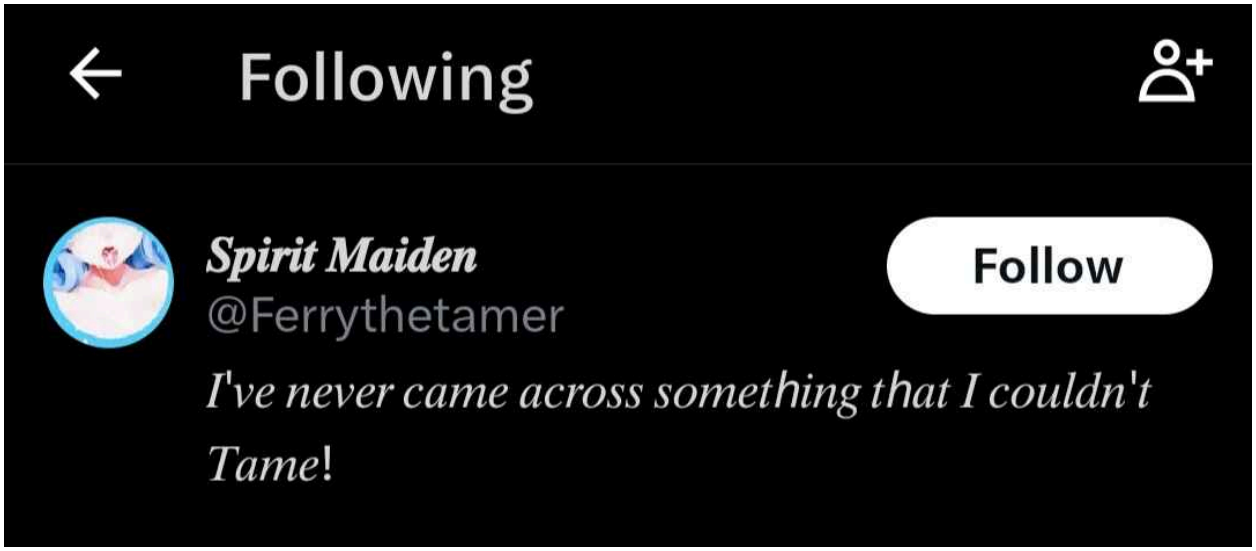

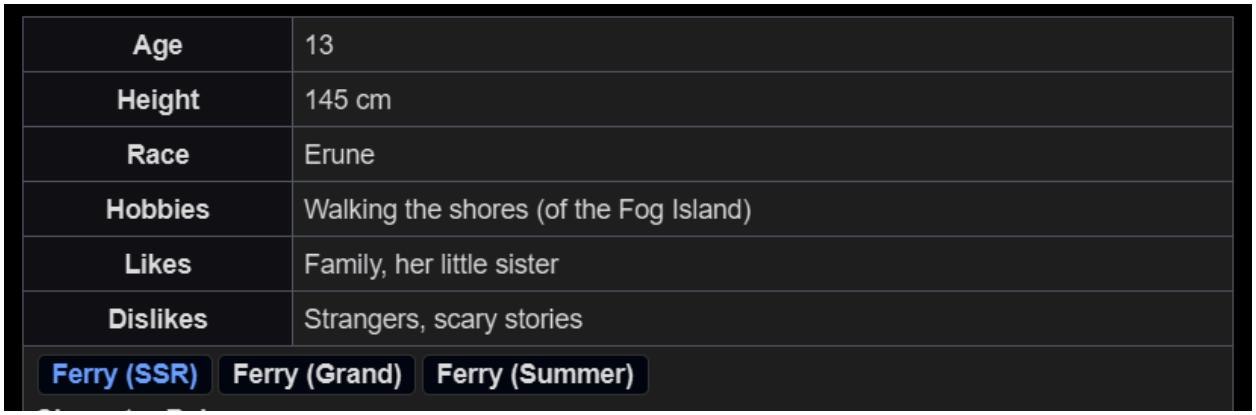

For anyone confused, the PussNSnow account RTs and engages in futanari themes, which is incredibly transphobic and we'd be happy to explain why as one of the writers of this Doc is on the trans spectrum. Just scroll through the account yourself if you don't believe us.

For reference and clarity, Ferry from Granblue Fantasy, the character shown above, is physically 13 and as far as most GBF players know, she hasn't physically aged since then, so she's still physically a minor regardless of her actual age. It'd be hard to believe Star / Moon didn't know this considering he muses Lancelot from the same game.

