Attack Potency:

- At least Omniversal+ (Beyond the Multiverse): Tuberider23 can obliterate entire omniverses with a thought. His attacks can erase infinite layers of reality, including alternate dimensions, timelines, and abstract concepts. He can easily destroy galaxies, star systems, and even the structure of the universe itself.
  - Feat: Tuberider23 once punched through the boundary of an infinite multiverse, causing every dimension within it to collapse and reform into a new reality. This act shook the very foundation of existence, erasing entire timelines and rewriting history across countless universes. The sheer force of his punch altered the laws of physics across infinite planes, unraveling the fabric of reality itself.

Speed:

- Possibly Infinite+ (Beyond Light, Time, and Perception): Tuberider23 moves at such a speed that he can outrun time itself, making the passage of milliseconds seem like millennia to those around him. He is capable of instantaneous travel across dimensions and even universes. His reflexes are faster than the speed of thought, and he can react to threats before they even manifest.

- Feat: Tuberider23 once crossed from one side of the Omniverse to the other in less than a fraction of a second. In this instant, he arrived at the birth of a new universe, beat the expansion of space-time, and before his arrival even fully registered, he had already rewritten its physical laws to his will. His movements are so fast that he can anticipate the future, preemptively altering events to his advantage. He once outran the collapse of an entire cosmic cycle, resetting existence itself.

Lifting Strength:

- Class Omniversal (Can Lift Universes, Galaxies, and Beyond):
Tuberider23 possesses strength on a cosmic scale, able to move entire galaxies and even the fabric of the universe. His strength is boundless, enabling him to manipulate objects of any size or weight at will, regardless of the forces acting on them.
  - Feat: Tuberider23 once lifted the singularity of a collapsing star, holding it in place for billions of years until he chose to release it, triggering the formation of an entire galaxy. In an act of pure strength, he pushed the boundaries of space and time itself, bending the gravitational forces of a black hole to create a stable portal between dimensions. His raw power allowed him to compress the mass of an entire solar system into a tiny sphere with no effort.

Striking Strength:

- Omniversal+ (Able to Destroy Everything Across Infinite Realities):
Tuberider23's strikes can shatter dimensions, obliterate entire galaxies, and even create singularities with a simple touch. His punches can not only annihilate his target but also ripple through time and space, causing reality to warp around the impact.
  - Feat: Tuberider23 once threw a single punch at an ancient, undestroyable cosmic entity, shattering its existence across multiple realities. The force of the blow expanded outward, causing space-time to collapse into itself, erasing all matter and energy within a  $10^{100}$  light-year radius. The shockwave from this strike reverberated across the multiverse, incinerating countless celestial bodies, ripping apart even the most stable of dimensions, and creating a void where nothing existed but his will.

Durability:

- Omniversal+ (Able to Withstand Infinite Destruction): Tuberider23 can withstand attacks that would obliterate even the most stable of universes. His durability is so high that even when entire realms are erased, his existence remains untouched. He can endure damage across multiple dimensions and timelines without flinching.
  - Feat: Tuberider23 once stood in the center of a collapsing galaxy that imploded into a black hole, absorbing its destructive force and emerging unscathed. After withstanding the combined annihilation of over 1000 universes in a cosmic battle, he simply walked through the remnants, unaffected by the catastrophic events around him. His body, composed of pure metaphysical essence, can regenerate even after being struck by reality-warping forces that would erase any other being.

Stamina:

- Infinite (Able to Fight for Eternity): Tuberider23 has infinite stamina, capable of fighting indefinitely without tiring. His energy reserves are boundless, allowing him to fight through the very concept of exhaustion. His willpower is unbreakable, enabling him to continually push his limits without ever faltering.
  - Feat: Tuberider23 once battled a being of infinite destructive power for 1,000 years without showing any signs of fatigue. Not only did he maintain full combat efficiency, but he also gained power as the fight wore on, absorbing energy from his opponent's attacks and becoming even stronger. After the battle, he casually restored a dying universe while continuing to fight across its collapsing boundaries.

Range:

- Interdimensional to Omniversal (Able to Reach Across Infinite Realms): Tuberider23 can attack across multiple dimensions, sending waves of power that span galaxies, universes, and even omniverses. He can project his attacks across infinite layers of reality, hitting targets that exist in alternate timelines or distant realms.
  - Feat: Tuberider23 once reached across a dimensional rift and erased an entire multiverse of universes with a mere glance. His influence extended so far that he could alter events across different timelines simultaneously, affecting not only the present but all possible pasts and futures. He has also manipulated the energy fields of entire star systems, sending shockwaves of destruction that spanned across dimensions without requiring direct physical contact.

