1. Research background;
2. The research objective(s);
3. The research method;
4. The research variable;
5. The research results.

(Times New Roman, size 11, space 1)

Keywords: mention 3-5 keywords (Times New Roman, size 11) e.g.: Population, Economic growth, Fiscal, Financial management.

DOI:Introduction (Times New Roman 12 pt (Bold))

The Introduction section should explain the background of the study, its aims, a summary of the existing literature and why this study was necessary. Introduction should consist of:

1. Research topics insight (stating the phenomena of the research topic, state of the art or what and how the recent studies discuss about that topics),
2. Research motivation: indicating the research problem.
3. Significant of the study: the urgency of this study.
4. Previous studies: what the previous studies found about your topic and what the differences between this study and that previous studies (Novelty of the study).
5. Contribution of the study: State the theoretical contribution to the body of knowledge and practical contribution to the field.

Literature Review (Times New Roman 12 pt (Bold))

A literature review is a search and evaluation of the available literature in your given subject or chosen topic area. It documents the state of the art with respect to the subject or topic you are writing about. A literature review shows your readers that you have an in-depth grasp of your subject; and that you understand where your own research fits into and adds to an existing body of agreed knowledge.

Service Quality (Times New Roman 12 pt (italic))

Purwono, B. S. A. (2019) stated that: “Service quality consists of responsiveness, accesability, tangible, empathy and realibility.”

Quality Control Times New Roman 12 pt (italic))

Quality control meet the customer needs (Purwono, 2022).

Research Methods (Times New Roman 12 pt (Bold))

Provide sufficient detail methods to allow the work to be reproduced. Methods already published should be indicated by a reference: only relevant modifications should be described.

Equations (Times New Roman 12 pt (Bold))

Equations should be typewritten whenever possible and the number placed in parentheses at the right margin. If you are using Word, use either the Microsoft Equation Editor or the MathType add-on (<http://www.mathtype.com>) for equations in your paper (Insert | Object | Create New | Microsoft Equation or MathType Equation). “Float over text” should not be selected.

Number equations consecutively with equation numbers in parentheses flush with the right margin, as in (1). First use the equation editor to create the equation. Then select the “Equation” markup style. Press the tab key and write the equation number in parentheses.

Reference to equations should use the form “Eq. (1)”

$$E = \sum_{p=1}^p \sum_{k=1}^k (\delta_{pk}^o)^2 \quad E = \sum_{p=1}^p \sum_{k=1}^k (\delta_{pk}^o)^2 \quad (1)$$

Figures (Times New Roman 12 pt)

DOI:

Place illustrations (figures, tables, drawings, and photographs) throughout the paper at the places where they are first discussed in the text, rather than at the end of the paper. Number illustrations sequentially (number tables display separately). Place the illustration of numbers and caption under the illustration in 10 pt font. Do not allow illustrations to extend into the margins. If your figure has two parts, include the labels “(a)” and “(b)”.

Tables (Times New Roman 11 pt)

Place table titles above the tables.

Results and Discussion (Times New Roman 12 pt (Bold))

Results should be written clear and concise. Show only the most significant or main findings of the research. Discussion must explore the significance of the results of the work. Adequate discussion or comparison of the current results to the previous similar published articles should be provided to show the positioning of the present research (if available).

Conclusions and Practical Implication (Times New Roman 12 pt (Bold))

Conclusion (Times New Roman 12 pt (italic))

The main conclusion of the study may be presented in a short conclusions section, which may stand-alone. It should not repeat the results, instead provide significant findings and contribution of the study.

Practical Implication (Times New Roman 12 pt (italic))

Several practical implications can be applied in the financial management of village funds. First, the transparency of financial statements needs to be continuously improved by village officials by providing clear, accurate, and easily understandable information to the community. Providing open financial reports can strengthen public trust and ensure active participation in monitoring the use of village funds.
