

Journey to Planet X

By Jimmy C. Blatzer

Chapter 1

The New Kid

Jake is running from a raging Zorg with Blo right beside him, facing definite death by mauling. The Zorg is getting closer and they are running out of breath.

Earlier That Week

Jake is a 4'8" blond ten-year-old who lives with his mom, dad, and grandma. He lives a normal life, until one day: "Bye, Grandma!" said Jake, as he was going to his school, St. Matthew, one of the greatest schools of all time.

When he went into his classroom, he saw a new kid who looked to be his age. He stopped because the kid had purple hair, though hair dying wasn't allowed. He said, "Hi, I am Jake, who are you? By the way, if you're new here, we can't dye your hair."

"Sorry, I am from a different country."

"Well, we are about to say the Pledge of Allegiance."

"OK"

" I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all. Now we say the school pledge. I pledge to be respectful, responsible, and safe. I pledge to treat others how I would like to be treated. I will stand up for others, and not be a bystander. I will work hard in class and cooperate every day because I care about my education and future. We will help keep St. Matts respectful, responsible, and safe. Now it's done. We can now play outside."

When they got outside and they played. Something happened. A mouse came running towards them. Jake didn't think much of it. But abruptly the kid grabbed Jake and dragged him away to the woods. The kid said, "Hello Earthling. Do not be afraid, for I have been looking for you," He said with a faint smile.

Chapter 2

The Prophecy

"I am an "alien" from what you call "Planet X". My name is pronounced in my home language Blowhitlambheropunfurramennoodlesbarryoswaldkenwoodsheepeatwolfinsheepclothingflipping waterbottlesdyingducklingsbluehawaiiimbucktoothipadiphoneeveryonehaswecooldiepotatodieib akedyouapieohboywhatflavorpiepiepieoofnoobseverywhereisnoobhahadieorliveidonotknow the 3rd."

Jake was confused.

"Isn't that just 'blow hit lamb hero pun fur ramen noodles Barry Oswald Kenwood sheep eat wolf in sheep clothing flipping water bottles dying ducklings blue Hawaii Tim bucktooth iPad iPhone everyone has we cool die potato die I baked you a pie oh boy what flavor pie pie pie oof noobs everywhere is noob ha-ha die or live I do not know"

"No."

“Of course. This must be a prank, right? Am I on some prank TV show or a video for Youtube? A publicity stunt? Yeah, this has got to be that, right?” He said, still dazed.

“I wish it was,” the alien replied. Planet X has been taken over by a tyrant dictator known as “School”. He has ruled the planet for many a millennium. My kind has lost hope. They sent me, a warrior, to recruit a ‘human’ Earthling like you. An ancient prophecy said

‘School will not reign forever.

A perilous mission will endeavor.

But a human will help this lost hope.

But maybe tied together in ropes.

The child is not very old

Their plan will soon unfold

The alien has a cool spear.

But the child has a weapon no one can’t fear.

And with an alien too.

They will make it a day School will rue.’

The prophecy foretold a hero strong enough to defeat him who lived on planet Earth. It said that he wielded a weapon stronger than a diamond.”

“It did?”

“Read the fine print.”

“Oh.”

“How long will I be gone?” He asked Blo. He responded “Maybe 6 hours at most.” “Good, because dinner is at 6:00 pm.” This made Jake want to go.

He would tell his mom everything. Well, Jake hated school, but he thought it meant a school like a type that you learn at. Still, he said, “Yes, I will come.”

Chapter 3

Planet X

They got in his shuttle called “Apollo 10 1/2”, and flew there at light speed because they had nano-electrokinetic thrusters. On the journey, though they were going really fast, Jake could clearly make out planets and other alien ships that seemed to be aiming at them. One fired and narrowly missed them, but destroyed their ship’s wings. They crash-landed softly on Planet X thankfully. On Planet X, Jake saw that they were far more tech-savvy than what humans had even dreamt of. They were zipping through the sky in planes thousands of times faster than the speed of sound but made no noise. The rich aliens had private teleporters that destroyed them but made them appear somewhere else. The only thing was, the atmosphere looked dreary. Houses were demolished with aliens barely getting out in time. There was a big floating island with a black and blood red palace on top of it. They walked around, wondering how they would get up. They kept walking until some Imperial guards noticed them. “Give me your ID to keep going.” They demanded. The duo ran away. The guards reported to School about them. Jake and his friend didn’t know that though. Suddenly there was a booming voice saying, “There is a boy on our planet! He will make a nice meal for me.” A holographic image of him was in the sky. Now everyone knew what he looked like! An arm reached out and grabbed him. “Blo”, as Jake called him now, beat up the owner of the arm until he let go. Soon, it looked like a parade was chasing him. “Why are they chasing us?” Jake asked. Blo replied, “School has brainwashed them so they do what he says.” Some of the Imperial guards were quicker than them so they cut them off and tackled the defenseless duo. They were abducted by the guards and teleported up to the floating island.