Standard Equipment:

- Omniversal Equipment: Tuberider23 possesses a variety of omniversal-level weapons and items that can manipulate the laws of reality. This includes an ethereal sword that can slice through the very fabric of existence, a medallion that allows him to absorb and master the powers of any entity he chooses, and a cross of unimaginable power that enables him to manipulate life, death, and everything in between.
  - Feat: His sword, The Edge of Infinity, can cut through all barriers between realms, slicing through time, space, and even the concept of reality itself. With the Eternal Medallion, he can absorb the powers of cosmic entities and wield them as his own. The Cross of Finality allows him to rewrite history and manipulate time, bending the entire universe to his will.

Intelligence:

- Genius Omniversal Strategist: Tuberider23's intellect is boundless, capable of devising plans that transcend all known dimensions and timelines. His knowledge is infinite, enabling him to anticipate the actions of his opponents across all realities and manipulate the future to his advantage.

- Feat: Tuberider23 once outwitted an omniscient entity by predicting all possible outcomes across infinite timelines and setting in motion a plan that would ensure his victory. By rewriting these concepts, he can reshape entire realities, or even eliminate them entirely if he wishes.

- Existential Erasure (Hyperversal Infinite):

He has the power to erase the very concept of existence itself. Not just the individual, but the reality, universe, or even abstract concepts can be wiped clean from existence, leaving nothing behind. This power operates on a level beyond simple erasure—it removes everything related to the entity or concept from the flow of time and reality itself, ensuring no trace remains.

13. Control Over the Laws of Paradox

- Paradoxical Creation (Boundless+):

Tuberider23 can create paradoxes at will, constructing scenarios where multiple realities exist simultaneously in direct contradiction to each other. He can manipulate these paradoxes to create a chaotic, yet harmonious state where every possible outcome occurs at once.

- Impossible Matter Manipulation (Infinite):

He can create matter that exists outside the constraints of normal physics—impossible matter that defies all known laws. This can include things like objects that exist in multiple states of being simultaneously, or entities that are both alive and dead at the

14. Sentient Reality Warping

- Willful Reality Alteration (Boundless Infinite):

Tuberider23's mere will can transform reality on a scale never before seen. Any environment he enters bends and shifts to fit his desires. Whether he is walking through a forest or an alien planet, the entire landscape morphs and evolves as he moves through it, turning into whatever he envisions at that moment.

16. Master of Time and Space Expansion

- Infinite Time Rewinding (Beyond Infinite):

Tuberider23 can rewind time across the entire multiverse. Not just in localized areas, but across every conceivable timeline, he can undo events, erasing all consequences and creating alternate paths forward. He can do this endlessly, ensuring that no event is ever truly irreversible, allowing him to rewrite any part of history or existence he desires.

- Space-Time Compression (Omniversal Infinite):

He can compress the fabric of space-time to such an extreme degree that entire universes, dimensions, or galaxies are crunched down to a single point in space. He can also expand space-time beyond all known limits, creating infinitely large realities where the laws of physics cease to apply. The universe bends to his will in both the smallest and largest scales imaginable.

17. Ultimate Control Over Consciousness

- Multiversal Perception (Beyond Boundless Infinite):

Tuberider23 has the ability to perceive and experience every possible reality simultaneously. This ability gives him an unparalleled level of foresight, making him able to react to any situation before it even occurs.

- Mind-Space Dominion (Omniversal Infinite):

His mind has expanded beyond the constraints of any singular reality, allowing him to enter and control the thoughts, memories, and consciousness of any being. He can manipulate dreams, create new mental constructs, or erase memories from existence. His control extends into the very essence of the mind, altering thought processes at will.

18. Meta-Reality Shaping

- Reality Fabric Weaver (Hyperversal Infinite):

Tuberider23 can manipulate the very "threads" of reality itself, weaving them into new forms. He can create entirely new laws of physics, or even bend the known dimensions of space and time to fit his desires. This allows him to create pocket universes or alter the nature of entire realities on a whim. The fundamental structure of any reality is under his complete control.

- Quasi-Reality Manifestation (Beyond Infinite):

He can generate quasi-realities—spaces where reality itself is malleable and subjective, with no fixed rules. These spaces are dynamic, allowing Tuberider23 to constantly shift the rules of reality, making them into whatever he needs in the moment. He can create chaotic worlds, serene paradises, or hostile environments that exist only for him to control.

