ABSTRAK

Abstrak maksimal terdiri dari 250 – 300 kata berbahasa Indonesia dengan font Cambria 10 pt. Abstrak harus jelas, deskriptif dan memberikan gambaran singkat masalah yang diteliti. Abstrak mendeskripsikan alasan pemilihan topik atau pentingnya topik penelitian, metode yang dipakai untuk menyelesaikan masalah dan ringkasan hasil. Abstrak diakhiri dengan kesimpulan singkat dari hasil penelitian.

1. INTRODUCTION

This document is a template for the word (doc) version. You can use this version of the document as a reference for writing your manuscript. The manuscript as a whole should contain the following sections: 1. Introduction; 2. Research Methods; 3. Results and Discussion; 4. Conclusion; 5. Suggestions; and 6. Bibliography.

The introductory section should explain the research issues /phenomena/research gap, theories on issues/phenomena, a summary of previous research, research objectives and differences in research conducted with previous studies, and explain the process of hypotheses being developed based on previous theory/research (if empirical research is using hypothesis)

Manuscripts written using Ms. Word version 2010, with Cambria font type size 12 point with 1,5 space spacing. Each section may consist of several paragraphs written in bold Arabic numerals, as shown in the research methods section. The type of paper size used is A4 with a number of pages between 6-15 including a bibliography.

2. RESEARCH METHODS

Research methods include the design of research methods used to solve problems. For qualitative research, this section includes: types of research, objects, data, and data analysis processes. For survey research, this section contains: types of research, population and sampling techniques, types and sources of data, research instruments, and data analysis techniques.

3. RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

This section contains research results and analysis of research results. The discussion of the research results obtained is presented in the form of theoretical descriptions, both qualitatively and quantitatively.

Figures and Tables

Each table and figure presented must be referred to in the explanatory paragraph. All figures and tables are numbered sequentially. The table title is placed above it and consists of a maximum of 8 (eight) words, in bold and without a period (.). The image title is placed below it and consists of a maximum of 8 (eight) words in bold and without a period (.).

Table 2. Descriptive Statistics

Variable	N	Minimum	Maximum	Mean	Std. Deviation
Size of the Board of Directors	128	3.00	11.00	6.07	2.33
Company Reputation	128	.32	2.81	1.39	.70
Stock returns	128	-.64	.51	.06	.19

Mathematical Equation Formulas

If you use Ms. Word, use the Microsoft Equation Editor or MathType equation, written in the middle and numbered sequentially starting from (1), (2), etc. Each equation that appears must be accompanied by a sentence that refers to the equation. Example: shown in equation (1).

$$R_{it} = \frac{P_{i,t} - P_{i,t-1}}{P_{i,t-1}} \quad (1)$$

4. CONCLUSION

Conclusion clearly describes the results obtained and the advantages and disadvantages. The conclusion must be in the form of a paragraph and cannot be in the form of bullet points or numbering.

REFERENCES

Writing references is recommended to use reference management software (Mendeley, Zotero, end notes, or others) with the APA style 7th edition format. References are listed at least 10 and only contain references used in the written text. References are listed in alphabetical order by author. The reference composition used consists of a minimum of 80% primary references (journals, proceedings) and a maximum of 20% secondary references (textbooks) published in the last 10 years. References are written in 1 spacing,
