

Hounds Of The Calamity

General IC

Our 'official' theme is that of a band of criminals. Though that doesn't mean 'bad' or 'evil'.

This is not a place for monologuing moustache-twirlers, but characters who want a good mix of freedom and structure.

Hounds are whatever they wish to be; as long as it benefits the pack. They (save for officers) are not assigned ranks, roles, or jobs. We are simply a group of free-wheeling rogues. A melting-pot of skills, talents, and dreams.

The two FC leaders, Harlan Cassidy and Atkiray Chaghan, can discuss the 'role' of a member upon joining - but what that entails is ultimately up to you. Otherwise, Hounds can simply participate in missions run by officers, or in our regular social events.

We encourage those of all types to join, but it is important to note that our theme is that of sub-legal operations: racketeering, gambling, theft, mercenary work (of all kinds), and much more. These things encompasses the kinds of activities we delve into with this community.

Therefore, your character is welcome to be law-abiding and upstanding if you wish, but they may need to be good at turning a blind eye.

Finally, one isn't required to become a Hound when joining. However, if you wish to experience the full extent of what we're doing, some events will require it! So if that's where your interest lies, make sure you roleplay enough to get noticed!

General OOC

We primarily operate in the EST timezone, usually some time after 6pm EST. We are also just starting out! So keep that in mind when submitting an app! We intend to grow our community out of a small group of high-quality roleplayers, all while having fun along the way.

We run weekly social events of varying types (including: fight-nights, open bar, gambling, and more!), with an emphasis on less-than-legal operations. Members are also encouraged to use The Den for their own activities - from drug businesses to money-laundering, all the way to more upstanding ventures. We invite all those with goals and motivation to join!

On top of that, we'll also be planning structured events surrounding our themes, along with story-heavy member-focused events, all with our very own simple roll-system to boot! So if you're looking for a new home for your character via our FC, or wish to join the Linkshell to add to your RP variety and flavor, we're here for you!

The Den - Our House

The Den is a safehouse which belongs to the Hounds. It has no one theme, but instead locations for activities of all kinds. We sport a fighting pit, gambling den, and bar, but don't expect someone to serve you! Leave your money at the table, and try not to get caught shorting the register.

There is no front. We don't pretend to be a bar (though we have one), or a shop (though many may operate within our doors). The Den is a place for people to enjoy a little vice. A place to relax, socialize, and maybe get up to some unruly business. A place where any dreams can become a reality - whatever that means.

Players are encouraged to use their rooms for whatever they wish. We do not intend to police this. If you're a player who loves the idea of having their own theme and flavor, while also engaging with a greater overarching story and theme, we would be a good fit for you.
