

Here at Msparp.com/CardsAgainstUndertale, we don't really have any rules. Not ones that were written down, anyway.

So, here's some things we all agree on.

1. No sex in the main room. Suggestiveness is okay, outright porn is not. The boden room is here: msparp.com/cauboden2electricbodenloo
2. Suicide cannot be mentioned, or roleplayed. It should be referred to as 'Rule 2', or 'r2', if you need to refer to it.. Links with Rule 2 in them are acceptable. However, you should leave a warning.
3. Rape can be implied, but not outright stated or roleplayed.. The word itself can be said in moderation when relevant.
4. Try to avoid end-of-the-world plots, but if you feel the absolute need to create one, please do not just dump it on us without warning.
5. For fighting, do not create a god-like character that's undefeatable. That's just outright annoying.
6. Sometimes the roleplay devolves into a little something called "RP hell." RP hell refers to a pretty crappy plot. Sometimes we play along (because it's funny) and sometimes we don't. If nobody seems to be in the mood for RP hell, please make like Elsa and let it go.
7. Don't force ships or bodens on other people.
8. For the love of god stop making joke characters every 5 seconds
9. If you have an issue with something or someone, please take it to PMs or the ooc room (<https://msparp.com/cauoooc>). Please.
10. Don't harass people, or single someone out, because you think you're better. That's not cool, and we're not going to let it fly. This includes constantly joking about a person's RP style, and things they do, if they ask you to stop.

List of punishments

In this list, I will go over how we determine what happens to you if you do happen to break any rule. The punishments won't be severe, usually. The main thing is to not constantly repeat infractions, even if they are small ones.

If a rule gets broken, you will get a certain amount of points. If I were you, I'd play this like golf, and get the least amount of points possible. Points will determine the severity of your punishments for the next 2 weeks.

Rule 1: Generally, we can usually stop these before they even happen, or ask you to go to the boden room. You most likely will just be asked to move to the other room, and that will be that. If you don't? Well, we will silence you for a bit, and then unsilence you. You will also secure yourself 1-5 points.

Rule 2: This one is important. It cannot be mentioned whatsoever, unless it is in a link, and there is proper warning. In other words, you cannot have the words in the chat, but if you have to manually click a link to see them, then with a warning, it is okay. Breaking this rule at any time will constitute a mute, for us to explain what you have done. You will get 1-5 points on the first infraction. Later ones will give 5-10. We don't care whether or not no one is there other than an admin, so just don't do it, alright?

Rule 3: We've never had a case of this. Same concept as rule one, but don't do it in the NSFW room either. 1-5 points.

Rule 4: If you ask us if we want to do something like this, and most people say sure, then it should be fine. If you come in and just say "/me Uses a nuke to blow up the bar," we're going to say no. And if you bitch and moan about it, we'll give you 1-5 points.

Rule 5: Don't god mod. It isn't fun. Nobody likes it. If your character just had a lot of power (Hell, I RP a god) try to work around it, so they don't abuse that power. Most likely will be warned, otherwise, 1-5 points. As a rule of thumb, it's considered polite to ask if you can do a certain thing to a character.

Rule 6: If you cause RP hell, and nobody likes it, we'll just stop it in the chat. If you keep doing stuff that causes RP hell to break loose, we'll give you 1-5 points.

Rule 7: Someone doesn't want to do shit? Don't make em do it. We'll mute you if you start to basically harass someone about it, and give you 1-5 points.

Rule 8: Please don't do this. This was more of a spiteful thing at one point, due to a mass amount of joke characters, so we probably won't do much about this rule.

Rule 9: We don't want arguments breaking the flow of RP in the main room. Argue somewhere else, and it'll be fine. We'll mute you, and give 1-5 points to those involved, if it gets out of hand.

Points key:

0-5 points: We good fam

6-10 Points: You will get muted when a rule is broken, and you get points for it. The length of the mute will be determined by the infraction (If a mute is given at all,) and will last no longer than 30 minutes.

11-20 points: You will get kicked, and muted. The mute will be lasting at most 45 minutes, after you return from being kicked.

21-30 points: You will be temporarily banned, for at most a day.

30-50 points: You will be temporarily banned, for at most 7 days.

50+ points: You will be banned permanently, or until we decide it's okay to let you back.

Now, we are a fairly forgiving bunch of people (Most of the time).

We aren't going to always fully give out these punishments, if we believe that you haven't really done much wrong.

However, we will also not go beyond what is listed here.

If you break a rule, and for the next week show good behavior (Not getting any points), your points will go away before the two week period ends. This two week period starts when you get your first point.

11. If you believe you were unfairly given points, or punishment, don't hesitate to ask someone. If any moderator abuses their power, they will be punished. The rules apply to them, as well.
