

About @Topium_ /toothreen1/Top2Top1

Topium, also known as Top, Topburger, and Toothreen, is a known manipulator with no remorse for his past actions. He has not only gaslit one of my friend circles into thinking I was crazy to the point of purposefully causing a disconnect between us. Top has also emotionally manipulated me during our relationship. He would treat me badly on purpose, randomly treat me worse, and it would happen again and again. Despite constantly telling me he would change as a person, he wouldn't. As people will see from one of my screenshots, I did not want to do this. But, what he did from 2020 to 2021 still hurts me and makes my friends either uncomfortable or angry whenever he and his art are mentioned. This document is made to be a warning to his followers and others who may interact with him. All links lead to Imgur albums with more details. Some images may be distressing as well.

Top and I were in an art server mutually before we both became part of a circle born from other members there. We would talk more often to everyone who was invited, including each other but he came to me first. This was one of our earliest DMs :

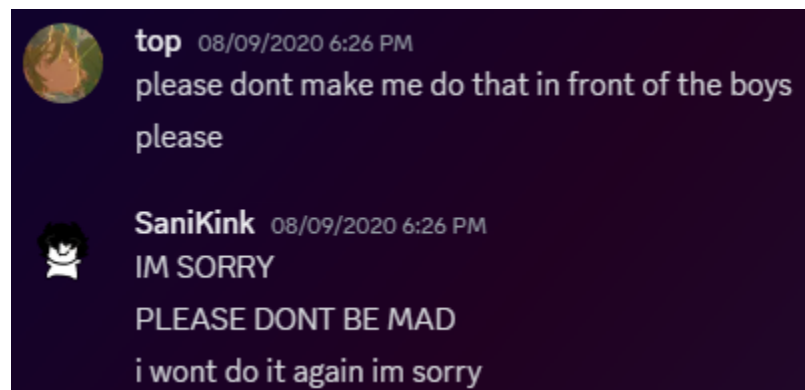

At this time, I still did not know him well nor did I send a picture of myself to him in private. He already knew what I looked like and immediately went this route. It made me uncomfortable and I was not going to deal with it at first. But seeing as how it was a bit between our circle to flirt with me, I didn't care about it and I was still being nice to him. In the next couple weeks, we started to talk more and I still did not know whether he was being serious or not about how he felt but I would return his feelings later on.

An argument arose on our circle's server between us and other people which included Waffulxyz, who was another person from our circle. I do not remember what Wafful said that made me feel bad as I blocked it out, but Top and Wafful did not like each other at all and he wanted me to back him up by insulting him but I wouldn't. He was jealous thinking Wafful and I were in a relationship just because I would not insult him even when I already made my feelings towards Top clear.

Top's jealousy towards other people we know was a recurring problem. He told another friend from the circle (who wants to stay anonymous) that if he wanted more followers on Twitter, he would have to post art everyday. This is what he did and he grew significantly bigger than Top, which started the jealousy towards him. Our friend was not tolerating it and he too grew more frustrated with Top's attitude.

This was around the time Top would keep me from others, including the friend circle we were all in. The circle would stop the flirting bit because Top made them believe I was uncomfortable with it even though I didn't mind. I couldn't even be flirty with him "in front of the boys" even though they already knew. This DM was a response to me hinting at him to say something nice to me before I left VC :

This was also around the time where Top would say he didn't think we were dating. I was being led on the entire time which upset me and made me feel uncomfortable thinking what were the wrong or right interactions with him from that point onward. He never considered how that would make me feel which reflects a lot of my experiences with him.

