Hello! I am Koci. I am going to talk about my brother. His name is Hayden. He is 16 years old and he is turning 17 next Monday! He is the youngest in my family.

My brother is 180cm tall. He is much taller than me! People said he was fit. But I think he is fit now only. My mum used to say he looked like a pet pig (or Michelin!) when he was a baby. He has big eyes too! My uncle always says there are gems on my brother's face.

Let me tell you more about how my brother is like. He is sporty. He usually goes workout twice or even three times a week. He also plays soccer and basketball in his spare time. He is patient and easy-going too! Once I dropped his homework into the toilet by accident, he said it was fine and he redid the homework after. It was a copybook!

Let's talk about his hobbies. My brother loves playing computer games. He plays at least an hour a day! Mum sometimes gets mad because of this. He also enjoys watching cartoons and movies. If you want to know more about hero films or horror movies, he is the right person you can ask!

My brother wants to become a soccer player because he likes Neymar a lot. But he also wants to be a comic artist because he loves reading Marvel comics. Dad said it is okay because it is better to have more dreams than none.

I hope you enjoy my speech!

Today I'm going to tell you about my mentor. His name is Dr Paul Sze. He is a professor and he works in the Chinese University of Hong Kong. His job is to teach English teachers how to teach English.

He's tall and he always wears suit because he has to teach and give speeches all the time. He's older than me because he has been teaching English teachers for more than 30 years. He is a very experienced teacher educator.

Talking about his hobbies, I think he loves travelling and teaching. He always travels whenever he is free. He travels at least a few times a year with his family. I think teaching is his hobby too because he's very passionate about it. He finds chances to teach students like other English teachers in class, even he does not need to do so. He enjoys learning new things. He knows a lot about eLearning and he teaches me a lot on how to use eLearning tools in English lessons.

I love learning too and I also enjoy learning new things. I wish my students also love learning. I wish they love learning not because of marks or someone told them to do so. I wish they love learning because they know this is something to keep them happy and young all the time.
