

Country Manager - Spain

ABOUT US

Bobasen.com was founded in 2014 and is aspiring to be the leading multi-lingual real estate listing site. Bobasen provides a state-of-the art property listing platform with powerful SEO capabilities. The business model relies on self-service where the advertiser writes and posts their own ads, and gets contacted directly by interested buyers through the site. We accept ads both from realtors and directly from owners.

We are now looking for Country Managers to establish and grow Bobasen in their local markets. The ideal representative is results driven, self-motivated, has an organised way of working and can manage their own time.

This position is commission based. Your earnings have the potential to scale with the time and effort you put in to attract leads and conversions.
