

1 Black Lights

Day before night as the black becomes red becomes spark

Breath into life as the stars ahead light up the dark

Watching and waiting and anticipating the glow

Patiently listening, fires are flickering low

And you are the Black Lights

Following, tumbling, echoing, stumbling home

Leaving, returning as Autumn leaves turning to gold

Catches like embers, the sky will surrender the day

Burning inside for the world to remember your name

And you are the Black Lights

Out of the dark light can come dawning, yet we fear the blackness will overwhelm us.

The colours shine brighter after rain came falling though storms will come, like glass and nails, again, and again.

And through fire hearts can grow purer, stronger, but how much longer must we suffer,

O Lord, this burn, this hurt, this pain?

Can we dance in the darkness, rejoice in the rainstorm, raise our voices to sing together in the sorrow, like there is a tomorrow?

Though we are burnt-out, bruised, broken, let this sweet, healing truth be spoken:

there is faith, there is hope, there is love;

these remain; these remain.

2 Glasshouse Bridge

I went walking down to Glasshouse Bridge
And it's been some time since my feet took me there
Now the summer's gone and I don't know what to do
So I sat a while and I thought of you
And the Turner painting I still see
Was a treasure lost with you and me
And the surface broke and you slipped away
Now I say your name everyday

And I find my way back over the roads and the hills
And the water is a sky full of night time still
I wondered if I dared to breathe
And I find it almost impossible to breathe

So I stare into the burnished gold Knowing you're not there for me to hold onto The sienna light will draw me in Whispering the lie that we will meet again

And I find my way back over the roads and the hills
And the water is a sky full of night time still
I wondered if I dared to breathe
And I find it almost impossible to breathe
I went walking down to Glasshouse Bridge
Now the winter's here and I'm cold right through And I've never been warm in my bones, I've never been warm in my bones, without you.

3 Last Meadow

Climbing up Windmill Hill
Just in time to watch the bluebells dance
Catch my breath through Little Fields
Barefooted when I get the chance
And I'll be walking in the Last Meadow,
Early waking at the break of dawn
And the glass sky will be clear above me
Stretching out into the great unknown
Stretching wide into the great unknown

Feel the earth beneath my feet
Ancient turf, so dark and sweet
Hawthorns Jewel hiding there
Dandelions laced through my hair
And you'll find me in the Last Meadow Staring at the crescent moon so far
And I'll be counting all the constellations

Feeling slightly small among the stars
Feeling ever small below the stars

And I'll lay down in the Last Meadow
Knowing that my longest race is run. Knowing that my longest day is done.

4 Home Child

Brother of mine

I hate to leave you so far behind our sister I will always be

So say you'll come and look for me

Mother, I can feel your hand

As I say towards a strangers' land

On misty water, I await my fate

When all I know is miles away

I'm a home child,

I'm a home child

So far from home child

They call it Nova Scotia but it's not where I belong

It doesn't even look or smell like home

I've been sending you my letters

But there's nothing in return

This must be how it feels to be alone

Brother of mine, Will I see you more last time?

5 Trick of the Light

I stand all alone and I wait
The wind in the trees finds a different pace
I see you below far from shore
The stars disappear and you're almost lost

Once more
To the waves and the foam
And I only want to bring you home

I've watched you before run aground
So follow my gaze, I'll keep you safe and sound
These troublesome waters will pass
I'll show you the way with my heart of glass

Take a chance on me
When you're all at sea
I'm a candle burning through the night
Or am I just a trick of the light

Instrumental

Or am I just a trick of the light
Or is it Just a trick of the light

7 Dereliction

You leave me reckless
I throw caution to the breeze
Our love is breathless
We are both stormy seas
I choose to be forsaken Wildness filling every cell
You are my dark fascination
I'm so lost within your spell

Oooh

We are dereliction
I can set you free
Our love has no definition
You can abandon me

I am a wayward kite
Caught inside your storm
I am the blue horizon
No more windows, no more doors

Oooh

8 Blue

Blue, blue is the colour
Blue, blue is the colour of your eyes
When you've been crying and you're tired of trying to be someone you don't know
Blue is the colour
Blue, blue is the colour of the sky
Before its tainted by the clouds that seem to build up in your mind when you're too busy looking down, down, down, down
Down, down, down, down, down

*Below the bridge the canal cuts a ribbon of impossible blue through the grey As cloudless skies are mirrored and sun shimmers on water Grey clouds gather overhead and the black and white of a magpie in flight makes for a monochrome road ahead And beneath black Delph tears fall
Then, bursting through towpath cracks you spot the resilient blue of forget-me-not
And you begin to remember all the things you never even knew you forgot
You realise you've lived your life looking but not seeing
So you shift your view
And lift your eyes to a sky that is blue.*

Blue, blue is the colour of the space in between of what you cant see and what you just don't know
Blue, blue is the colour,
When you stop looking at the sky
To find your way back to the light
Blue is the colour

9 Cosy, Warm & Lovely

Are you cosy, warm and lovely

Tucked up in your bed

Don't you worry my little one,

Just rest your weary head

Are you cosy, warm and lovely

It's time for dreams instead

Bah, bah's

Don't you worry my little one,

Just rest your weary head

Are you cosy, warm and lovely

It's time for dreams instead

Yes it's time for dreams instead.

10 Leaving

I heard it on the radio
The snow was bad, you had to go
So I found a place and locked the door
And I watched it settle on the floor
And I felt an ache down deep inside
I think you're leaving me behind

Now she's all grown up and on her way
I know it now, she cannot stay
So I'll find a space within my heart
To store the love while we're apart
And I'll keep it safe until that time
But I guess you're leaving me behind

Don't go leaving me behind
Don't go leaving me to find out what it's like to live without you Without you

11 Let The Light In

Let the light in, watch it warm your heart
Feel it's embers, when the days are dark
Let the light in, raise your eyes above
Let the light in and fill your soul with love

Stone upon stone
To make a mark
Peace, simple peace
A place to start
Climb, always climb
To remember those who fell
And to tell their tale

Hope constant hope
That drives us on
Joy, look for joy
In every song
Time after time
To be grateful for the life that we live today

Let the light in, watch it warm your heart
Feel it's embers, when the days are dark
Let the light in, raise your eyes above
Let the light in and fill your soul with love