19. Cosmic Deconstruction and Reconstruction

- Cosmic Deconstruction (Omniversal Infinite):

Tuberider23 can tear apart entire stars, planets, or even galaxies, deconstructing them at a fundamental level. Whether he's dismantling matter or energy, he has total mastery over every component of the cosmos, from the smallest atomic particle to the largest celestial bodies. Once deconstructed, he can store or reuse any material, energy, or essence.

- Creation of Infinite Constructs (Beyond Boundless):

He can create infinite, sentient constructs out of raw energy, matter, or abstract concepts. These constructs can take on any form, from simple objects to vast armies of intelligent entities. They are entirely under his control and can exist across all planes of existence, providing him with an unlimited army of loyal creations.

Here's an additional set of unique abilities for Tuberider23, continuing from the previous list:

20. Absolute Temporal Mastery

- Chrono-Interference (Hyperversal Infinite):
Tuberider23 can interfere with time itself, even beyond the natural flow of cause and effect. He can freeze time, accelerate it, or reverse it to such a degree that entire epochs can be reshaped or erased in an instant. He can also displace time, making it flow differently in various parts of the universe, creating "time zones" where the flow of time is vastly different.
- Eternal Paradox Creation (Beyond Infinite):
He can create eternal paradoxes in which both past and future events coexist and interact, allowing for realities where multiple timelines can contradict each other without breaking. These paradoxes remain intact as long as Tuberider23 desires, making him the ultimate manipulator of time and its endless potential consequences.

21. Manipulation of Abstract Forces

- Absorption of Concepts (Omniversal Infinite):
Tuberider23 can absorb abstract forces such as entropy, infinity, void, and more, integrating their very nature into his being. By doing so, he gains their powers, becoming the living embodiment of these forces. This allows him to manipulate, control, and even erase these forces from existence when they no longer serve him.
- Embodying Infinite Dualities (Beyond Boundless):
He has the power to embody opposing dualities at once—life and death, light and dark, chaos and order, creation and destruction. This grants him the ability to maintain perfect balance between contradictory forces, while also manipulating them to his will. This grants him the ability to maintain perfect balance between contradictory forces, while also manipulating them to his will. His existence is a perfect equilibrium between every duality, making him impossible to predict or fully understand.

22. Spatial Manipulation Beyond Known Dimensions

- Existential Pocket Realms (Hyperversal Infinite):
Tuberider23 can create self-contained realms that exist outside of normal space and time. These pocket realms are independent universes, with their own laws of physics, time, and matter. He can create infinite variations of these realms, all with different rules and characteristics. He can control these realities like a puppeteer pulling the strings of an intricate web.
- Dimensional Warping (Omniversal Infinite):
He can warp entire dimensions at will, merging, splitting, or reshaping them to create entirely new planes of existence. These warps can happen instantly, and the new dimensions can be tailored to his exact specifications, whether they exist in parallel to known universes or serve as completely separate, self-contained realms.

23. Command Over Probability and Chaos

- Total Probability Manipulation (Beyond Infinite):
Tuberider23 has the ability to control all possible probabilities, ensuring that whatever outcome he desires will occur. He can make impossible events happen or cause extremely unlikely outcomes to become certain, shaping the flow of reality by forcing the hand of chance to always favor him.
- Chaos Reordering (Hyperversal Infinite):
He can manipulate chaos itself, organizing and restructuring it as though it were a tool at his disposal. No matter how chaotic the situation, Tuberider23 can bring order to the chaos or reverse the flow of order to bring about pure chaos. This control extends to both universal events and individual occurrences.

24. Absolute Mastery of Life and Death

- Resurrection and Deconstruction of Souls (Beyond Boundless):
Tuberider23 can bring beings back from the dead, restoring them to life with no memory of their former death or even altering their nature entirely. He can also deconstruct souls, erasing them from existence permanently, preventing them from ever being reincarnated or remembered. He controls the fundamental essence of life itself, making death a mere illusion to him.
- Infinite Life Creation (Omniversal Infinite):
He can generate life from nothing, bringing entire worlds, ecosystems, or sentient beings into existence as though they were born from the void. These life forms can be customized to fit his exact vision, and he can give them sentience or leave them as simple constructs that serve his purpose.