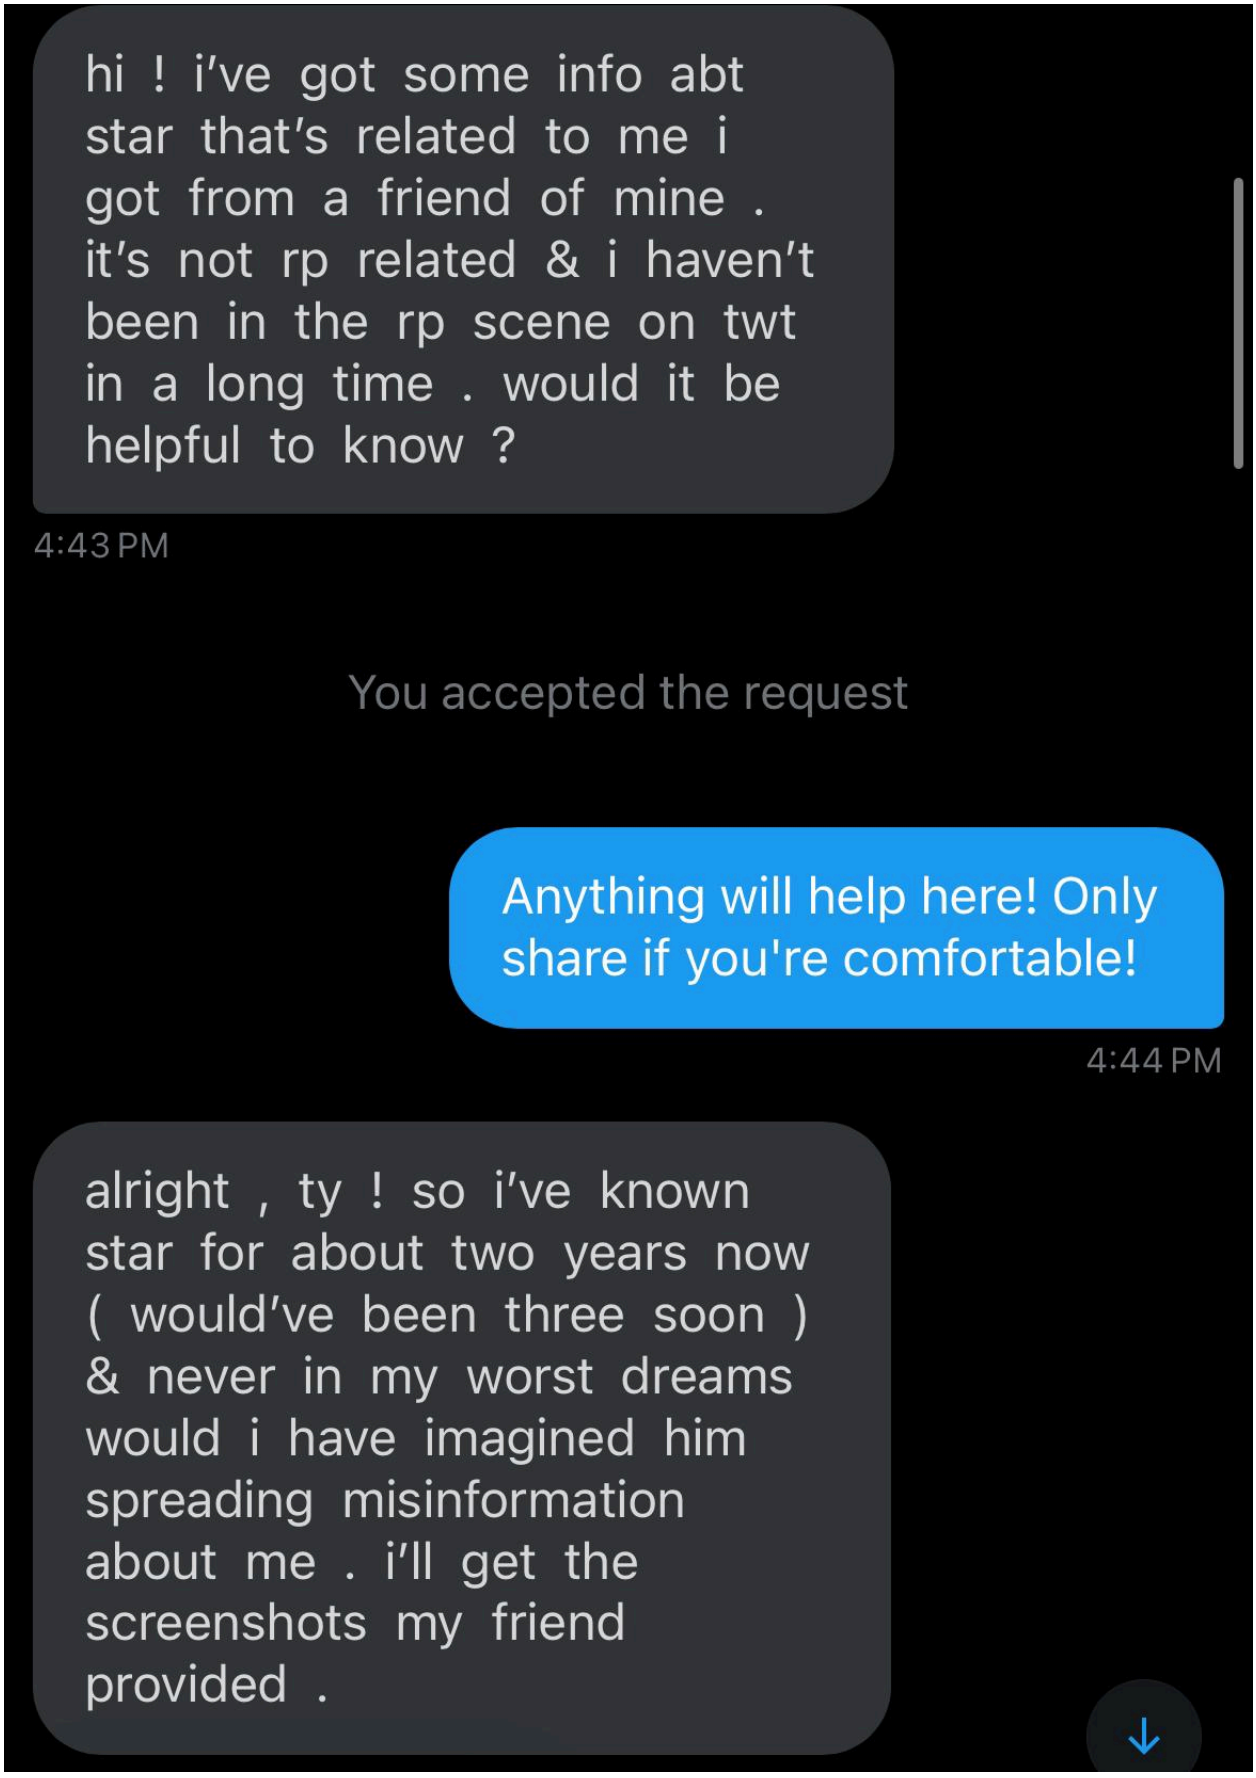

[For a better look at these images]

Star / Moon claims to be against taboo themes like the ones shown above, but if that was the case, you'd think he'd take the time to read through the info and posts of the accounts he follows. The "they could've flipped from a normal account" argument doesn't work here either as the taboo Frieren account does not appear to be flipped after thorough investigation. And care to explain to us why you, Star / Moon, willingly followed and still are following an account that has “Heavy NTR themes” plastered on the bio? Star / Moon has followed way too many of these kinds of accounts for us to excuse him just not knowing or being ignorant. So either he followed these accounts willingly or to this day, Star / Moon still doesn’t know how to read pinneds or bios. Plus even then, as he is very active on Twitter and on his TL, he had plenty of time to Unfollow these accounts whenever they’d post taboo content.

Star / Moon Spreading Misinformation.