Chapter 4

The Great Escape

They were put in a stainless steel cage with regular ropes tying them together at the arms. Jake was depressed. Then Jake asked, “Well, now what? I am going to be eaten alive and you will probably die for helping me. What a day.” “It is gonna be alright,” Blo replied. “How so?” Jake asked. “Because he likes eating you dead.” Jake tried to knock the wind out of Blo. “That helps a lot,” he said sarcastically. “Sorry,” Blo replied. “Sorry can’t help us now. We need to escape.” Jake said. “Agreed,” the alien replied. “There is a pocket laser pointer in my pocket but I can’t reach it. Grab it and use it to incinerate the ropes binding us together.” Jake grabbed it and it easily destroyed the ropes. They tried to use it on the walls of the cage but it bounced back from the wall and singed their hair. Then they realized something. “Can I borrow the laser pointer for a moment?” Blo asked. He used the laser pointer to hit and dent the cage, allowing them to break out. They ran away, never looking back again.

Chapter 5

The Zorg

They then attempted to get past the Imperial guards. They did this successfully by blinding the guards with the laser pointer. The door that was supposed to lead outside actually led to a coliseum where they put their kind against monsters or against prisoners and slaves. They were going to fight a Zorg. A Zorg is like a mix of many animals. It has the brain of a tiger, the flexibility of a dolphin, the strength of a Blue whale, and the body of a Liger. They knew that they were going to be goners. The Zorg got unchained and made a beeline straight toward its “next meal”. Blo and Jake lunged to the side but got scraped by its razor-sharp fur. Jake is running from a raging Zorg with Blo right beside him, facing definite death by mauling. The Zorg is getting closer and they are running out of breath. They land a few punches and kicks, but nothing seems to slow the beast down. Jake thinks they are both defenseless because he forgot what the prophecy said. It said, "The alien has a cool spear.". All of a sudden Blo takes out a diamond-tipped spear and stabs the Zorg, leaving it whimpering and slowing crawling away. Our heroes run away.

Chapter 6

Pursuers and the Pursued

They quickly ran outside. They almost realized way too late that they were on a floating island. They almost fell off the edge. Guards were on their way and someone saying "Dinnertime!" made Jake feel even more uncomfortable. The guards and School came out. School was hideous. He looked like a kindergartener made his face and body out of play-doh, and boy, did he look hungry. Jake considered for a moment how they could escape. Blo did not. He lunged at them with his spear, injuring, but not killing them. They just wanted hostages, no casualties. Jake had no weapons, so he tried hitting, punching, and kicking them, which had no effect except distracting them momentarily. They realized they were slowly getting overwhelmed. Blo whistled. A mob of freedom fighters came and helped them out. They all had their own weapons, so they could hold their own. The fighting went on for a while. Neither side was winning, and neither side was losing. But the guards had better weapons and outnumbered them. After about an hour of fighting, the guards and School had imprisoned all of them, or they ran away. Fighting was now out of the question. "Bye," Blo said. Blo committed a suicidal fall off the edge. "No!" Jake screeched.

Chapter 7

Surprise!

School laughed a hideous laugh. "You were fools to try to stop me. You should do what your friend did. Die peacefully. Then, if your body is not too disfigured, I'll eat you on the spot!" This thought alone terrified Jake. Committing suicide. Nah, he would die a hero, fighting to the death. He was about to do what Blo did, and lunge at them, but there was a noise. "Oof," It was Blo! He had a flame grenade and he was definitely not afraid to use it, so in that particular case, he used and, while School was staring at them with his mouth open, he threw the grenade right into his open maw. School tried to spit it out, then he tried swallowing it, but it had no effect whatsoever.

"How much time left now, Blo," Jake asked.

"None," Blo calmly replied. The flame grenade went off, and it went off inside of School. If you can imagine School before, then add Freddy Krueger and then add the disease August Pullan had, but more than 10 times worse, all over his body. Yeah, pretty horrid. Jake and Blo were amazed he was still alive. He couldn't talk because he lost his mouth, but that meant he couldn't eat him so that was good. "I got to ask you Blo, how did you survive?" Jake said.

