B. Illnesses are not caused by cold weather.
C. Illnesses are caused by germs.

D. People will have greater exposure to germs.

B. Directions: Read the paragraph inside the box. Complete the information needed in the graphic organizer below it.

Students are not allowed to chew gum in my class. While some students think that I am just being mean, there are many good reasons for this rule. First, some irresponsible students make messes with their gum. They may leave it on the bottoms of desks, drop it on the floor, or put it on other people’s property. Another reason why I don’t allow students to chew gum is because it is a distraction. When they are allowed to chew gum, students are more worried about having it, popping it, chewing it, and snapping it then they are in listening, writing, reading, and learning. This is why I don’t allow students to chew gum in my class.

It seems like there has been a surge in teen pregnancies these days. Teen pregnancies make it very difficult for young mothers to pursue their dreams and meet the demands of an infant. Fortunately, most teen pregnancies can be easily prevented by using birth control; however, even birth control is not 100% effective. The most effective way to prevent teen pregnancies is abstinence, which is 100% effective.

Readings for English 6 (Fourth Grading Test)

Directions: Listen to the sentences that the teachers will read. Restate these using your own words.

1. The part of the brain that controls emotions is more active in women.
2. Studies have shown that men make decisions more quickly than women.
3. In general, women eat more healthily than men.

For number 4

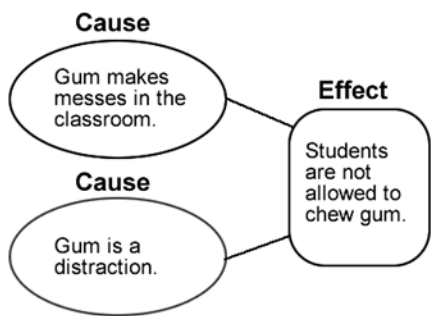

Just as Peanuts seems to have absorbed so much of the popular culture which preceded it, the comic strip has had a profound influence on the society and culture of its own time. Peanuts affects and inspires our daily lives, and not simply because we can open our daily newspapers and find it there without fail (for over 14,000 days now without interruption—one of the few certainties in a world beset by unsettling changes). Peanuts has become an integral part of the history of American culture through its influence in so many areas of our life and society.

For number 5

I dreamed of going north and writing books novel. The North symbolizes to me all that I had not felt and seen; it had no relation whatever to what actually existed. Yet, by imagining a place where everything was possible, I kept hope alive in me. But where had I got this notion of doing something in the future, of going away from home and accomplishing something that would be recognized by others?

Answer Key

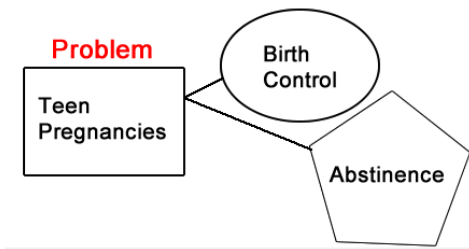

1. The part of the brain that controls emotions is less active in men.
The part of the brain that controls emotions is not as active as in women.
2. Studies have shown that men make decisions less quickly than women.
