

Appearance

Mordecai Kingbird is a radical catboy with bird wings. Some in Atlantis refer to prin as a sphinx or a griffin...however, the truth is stranger than the rumors. He is a half-siren half-catboy. As a result, he has the ability to lure people with his voice though he often doesn't use it in this manner. The wings were just a side effect, literally no one knows WHY prin has wings. He also has scars from Consumer attacks that he shows off to anyone who asks.

Jobs

Kingbird not only bats for the Georgias, but also is the bassist and lead singer of the (slightly terrible) punk band The Kingbirds. The band has been quoted as better than This Is a Tragedy but worse than The Garages. The music of The Kingbirds is at the very least palatable. That being said, pri is a VERY big fan of the Garages and aspires to one day perform with them. However, listening to his music...he still has a long way to go before that dream can become a reality.

Kingbird ALSO is a lighthouse keeper. Atlantis doesn't get ships or anything, but the lighthouse is a relic of a bygone era. He doesn't say much about what he does to keep the light shining through the sea at night. He'd rather be promoting his band. As a result, his role in the upkeep of his lighthouse is a mystery. There are rumors as to what that entails, but the lighthouse without fail lights up at night which lights up the sea guiding travelers back to the safety of Atlantis.

Transfer to Hawaii

During the Season 16 Election, Kingbird was chosen to be the next resident of Montgomery County to pitch for the Hawaii Fridays. Which is funny considering that pri doesn't even live in the county. So, the citizens of Montgomery County came to an agreement: they would bat in Mordecai's spot so he can pitch for Fridays. He agreed. He needed the relaxation after a tough recovery season from the Consumer chomp.

Kingbird's lighthouse can be seen barely peeping out of the Pacific Ocean just off the coast of Hawaii. His lighthouse appears to move throughout the Sovereign Nation of Hawaii to wherever the vibes feel right. Locals refer to the lighthouse as the Vibehouse and Kingbird can occasionally be seen on the deck playing the ukulele. It sounds better than most of prin's music for The Kingbirds, who are on hiatus due to Kingbird himself needing to rest.

Kingbird took up skateboarding while in Hawaii. Due to prin getting a skateboard, pri is now able to skateboard in pri's off time. He can be found skating around Hawaii when not pitching or hanging out at the Vibehouse.