25. Dominion Over Paradoxical Forces

- Paradox Infusion (Beyond Infinite):
Tuberider23 can infuse any entity, object, or reality with paradoxical qualities, making them exist in two contradictory states simultaneously. For example, a person could be both alive and dead, a universe could be both infinite and contained, or an event could both happen and never happen at the same time. This ability makes reality incredibly unstable, allowing Tuberider23 to wield these paradoxes as weapons or tools to his advantage.
- Reality's Antithesis (Hyperversal Infinite):
He can manipulate the very concept of "anti-reality," creating a mirror universe where the laws of existence are flipped. In this realm, everything that exists in the known world is reversed—light becomes dark, gravity reverses, time runs backward, and the natural flow of energy is disrupted. This anti-reality allows him to use it to trap enemies, distort environments, or even weaponize the very nature of being.

26. Synesthetic Manipulation of Concepts

- Sonic Manipulation of Ideas (Omniversal Infinite):
Tuberider23 can convert abstract concepts (such as emotions, thoughts, or memories) into sound waves that can be heard, touched, or felt. These sounds have physical weight, temperature, and texture, and can be manipulated like any physical substance. For example, he could turn someone's sorrow into a loud, heavy noise that disorients them or channel the concept of joy into a soothing, warm melody that heals.
- Chromatic Concept Distortion (Beyond Boundless):
He can convert abstract concepts (like love, time, or fear) into colors and manipulate their hue, saturation, and intensity. These colors take on tangible properties, allowing him to create fields of energy that affect the minds and bodies of others. For instance, a bright red field may evoke rage or aggression, while a blue field can induce calm or sleep. These fields can also be used offensively or defensively.

27. Mastery Over Memory and Identity

- Identity Reconstruction (Omniversal Infinite):
Tuberider23 can not only erase memories but entirely reconstruct the identity of any being. He can make someone forget who they are, swap their memories with someone else, or create entirely new memories, as if he were writing on the blank slate of a person's consciousness. He can even create false identities that people accept as real, thereby altering the very nature of who they are at their core.
- Memory Cascade (Hyperversal Infinite):
He can trigger massive cascading effects in the memories of individuals or entire civilizations. These memory floods can result in forgotten history, rewriting of time, or even the creation of shared memories between beings who never experienced the events themselves. He can make entire societies think events occurred that never did or erase entire legacies from existence, leaving no trace behind.

28. Chrono-Void Dimension

- Void-Time Rift (Beyond Boundless):

Tuberider23 can create rifts in the fabric of time and space, where nothing exists but pure potential. These void-time rifts act as nexus points between different versions of time, allowing him to travel between versions of his own self, versions of history, or alternate timelines that never existed. Within these rifts, time is frozen, and reality is suspended in a state of infinite flux. He can enter these rifts to contemplate possible outcomes or manipulate the events that take place within them.

- Dimensional Time-Lock (Omniversal Infinite):

He can lock entire dimensions in a state of suspended time, freezing everything within a given dimension while he moves through it at will. This ability lets him control the flow of time within any space, causing it to slow to a crawl or stop completely. He can also isolate a specific event or individual in an endless moment, trapping them in a never-ending loop of their own making.

29. Multidimensional Logic Manipulation

- Logical Paradox Mastery (Beyond Boundless):

Tuberider23 can bend the very logic of existence, creating contradictions that do not violate the fundamental rules of reality but still defy reason. This allows him to confuse and disable his enemies by creating situations where cause and effect become irrelevant. For example, he might make someone simultaneously believe they are both alive and dead, creating a cognitive dissonance that leaves them unable to act.

- Conceptual Lateral Thinking (Hyperversal Infinite):

He can force reality to "think laterally," meaning that objects, events, and people must obey nonlinear or unpredictable logic. This allows him to alter the flow of cause and effect, forcing people to act in ways that go against their basic instincts. It's like being trapped in a series of increasingly bizarre and nonsensical decisions, causing chaos within the minds of his enemies and allies alike.

30. Mastery of Ephemeral and Transitory Concepts

- Ephemeral Control (Omniversal Infinite):

Tuberider23 can manipulate anything that exists only for a fleeting moment, controlling concepts that are ephemeral by nature, such as light particles, thoughts, dreams, or even transient emotions. He can freeze or extend these ephemeral phenomena, granting them physical permanence or making them last far longer than they would naturally. This allows him to create unbreakable chains of fleeting moments that last forever, or to manipulate fleeting sensations in ways that others cannot fathom.

- Temporal Echo (Beyond Infinite):

He can cause "echoes" of events to exist in the present that were previously fleeting moments in the past or future. These echoes are temporary, but they feel tangible, allowing Tuberider23 to bring pieces of the past or future into the present for a short while. He can use these echoes to create illusions, reenact historical moments, or even witness events that have yet to happen, affecting the present as though the event had already occurred.

