Municipality of Kusadasi - Turkiye

Kusadasi is a city in Turkey, located on the coast of the Aegean Sea. Literally translated, the name of the city means "Bird Island". It is assumed that its name comes from the small rocky island in the shape of a bird's head, located near the old harbor in the city. Another explanation is that during the seasonal migrations, thousands of birds gather there. The old houses along the coast, some of which have been converted into pleasant cafes, and the clean beaches create the unique atmosphere of the city.

Before the 15th century, the city was called "Scala Nova" and was a lively center for merchants from Venice and the Mediterranean. The city is located in close proximity to the ancient city of Ephesus.
