

CSCA: LOCAL CHAPTER CREATION FORM

Local Chapters are intended to serve smaller geographic regions than the national/international organization. The intent is to foster dialog, interaction and fellowship for Christians in science on a local scale.

The CSCA local chapters are subject to the constitution and bylaws of its parent organization, the American Scientific Affiliation (ASA).

- A CSCA local chapter shall be defined as a group that:
 - Adheres to our statement of faith and policies
 - Has two or more CSCA members in a leadership role
 - Meets regularly to discuss issues of science and Christian faith
- Permission to use the CSCA chapter designation shall be granted by the Executive Council upon application by CSCA members in the leadership role. CSCA will support the CSCA chapters in their operation according to guidelines to be established by the Executive Council.

To establish an official Local Chapter, the leadership must submit the attached application for a Local Chapter with the appropriate signatures to Mark McEwan, our Project Development Officer:

Submit to: Mark McEwan or Mark McEwan, CSCA pdo@csc.ca Trinity Western University
Neufeld Science Centre
7600 Glover Road,

Upon approval, the local group will be authorized to use the CSCA (& ASA) name and logo in its communications. The designated contact for each group will be responsible for reporting all activities and for submitting a brief annual report. Mark McEwan will work with the local contact to help facilitate event planning & promotion, financial requests, recording of lectures, etc.