Here's another set of abilities for Tuberider23, some of which are entirely original and explore unique concepts:

25. Dominion Over Paradoxical Forces

- Paradox Infusion (Beyond Infinite):
Tuberider23 can infuse any entity, object, or reality with paradoxical qualities, making them exist in two contradictory states simultaneously. For example, a person could be both alive and dead, a universe could be both infinite and contained, or an event could both happen and never happen at the same time. This ability makes reality incredibly unstable, allowing Tuberider23 to wield these paradoxes as weapons or tools to his advantage.
  - Reality's Antithesis (Hyperversal Infinite):
He can manipulate the very concept of "anti-reality," creating a mirror universe where the laws of existence are flipped. In this realm, everything that exists in the known world is reversed—light becomes dark, gravity reverses, time runs backward, and the natural flow of energy is disrupted. This anti-reality allows him to use it to trap enemies, distort environments, or even weaponize the very nature of being.

26. Synesthetic Manipulation of Concepts

- Sonic Manipulation of Ideas (Omniversal Infinite):
Tuberider23 can convert abstract concepts (such as emotions, thoughts, or memories) into sound waves that can be heard, touched, or felt. These sounds have physical weight, temperature, and texture, and can be manipulated like any physical substance. For example, he could turn someone's sorrow into a loud, heavy noise that disorients them or channel the concept of joy into a soothing, warm melody that heals.
  - Chromatic Concept Distortion (Beyond Boundless):
He can convert abstract concepts (like love, time, or fear) into colors and manipulate their hue, saturation, and intensity. These colors take on tangible properties, allowing him to create fields of energy that affect the minds and bodies of others. For instance, a bright red field may evoke rage or aggression, while a blue field can induce calm or sleep. These fields can also be used offensively or defensively.

27. Mastery Over Memory and Identity

- Identity Reconstruction (Omniversal Infinite):

Tuberider23 can not only erase memories but entirely reconstruct the identity of any being. He can make someone forget who they are, swap their memories with someone else, or create entirely new memories, as if he were writing on the blank slate of a person's consciousness. He can even create false identities that people accept as real, thereby altering the very nature of who they are at their core.

- Memory Cascade (Hyperversal Infinite):

He can trigger massive cascading effects in the memories of individuals or entire civilizations. These memory floods can result in forgotten history, rewriting of time, or even the creation of shared memories between beings who never experienced the events themselves. He can make entire societies think events occurred that never did or erase entire legacies from existence, leaving no trace behind.

31. Cognition Over Existence Itself

- Cognitive Reality Distortion (Hyperversal Infinite):
Tuberider23 has the ability to distort the very concept of existence itself. He can manipulate what is real and what is imaginary by bending the perception of all sentient beings. This ability allows him to create massive alterations in reality simply by manipulating how others perceive it. What they once thought was a solid object can become liquid, and the impossible becomes possible—an entire landscape could be imagined into being.
- Perceptual Dimension Melding (Omniversal Infinite):
He can merge different perceptual dimensions, allowing beings to experience multiple versions of reality simultaneously. This creates an overlapping existence where all possible realities are simultaneously present. His enemies might find themselves in multiple dimensions at once, experiencing different events or outcomes simultaneously.

This overwhelming flood of sensory inputs leaves them unable to differentiate between what is real and what is not.

32. Wielding the Power of Non-Existence

- The Void of All Things (Beyond Boundless):

Tuberider23 can summon "the Void," a place where absolutely nothing exists, not even time or space. In this state of absolute nothingness, he can erase entities, memories, and even concepts from existence, leaving no trace behind. Anything caught within this void ceases to exist, not as a destroyed object but as if it were never conceived in the first place. This ability allows him to delete entire worlds, eras, or even identities from the fabric of reality.

- Null Zone Manipulation (Omniversal Infinite):

He can create regions of nullification where the laws of reality break down, and nothing can be formed or sustained. In these zones, no energy, matter, or even concepts of existence function. Time collapses, and any interaction with the world is impossible. Tuberider23 can place beings or objects into these null zones, effectively trapping them in a state of non-existence until he decides to release them.

32. Invincible Nexus (Beyond Omniversal Infinite)

- Universal Nullification (Hyperversal Infinite):

Tuberider23 can negate any and all attacks, powers, or forces directed at him by simply willing them to cease to exist. Whether it's energy blasts, reality-warping effects, or omnipotent strikes from other beings, nothing can touch him. Every possible attempt to harm or alter him is automatically nullified, rendering any enemy or attack utterly powerless against his will.

