For most College Athletes in the US, the prospect of making money playing the game they love has been a far-off dream, reserved for the pro leagues.

Until now...

A recent change to NCAA policy has made it possible for Athletes in College to start preparing their brand for their future pro career and make HUGE personal profit.

And some are already in on it.

You have the talent, you have the drive, now you need someone who can give you the tools to profit from them.