Chapter 8

Blo's Story

This is how Blo survived. (And the words in parenthesis are Jake talking.) Now, here is Blo telling us how he survived. "First I took a bite out of a cheese enchilada I had in my pocket. ('Why?') Because I was hungry. I thankfully had skydiving training, so I was able to get to the ground quicker. When I got to the ground, I went to the trampoline emporium and shot all the trampolines with an anti-gravity ray and jumped on them until I got about a hundred feet from here. I got hit by a tractor beam from a different planet and I got sucked into their mothership. They imprisoned me. I overheard them talking about invading here and helping School. I called the aliens and I kept prank calling them until they begged me to leave. I stole a parachute and hopped down to the International Demanding Impressive Outstanding Terrain Army. (IDIOTA) They invaded the mothership taking all hostages. I got awarded the Planet X's Medal of Honor for my bravery. They let me go on a rocket ship for fun. I went to Earth again and got some ice cream. I also got hotdogs to eat and hot dogs to pet. I went back to the rocket ship. I got on. The ship broke down halfway to Planet X. I had to hold my breath because I was in space. Once I swam back to Planet X, I heard the faintest noise. It was one of those quiet planes. Then I caught one of those fancy planes. ('How?') Fine, it hit me. So I stayed on until I broke the front window, knocked the evil pilots out of the plane, and hijacked it. (!?!?!?!?!?) You gotta do what you got to do. So I piloted it up here, put it on autopilot mode, and jumped up here. (Sure.) Fine I drove the plane too high and I jumped down and said 'Oof.' That's how I got here. (I am sure you did that in 1 minute.) Ok fine that is not true. I just hung on to the side of the island, but it took me a minute to get back up and I said 'Oof' because my arms hurt.

Chapter 9

Bye-Bye

After listening to Blo's story, the guards decided to liberate Planet X, for they hated School too. Thank God, they had no hard feelings for getting almost beat up. Suddenly, they heard a weird, robotic noise. It was a giant robot with School driving it. Because School couldn't eat Jake, he would kill the traitor guards, Jake, and Blo with his giant robot. Blo screamed to Jake, “It said in The Prophecy that you would have a weapon stronger than diamond! So, where is it!” Then it hit Jake. Jake took out the leftover pizza that his mom had packed him for lunch. When I say pizza, I mean like a whole entire pizza pie! Jake ran into battle using the untouched pizza as a diamond shield. All of School’s missiles and ammo bounced off and did nothing worse than take off some tomato sauce. He kept it up until he got close. When Jake got into the attacking range, he threw the pizza at the robot. It exploded and the explosion propelled School to a distant planet screaming “Curse you leftover pizza!” (Hopefully, he didn’t land on Earth. (He didn’t land on Earth.))

Chapter 10

All Hail King Blo

The people voted for who would rule Planet X. It was unanimous. Blo would become “King Blo”. Blo, unlike School, would make Planet X a better place to live. Everyone was ecstatic. A tiny little alien went up to Blo and said, “Yay! I love King Daddy!” Jake was confused. “How old are you Blo?”

He asked. Blo replied, "I have been married for 10 millennia and I am turning 61 millennia old in a few years." "Does that mean your child is like 5 millennia old?" "No, he is 5 years old," "That makes plenty of sense." He said sarcastically while rolling his eyes. " Hey Blo, I got to ask you, how do you do it? How do you fight so well while raising a child? When did you become a warrior?" Jake said. Blo replied, "I was forced to fight for School along with those freedom fighters who helped us out earlier (Who were released.) revolted and started our own tiny army with me as the general and now I am here."

Chapter 11

Adios!

Since Blo was king, he had to stay with his kind. That didn't really surprise Jake that much. That was very good news. But Jake was still kind of disappointed. He thought of Blo as a good alien friend. They said their goodbyes half-heartedly. “Hey, Blo. How am I going to get back to Earth? The ship blew up once School confiscated it.” “Oh right.” How would Jake get back? Their shuttle had been launched into space and blew. They weren’t sure if they should be happy or sad. They could stay together. Jake couldn’t leave. Some genius from the crowd suggested propelling him to Earth. And it was risky. But they tried it anyway, and while they were doing it, Jake and Blo said their final goodbyes.

Chapter 12

Back To Earth

Jake’s propulsion system somehow worked. (Thank God. That was a close one.) He got to Earth, at what he thought, 5 hours later. When he got there, on every corner, there was a sign that read, “Have you seen this boy?” Jake asked someone what day it was. He replied, “What, you got your head in the clouds? It is Tuesday the 17, August 2020.” This was bad. Jake thought it was August 10, 2020. He was gone for seven days! He ran home and embraced his mom with a hug. She had been worried sick for a week. She was so happy, and so was he.

Chapter 13

The Epilogue

Blo is still king, and he will be until he somehow dies. (If he ever does die. Some Planet Xians are immortal if taking care of themselves right.) School is, right now, in the Intergalactic Space Prison, (ISP,) in our neighboring galaxy, Andromeda. Jake became a model student and now loves his family even more. The Imperial guards are still Imperial guards, but for someone else. That person or alien is Blo himself. They cleaned up the city and now Planet X is a great alien tourist hotspot. The explosion that happened to School made Haley's comet go off course. Everyone on Planet X also treats Jake like a hero. They built a statue of him, and of course, his friend Blo. Thankfully, this story had a happy ending for all.

(Except School. But he deserves the 134,435,353,450 life sentences he got in the Milky Way galaxy alone. He has been terrorizing galaxies since the dawn of time or earlier.)

The End