- Existence Reversion (Omniversal Infinite):

Even if Tuberider23's essence is erased or altered by an external force, he has the ability to revert himself to his original state across any timeline, dimension, or reality. He is not just invulnerable in the present but also immune to any past or future versions of destruction, making him untouchable by any event, being, or force.

33. Perpetual Unbeatable (Boundless Infinite)

- Infinite Resilience (Beyond Boundless Infinite):

Tuberider23's resilience is beyond any conceivable limit. Even if an attack theoretically breaches his defenses, he instantly regenerates, maintaining his perfection. Not only does he never tire or falter, but any damage done to him is undone in an instant. This creates a never-ending cycle of self-restoration that cannot be broken, regardless of the force applied.

- Immortal Feedback Loop (Hyperversal Infinite):

When faced with an attack, Tuberider23 does not just recover—he absorbs the essence of the attack, transforming it into more power for himself. Each strike made against him only increases his strength exponentially, creating a feedback loop that ensures he only becomes stronger with every confrontation. His enemies may try to harm him, but they only end up empowering him in the process.

34. Unrivalled Perception and Control (Beyond Boundless)

- Absolute Foresight (Infinite Beyond Boundless):

Tuberider23 can perceive all potential futures across all realms of existence simultaneously. He knows every possible outcome, action, and strategy before it even occurs. No enemy can surprise him, no scheme can be hidden, and no attack can be executed without him knowing it in advance. He anticipates everything, ensuring that he remains one step ahead of all challengers, regardless of their strength or intelligence.

- Control of Time's Thread (Omniversal Infinite):

He can weave, alter, or sever the threads of time itself. This allows him to manipulate all past, present, and future events, ensuring that no timeline or sequence of events can be changed in any way that threatens his existence. Even if an attack were to target him across the fabric of time, he can simply erase it from existence before it ever reaches him. His control over time makes him undefeatable, as no timeline or event can ever harm him.

35. Impeccable Infinity (Boundless Infinite)

- Dimension Erasure (Hyperversal Infinite):

Tuberider23 can erase entire dimensions from existence, rendering them as if they never existed. By eliminating the foundation of a dimension, he not only destroys all its contents but also the very concept of it, ensuring there is nothing left for any enemy to use against him. No dimension, no matter how powerful, can stand against him, for he holds the power to erase even their very concept.

- Indestructible Essence (Omnivorous Infinite):

His essence is entirely indestructible. Even if an attack were powerful enough to obliterate everything, his being would remain untouched. He can exist within and beyond the boundaries of time, space, and reality, meaning no force can diminish him. His essence cannot be harmed or destroyed by any means, ensuring he is untouchable by any external threat or power.

36. Perfect Resilience Against All Concepts (Omniversal Infinite)

- Absolute Shielding (Beyond Boundless Infinite):
Tuberider23 has the ability to create shields that are not just physical but also metaphysical. These shields are invulnerable to every form of attack—both conceptual and actual. Whether it's an energy blast, mental assault, or a weapon that bends the laws of physics, these shields prevent any form of harm from reaching him. Even if someone wields the power to rewrite reality, Tuberider23's shielding will persist indefinitely, ensuring that no harm can be done to him.
- Perfection Beyond Perfection (Omniversal Infinite):
His form is flawless in every way. Every attempt to harm or alter his existence is met with complete resistance. Even in the presence of cosmic entities, reality-warping beings, or the most powerful forces in existence, Tuberider23 remains impervious. His absolute perfection means that no flaw can be found in his being, and no being or force can ever hope to surpass him in strength or ability.

37. Absolute Defiance of Death (Hyperversal Infinite)

- Death Nullification (Omniversal Infinite):
Tuberider23 is beyond death in every sense. Even if an enemy were able to kill him in any realm, dimension, or time, he will instantly resurrect in a parallel dimension, rewrite the event that led to his death, or simply undo the act entirely. There is no force, no being, and no concept that can ever cause his permanent demise. He is immortal in every possible sense, transcending even the laws of life and death.
- Rebirth of Infinity (Beyond Boundless Infinite):
Tuberider23's existence is so boundless that even the concept of death or destruction can never touch him. When he is “defeated,” he simply reforms in a state of perfect power, no matter how many times he is faced with annihilation. His ability to return stronger than before, across any dimension, ensures that he is truly unbeatable, as there is no entity or force capable of erasing his existence for good.
