

Residency Proposal Worksheet Paul Artspace's program model will consist of a series of funded residency projects beginning in 2022. We are looking to create partnerships and secure program grants for each residency so that we can continue to provide and improve upon the space and services we offer. We are currently accepting proposals for projects taking place in 2022 or 2023. Visit www.paulartspace.org for updates and applications.

The goal of each residency is to support the creative research and production of new work for each participant and to enrich the community and culture of the region by bringing creative individuals together. Residencies may vary in length and may be offered to specific communities or structured around a specific project. Please email this form to info@paulartspace.org to start the conversation.