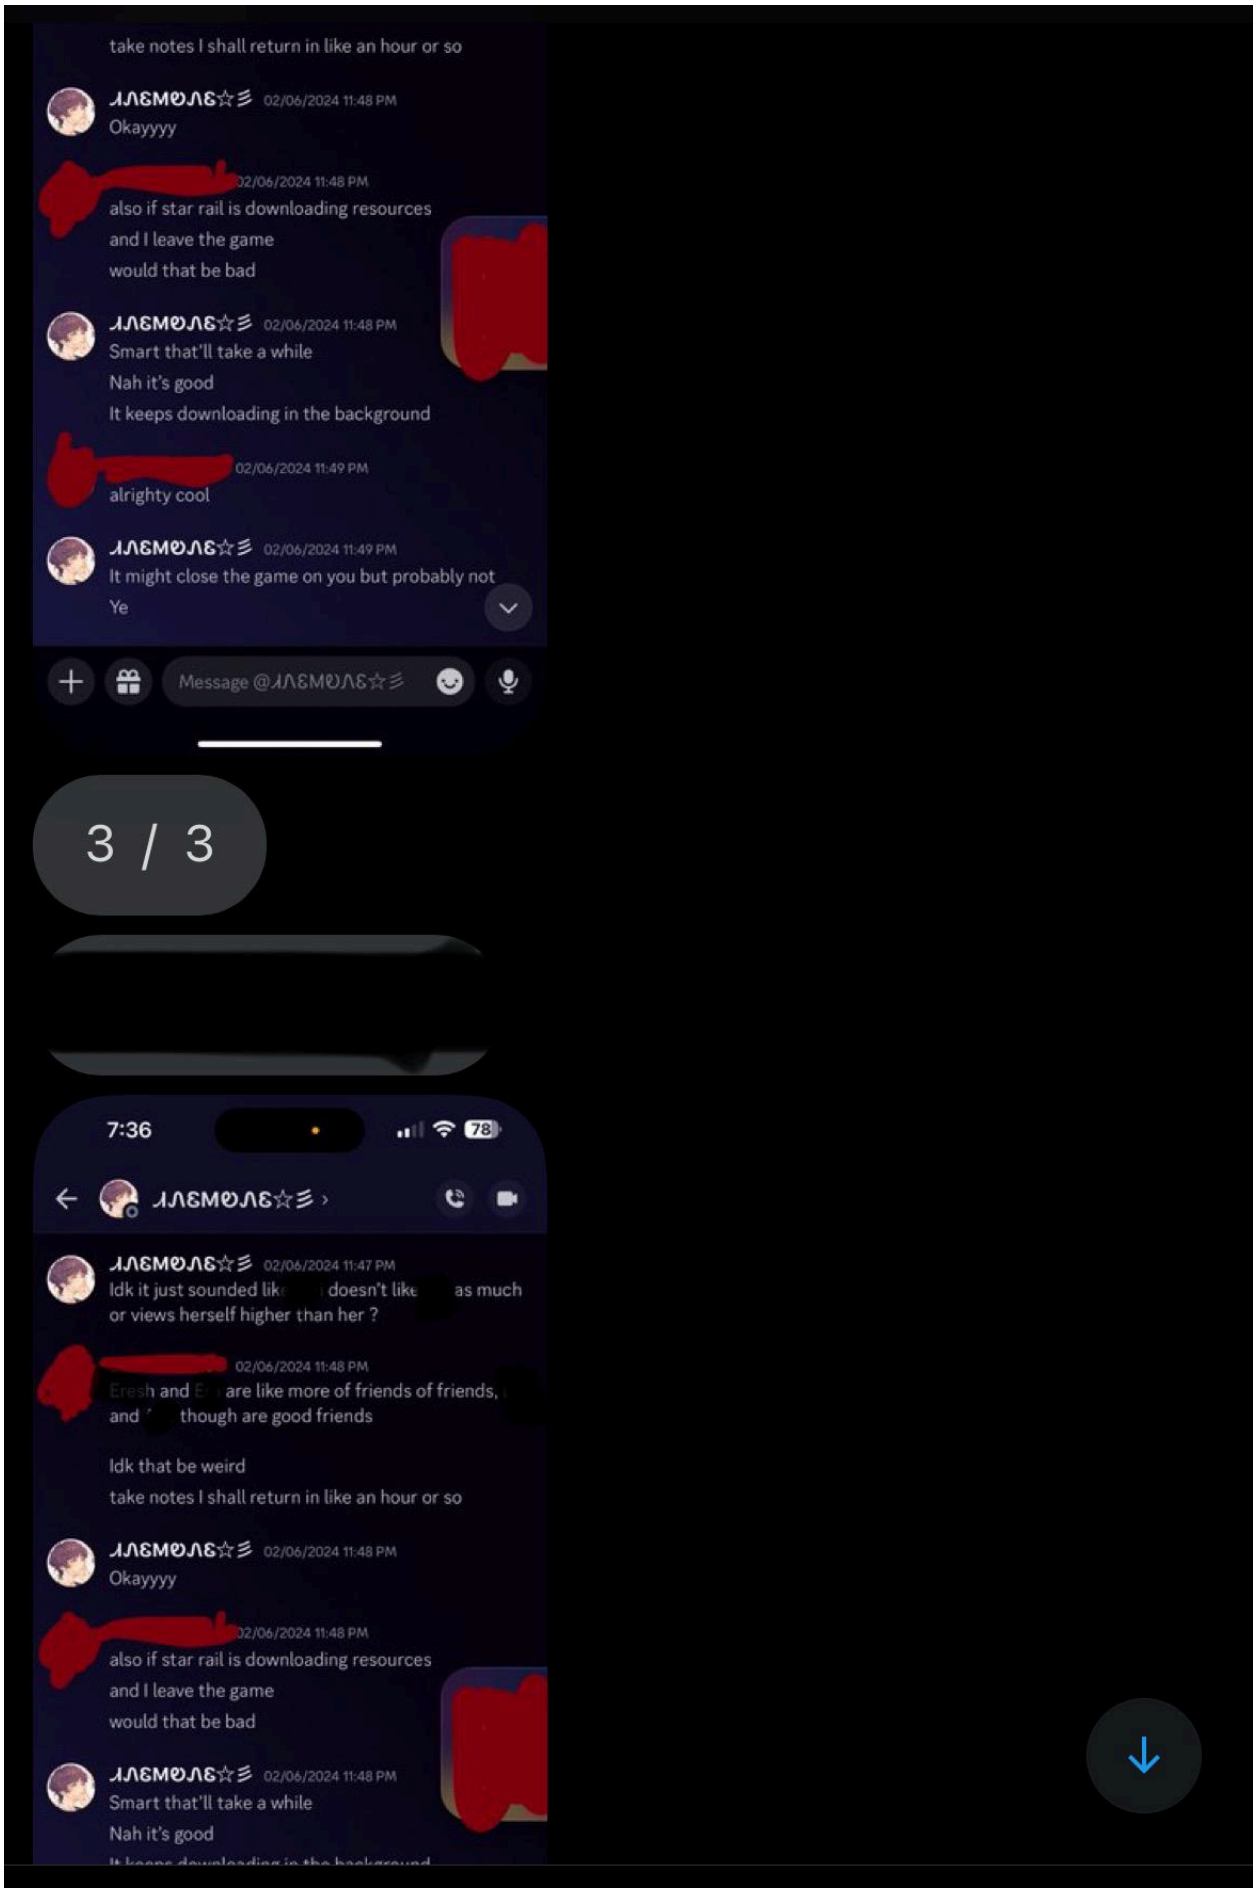

There’s additional information we would like to address as someone anonymously has come forward with yet another facet of Star / Moon we still did not expect: Spreading Misinformation. In the following screenshots, you’ll see that zi (the person in the screenshots) received screenshots of proof from a friend about things that were said about zir to another mutual of theirs that is false.

the context is that star tends to be muted in vcs in my server and we were venting to each other about someone else entirely who had cut off from us & went to my other friends in a diff server , venting & shit talking us
they were both close to me and i think it's only natural for them to come talk to me when they hear stuff like this , you know to ask for clarification . which they did . so , let's call the other person i was having a falling out with person d . one of the other two friends he's talking about did infact come to me wanting clarification about what happened with person d , which we did in call . that was in december prior to these screenshots . my mods and i were still upset over it because person d was someone close to us . i don't remember mentioning the person he's talking about , but perhaps at that time i'd been considering inviting someone i know she has a bad falling out with .

Oh my goodness. First off, we are sorry that he would do such a thing, especially when you considered him a friend.
Secondly, it's fine to add these to the Doc, correct? We'll be updating it soon. Since everyone remains anonymous by default, as we care about everyone's safety, are you okay with us using your preferred pronouns in the Doc? We don't wish to misgender you.
4:57 PM
ty ! & yes , i don't mind being put in the doc with my preferred pronouns as long as everyone he talked about in the screenshots remain anonymous !
i should also mention that he tends to be in multiple vcs at once . he's told me this before . at the time , i didn't think much of it , but know , i don't know ...

[For a better look at the ss]

We also note that it is weird how they haven't used zirs preferred pronouns despite knowing them for so long. If Star / Moon actually valued their relationship with this person and genuinely thought something was up, then why didn't they go into zirs dms to make things right?

