Đề bài

Parent, usually mothers, give up work, choose to stay home and look after families. Some people think the government should give them salary, others disagree. Do you agree or disagree. Give the reasons from your own knowledge and experience

DISAGREE

Main1: not feasible regarding the economic view

- More problems are more crucial and serious
- Not main task
- Not contribute to economic development

Main2: - create the inbalance and jealousness between them and those who are still working.

- Earn without going to office-> quit job-> financial burden-> affect economy

Từ vựng topic Government Spending : https://www.ieltsdanang.vn/blog/tu-vung-topic-government-spending-ielts

In this day and age, more and more contemporary attention has been placed on the statement that the authorities should pay wages for parents who has to leave their work in order to care their kids. From my perspective, I am completely in disagreement with this statement due to several reasons.

Firstly, from an aspect of economy, paying salaries for mothers is not feasible. It is because the government's major task is maintain the tranquility and safety of the public. In addition, the budget is not limitless, government should only allocate it to crucial and pressing fields. Specifically, they have to prioritize several matters such as upgrading medical facilities, enhancing national economy as well as security and protection. For instance, in some developing Asian countries having narrow budgets, and also there are more urgent issues that they have to deal with. Hence, giving payroll for caretakers is considered not suitable and necessary. ⇒ Ở nội dung thân bài số 1, thì mình sẽ lưu ý khi cho ví dụ [cần được cụ thể hoá]

→ Asian countries là ổn

Nhưng sau đó vấn đề mình gọi [urgent issues] là gì, cần phải cho thấy được rõ ràng

→ Rồi từ đó mình mới khẳng định là [cần người đi làm], chứ không thể [chi trả & hỗ trợ lương cho househusband or housewife]

(ví dụ:

Secondly, should the authorities decide to give salaries to women who have to take care their family, it will create the imbalance and jealousness between them and those who are still working. To be specific, if they can have salaries without commuting to the office, more and more workers will then quit their jobs to be mothers like them. Consequently, although they do not contribute to developing and bulding a sustainable economy, they still have monthly earnings. Hence, they will be financial burdens for the country, which hinders the nation' economic developmennt.

⇒ Với nội dung mình triển khai cho [inequality] giữa người đi làm/ người không đi làm

⇒ Giải thích theo hướng trên là ổn

Nhưng với [result & có thể là example] , thì mình sẽ triển khai về việc [những người đi làm sẽ nghỉ việc, hoặc sẽ cảm thấy họ không cần làm hết sức mình vì sự thiếu công bằng trong xã hội]

Sau đó có thể đưa [example] : Công việc ở nhà là chăm con, chăm gia đình → Không đòi hỏi quá nhiều kĩ năng/ bằng cấp

>< trong khi người đi làm cần phải liên tục học tập/ phát triển/ thi cử/ v.v

⇒ Con người sẽ thiếu động lực phát triển bản thân, khi mà họ biết rằng ở nhà thôi thì cũng sẽ có [monthly earning]

To conclude, I certainly disagree with the statement that governments ought to give wages to work leavers due to some justifications that I have mentioned above. Instead, authorities should create opportunities for them to contribute and take part in enhancing their regions.