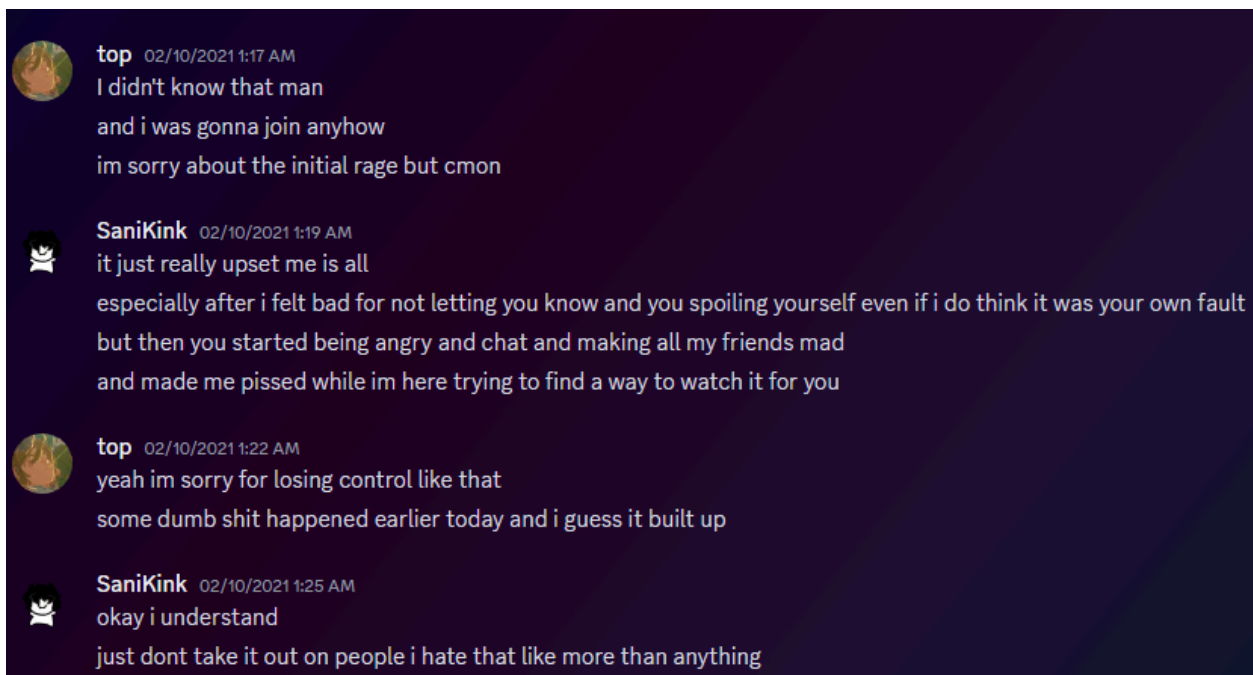

Top had feelings for another person who also wanted to date him at one point. He will remain anonymous. Despite Top telling me to draw him more before he would draw me, Top would make more art for this person than he would for me which made me feel like I was being tossed until it was explained. He additionally drew multiple porn images of a character that was initially a female version of this person which was also creepy and rubbed some of our friends the wrong way. But despite everything, this person has kept his promise to not date Top and we are still friends.

After the last few months of how he treated me, I got overwhelmed and suddenly lashed out in a VC and it led to these DMs. Trying to confront Top was always very difficult as he is unable to see other people's feelings or only focuses on one part of a conflict. Talking to him here was only making my attitude worse because of his refusal to see that the things he did to me made me hate just hearing his voice.