And for someone whose supposed goals are solely about making friends and writing with people, why go through such lengths to make stories up about their 'friends'? This now contradicts their statement in their apology which has just been recently posted, and further demonstrates their stance about caring for other people's comforts.

Concluding Words.

Before we conclude this Doc, one of the writers of this Doc has some words for Star / Moon. On the off chance that you are reading this Doc and got this far: This incel behavior needs to stop. We'll admit that nobody is perfect and we make mistakes all the time. However, considering the fact that you've been doing this stuff for far too long, making people uncomfortable with your pushiness for ships and smut without stopping to think that maybe this behavior is wrong, this is no longer just a personal matter that can be handled in DMs; this behavior affects many MANY unrelated parties in the Twitter RP community, and that's why this Doc was made in the first place. REALIZE THAT THIS BEHAVIOR IS UNACCEPTABLE AND THAT YOU NEED TO TAKE ACCOUNTABILITY FOR IT. JUST BECAUSE PEOPLE EITHER DON'T EXPRESS THEIR DISCOMFORT DIRECTLY OR ARE TOO AFRAID DOES NOT EXCUSE YOUR INCEL BEHAVIOR.

No matter how or what way you choose to respond to this Doc, it will not salvage your reputation or make you look like the better person after everything that has been stated and shown here. Play the victim card and attempt to justify your behavior shown in this Doc? It'll prove that you're just a narcissist who can't accept responsibility or be told no or that they're wrong ever. Deactivate or go private without a word? Or even try to report this Doc in an attempt to get it taken down? It will prove that you're a coward who tries to run from the problems you caused in the first place. Attempt to deny everything that was stated here despite the evidence?

Then it'll prove that you're a liar who can't be trusted. Now, in the small chance that you actually DO choose to acknowledge your behavior and actions shown here, what's stopping you from simply deleting your existing Discords, creating new Discord alts, and going under a different pen name to continue this shitty behavior all over again? You've even proven here that this is a possibility as shown in the first section. None of us have any reason to believe a peep out of you at this point, nor have you given us any reason to believe you, but you're free to try to convince us otherwise. Oh, and we'll know if it's you immediately if you do choose to come back under a different pen name.

If anyone reading this Doc has anything to share regarding this individual, do feel free to reach out to us if you wish to get your story out there as well. Star / Moon's known accounts: @starryendless, @mageofbloom, @hakudoujyonin, @arbiterspear, @twinfangblades, @solitarytruths, @jadecuttings, @calydonianblaze. As far as we know, he is also on Bluesky as his Merlin with the UN @blossomingsea. Feel free to let us know if Star / Moon has any other accounts on Twitter.

If you are someone who was also affected by Star / Moon's behavior and actions, PLEASE do not be afraid to reach out to us as our DMs are open for everyone. We want everyone who was affected by Star / Moon's actions and behavior to be heard once and for all without fear of the consequences . No voice should go unheard. You are not alone.

EDIT AS OF 12/26, ADDRESSING THE APOLOGY MADE BY STAR / MOON / LUNE.

Star issued out an apology document regarding the general gist of what was found against him. However, we would like to clarify that the @ihatestarlolz account is NOT affiliated with this account. In fact, the maker of that account is mysterious and of course, anonymous to us all except themselves. They simply gave out evidence and if a hate account was made, then it's clear that the people he should be concerned with is actually bigger than what he thinks.

Another point is, genuinely, the writers do not know what he means by "a certain group" or "servers they're in". In the end, this document is not a cancellation but an awareness campaign with factual evidence and testimonies. We feel that this statement is charting to personal territory for him and should be left to the parties he wants to actually address privately rather than expand on something we have no knowledge on.

On the apology doc, we feel that it's not a total apology because it turned into a "but they did this to me" case and we're not here to make this anything else but the matter on hand. In fact, if the concern was to save face in the end, is the apology truly taking accountability? It feels as if it's going to be a he or she says statement and a blame fest.

What we want is a genuine, heartfelt apology. He backtracks on certain things like not being "H-word" but his behavior suggests otherwise. Along with multiple accounts of harassment and pushiness for lewd, or only ever going to someone for lewd. The victims deserve actual accountability, not little pieces of acknowledgement just to turn it into something personal for him. And we would like to say that we are not mediators or "middle-men", anything personal belongs to him and his own time. We only want actual apologies and not half-baked ones.

