The image is a two-panel cartoon meme referencing a famous scene from Star Wars.

The top panel shows a close-up of Darth Vader's iconic black helmet against a blurred background of what appears to be a futuristic setting with glowing lights in cool and warm tones. Superimposed in large, white, sans-serif capital letters across the center of the panel is the Spanish phrase: "Luke, estoy tu padre".

The bottom panel depicts a scene of Luke Skywalker hanging precariously from a metal structure, possibly a gantry or platform, in a shaft or corridor with glowing blue and red light beams. Luke is drawn in a distressed pose, with his mouth wide open in a yell. Below him, in large, red, sans-serif capital letters followed by smaller black text, is the Spanish phrase: "¡Noooooooooo! ¡Es con el verbo ser!".
