

Selecting official communication platforms

Drupal issue: https://www.drupal.org/project/drupal_cwg/issues/3498933

- Official communications should be published on safe and reliable platforms.
- We should not publish official communications on platforms that allow misinformation and abuse.
- We should take the following steps to determine whether a platform is safe and reliable:
 - a.
- When a platform ceases to be safe and reliable, we should take the following steps:
 - a. Create a report giving the reasons we no longer consider the platform to be safe and reliable, with specific examples.
 - b. Keep control of our accounts to prevent them from being taken over by cybersquatters.
 - c. Post a message about where to find official communications. Update as needed.
 - d. Cease posting official communications to the platform until it has been confirmed to be safe and reliable again.

Platforms that we consider safe and reliable

Platforms that we do not consider safe and reliable