In the end, we see testimonies being said and actual proof behind it. Anyone that has come forward will remain anonymous in respect to wishing to be heard but not named for privacy and to put those days behind them. We will not have the witnesses or victims be named if that is what he is looking for because it breaches the trust they placed to be heard. We do not expect further things other than genuine apologies and accountability, we cannot be the people to dictate its content when this should be a need to repent and apologize, please do not make it personal.

ADDENDUM, DISSECTING THE APOLOGY AND DEBUNKING CLAIMS THAT ARE IRRELEVANT OR SIMPLY PERSONAL ON HIS MATTERS.

Section 1. Response is not the appropriate term, it would imply this doc was untrue, which is not, as this is not something to shed light on any further because there are actual testimonies and screenshots of his recurring behavior. We asked for accountability and instead, NONE of the paragraphs in the document ACKNOWLEDGED the actual things in order or properly covered. Instead, it was generalized and turned into "people make mistakes". But when it is a genuine mistake, does it really go on for a year or more ? Repetitive behavior does not seem like a mistake anymore and becomes intentional, no? Either way, this isn't a simple mistake one can say "oh I didn't mean it".

Section 2. Regarding the screenshots, yes, you did do those but in terms of intent, have you not realized it was weird to hint smut / lewd immediately when your interactions are barely there or you don't even know the person? Another thing of concern is you exhibit these unsolicited needs for NSFW, especially smut / lewd. What was your intention then? Because that is not how normal jovial conversations operate. We know you are aware of that. But awareness and actions need to go hand-in-hand.

Section 3. If your true intent is not to hurt but forge bonds online, then explain why people are coming forward with ACTUAL testimonies of your behavior that goes against what you say? Why do you want “villains” so badly when you have actual screenshots of your behavior rampant and firsthand experiences from other writers? What is the point of this explanation when you keep hinting it’s a hate campaign or something done against you out of spite? And why does your personal vendetta against some group you have issues with come to us? Don’t make this into something else. Take a look at what you did before you do these things that frankly do not involve the writers OR the victims.

The writers of this doc are also victims of you. Their testimonies and records are in the screenshots. We do not want other people experiencing the same thing we did hence why we came with this real story and evidences because it’s a concern for many and not just a select few. Your concern should lie with the fact you wronged so many people, not these imaginary villains or certain group or whatever that means to you.

Section 4. No one is perfect, that is true. But that’s not a reason or excuse for your behavior. Must you avoid the elephant in the room? Why? Because you’re guilty? This is unbecoming of someone promising to take accountability based on the post you made. WHERE is the apology and accountability? The way you excuse your behavior says a lot on where the concern is and it’s only fanning the flames against yourself. We had hoped for even an actual sorry, not generalized but in the end, even the victims feel unsafe because you still think this is just a walk in the park or something to downgrade as “a mistake”.

Section 5. Regarding interpreting someone’s messages, some of them have said no smut or lewd. So you dropped them for awhile then tried again. Which brings us back to section 1. What are you admitting to in regards to the vast majority of the screenshots? Which by the way, are a lot. You either actually acknowledge EVERYTHING or continue to water it down and think this will all pass by, forgotten. The latter option would not be nice but that is exactly what you’re doing right now, shocker!

Final section. Racism. Slurs. N-word. You know this is NOT what you should say. So why do you need to come with the excuse it was said “lovingly”? Are slurs terms of endearment to you? Is the black community a joke to you, Star? Twitter RP and real life made it clear that this slur is not for anyone but for the black community. What gave you the right to ask for a pass when you are NOT BLACK? And this doesn’t seem to be your first incident but this takes the cake in terms of “i said it lovingly” and the fact you think you have the right to claim the N-pass.

If that is not blatant racism and disregard for something that is a standard, then what is? Does that not make you a problem in Twitter RP? We want your accountability, not your personal idea on what is right or wrong which made you think it was okay to do these. What constitutes as racist or not? We wonder why you say it’s a mistake. Is it really? If so, this mistake was done knowingly.

AT THE END OF THE DAY, THIS IS NOT A SMEAR OR DEFAMATION CAMPAIGN THAT THE WRITERS ARE BEING ACCUSED OF TO SAVE FACE. WE ARE TIRED OF SEEING HIM GET AWAY WITH THINGS THAT OTHER KNOWN OFFENDERS DID. WE REFUSE TO LET IT HAPPEN AGAIN.