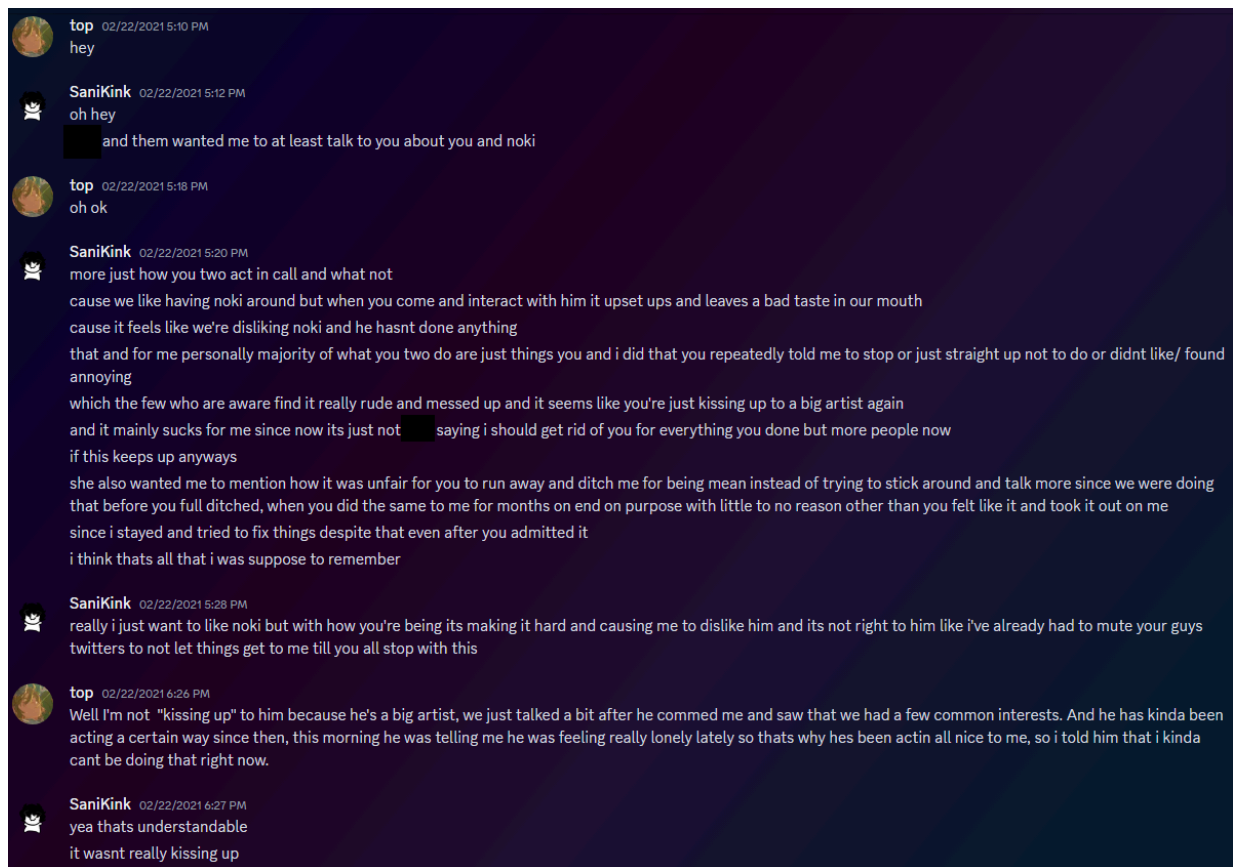

What made it even worse is his annoying ability to make me fold so easily. After these DMs, I called him where he kept asking me if I was sure I wanted to block him. After that amount of pestering, I took it all back and ended up not blocking him.

More than a week later, I was watching and discussing WandaVision with close friends. Top was looking through the chat and accidentally spoiled himself. He started insulting my friends, causing a scene, and I had to lock the chat. As a result of everything that happened before this, my friends already did not like Top and this only gave them more reasons to hate him. This was the DM after :

Around this time, my friends, Top, and I would interact with N0kiyu, another artist who, as of this document, disappeared due to his own abuse-related backlash. This happened before we knew he was an abuser himself. The way Top would interact with N0ki in front of me and everyone else left bad tastes in our mouth. We all knew where their interactions were going and soon enough, it ended up that way. I would try to warn N0ki about Top but I would be ghosted by him. They later told me to confront Top about this, which I did :

Over time, it became more apparent that Top and N0ki liked each other and a few months later, Top DM'd me to ask if I was in a relationship with another artist who will remain anonymous. The artist was someone I have only known for less than a week at most and I was only drawing lewds with him through a public Drawpile session Top was also in. Nothing else happened. I also told Top that after his manipulative behavior, I was not comfortable starting another relationship. Despite that, he still thought I would move on as easily as he did. He mentioned this situation again when I was considering blocking him again.

I had one of the first instances of friends from our circle and my server telling me what Top has done behind my back. This includes admitting to doing terrible things to me on purpose, being openly jealous about our friends, and gaslighting other people into thinking I was the crazy and obsessed one in our relationship when he came to my DMs and thirst spammed first. I left the server of our circle before he could explain why he treated me terribly. But as I said before, it is exhausting trying to confront him and this argument is one of the biggest examples of that. After this, I had multiple occasions of blocking him but he still would guilt trip me into joining VCs with him.

Even months after, I kept hearing more and more shitty stuff about him and it led to these DMs as well. The agreement at the end of these DMs never panned out as more of his shitty behavior kept piling up and I was starting to feel guilty interacting with him at all. At one point, Top was confronted by Wafful \(Hypnadot\) after he interacted with me in a server we were still mutuals in. All Top did was act like a smartass thinking Wafful was only talking shit. I wanted Wafful to make it clear to him that I wanted nothing to do with Top anymore. We got no apology or any sense of truly understanding the reasons why I felt hurt and guilty. Just another annoying inability to care.

As seen from some of the screenshots, I had an ex that was also emotionally manipulative to me before I dated Top. But, unlike him, my ex tried to make things right after. I could actually tell that he was sorry for what he did. During and after all of this, Top never tried to change and his apologies would always feel empty as if he did not want to deal with the problems he started anymore. He was aware that I have already been through something like this and he promised me he would not repeat those actions. But, he still purposely made me feel worse and worse in the same way. Still, I tried to be a friend and even that became too taxing. Again, this document is made to be a warning. I don't want anyone to witch hunt Top. I honestly don't know what I want. I just really want to be heard and I don't want anyone to have to go through what I went through with Top.

NOTE (6/8/2024) : I learned that these actions are a continuous thing with Top as seen in the document below. Please read it as well.
