

Across the Hill

Tom Steen

Poem is spelled with an A and always will be

And he said it's still too dark for me there and I can't follow and that makes him sad

But in time I'll find my happy and maybe I'll find his too and send it in a cardboard box to that dark place

But for now I'll just build my little Rome