Further Information on The Issue With Meat

First, I highly recommend that you watch Dominion immediately and consider joining the UQ Veg Society for events, discussions and great food.

[Dominion (2018) - full documentary [Official]]

If you cannot stomach the visuals of Dominion, at least read through the highly informative transcript.

Please consider joining the UQ Veg Society

And check out our upcoming events!

Challenge yourself by going vegetarian or vegan for three weeks with these extremely helpful resources with volunteer nutritionists and beginner packs.
https://veganuary.com/en-au/try-vegan/
https://challenge22.com/
https://www.veganaustralia.org.au/getting_started

My Recommended Reading List

For Everyone:

- Dialogues on Ethical Vegetarianism by Michael Huemer (which is a free audiobook)
- This Is Vegan Propaganda by Ed Winters
- Why We Love Dogs, Eat Pigs and Wear Cows: An Introduction to Carnism by Melanie Joy
- The Ethics of What We Eat by Peter Singer and Jim Mason

For Philosophy Students:

- Why I Am A Vegan (And You Should Be One, Too) by Tristan McPherson
- The Moral Status of Animals by Lori Gruen
- Defending Animal Rights by Tom Regan
- Ethics and Animals: An Introduction 2E by Lori Gruen

For Socialists:

- Making A Killing: The Political Economy of Animal Rights by Bob Torres
- 18 Theses On Marxism and Animal Liberation
- Animal Oppression and Human Violence by David Nibert

For Feminists:

- The Sexual Politics of Meat: A Feminist-Vegetarian Critical Theory by Carol J. Adams

For Environmentalists:

- The Ecological Hoofprint by Tony Weis

For Vegans:

- How To Create A Vegan World by Tobias Leenaert

References

1. Craig, W.J. and Mangels, A.R., 2009. Position of the American Dietetic Association: vegetarian diets. Journal of the American dietetic association, 109(7), p.1266.
2. Harman, G. The Nature of Morality: An Introduction Ch 1: Ethics and Observation [This example is considered so obvious that it is the standard illustration of moral faculties. Shelly Kagan has said "[Ethicists] don't have anything stronger than that"]
3. Rachels, J., 2016. The basic argument for vegetarianism. In The Animal Ethics Reader (pp. 304-310). Routledge; DeGrazia, D., 2009. Moral vegetarianism from a very broad basis. Journal of Moral Philosophy, 6(2), pp.143-165. [Two previous attempts to reach ethical vegetarianism without controversial ethical premises]
4. Gruen, Lori, "The Moral Status of Animals", The Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy [Audio version]
5. King, B.J., 2017. Personalities on the plate: The lives and minds of animals we eat. University of Chicago Press.
6. An HSUS Report: The Welfare of Animals in the Chicken Industry (2013).
   [The overwhelming majority of farmed animals are broiler chickens in factory farms. This welfare report by the Humane Society of the United States is the most comprehensive available. The US receives the same grade of E for treatment of farmed animals as Australia does from the Animal Protection Index, making the report instructive for Australians]
7. Saja, K., 2013. The moral footprint of animal products. Agriculture and Human Values, 30(2), pp.193-202.
8. McPherson, T., 2015. Why I am a vegan (and you should be one too). Philosophy comes to dinner, pp.73-91; Višak, T., 2013. Killing happy animals: Explorations in utilitarian ethics. Springer; Doggett, T., Killing Animals for Food
9. Huemer, M., Dialogues on Ethical Vegetarianism, Part 2.
10. Doggett, Tyler, "Moral Vegetarianism", From Production to Consumption, The Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy [Audio version]
11. McMullen, S. and Halteman, M.C., 2019. Against inefficacy objections: The real economic impact of individual consumer choices on animal agriculture. Food Ethics, 2(2), pp.93-110.
12. McPherson, T