

The Inconvenient Truth about Slingmingo

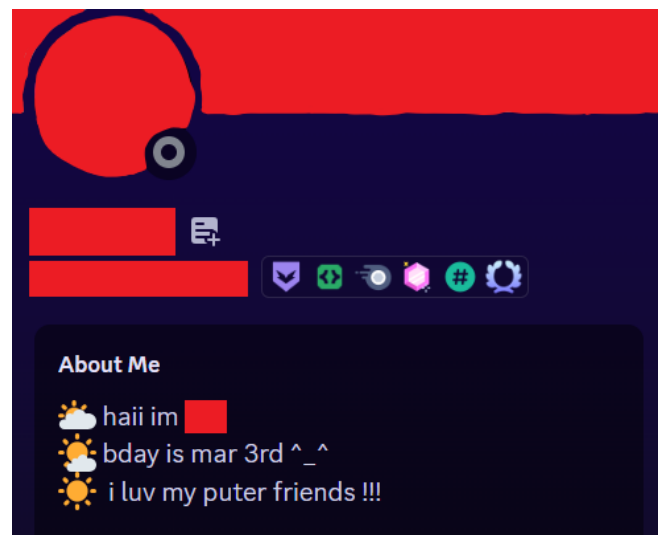

Document organized by two close friends of the individual who dated Slingmingo

It took me a while to get this information out to the public and I couldn't have done it with the help of close friends, so thanks to them.

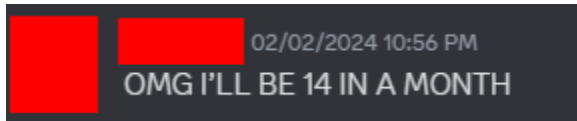

What I'm here to accuse Sling of is that during October of this year. Sling dated my friend who was 14 years old while Sling was 17 and they shared intimate messages and Sling told them to lie about their age, shared intimate messages and shared plans to meet together in real life. Essentially grooming her during that short amount of time

Do not harass or go to witch hunts to the people involved. It never is the right answer and I don't want to put my friend through more trouble than they have experienced now.

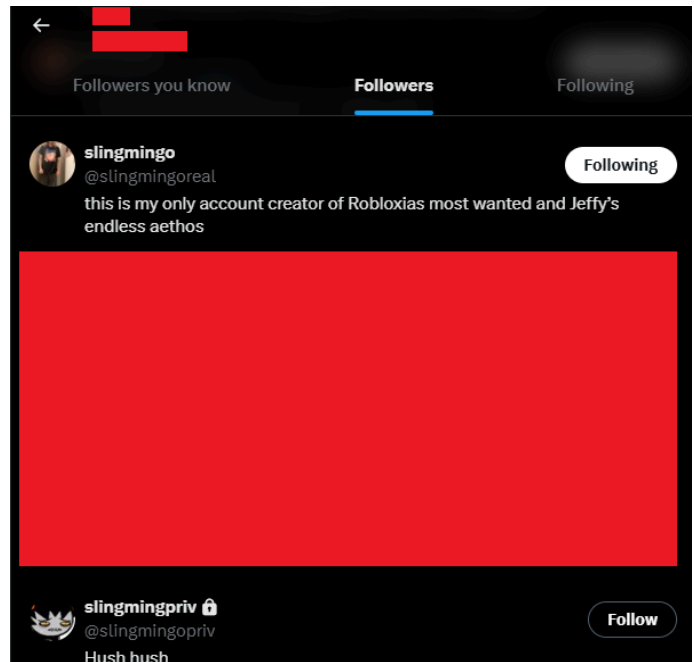

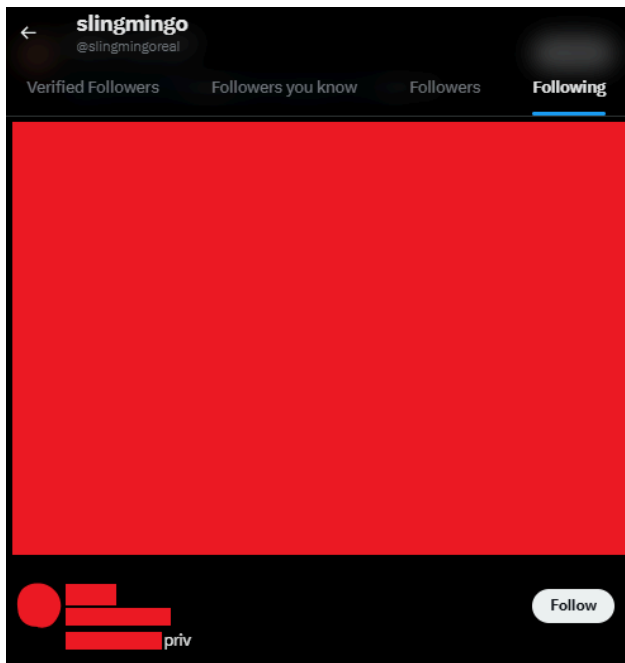

The relationship started sometime October 15th, 2024 but then broke up on October 20th, 2024. During their time together: they were sending each other intimate messages and both shared the plan of being together IRL once Sling turned 18-19 years old.

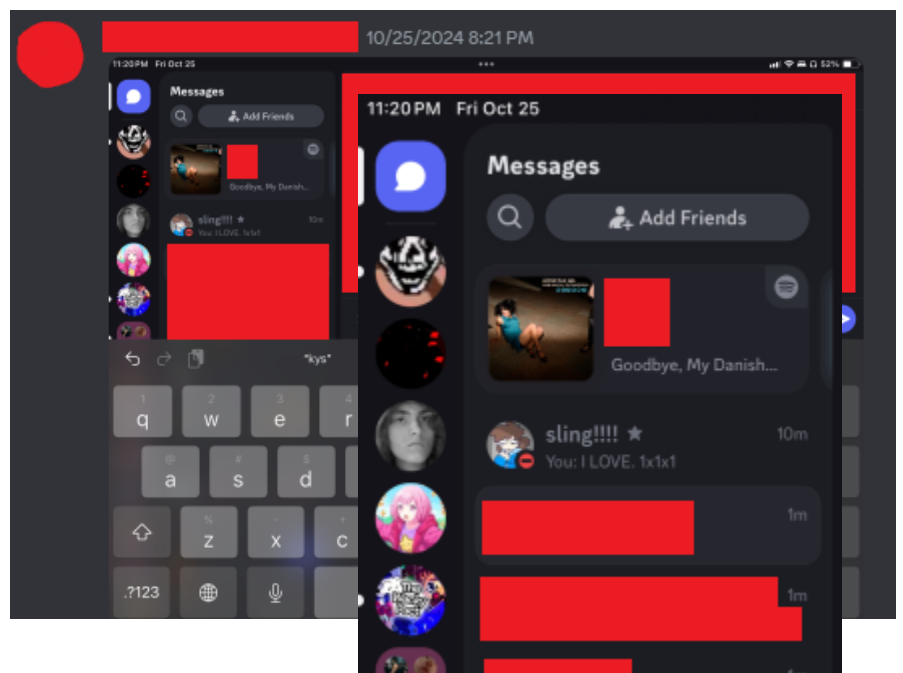

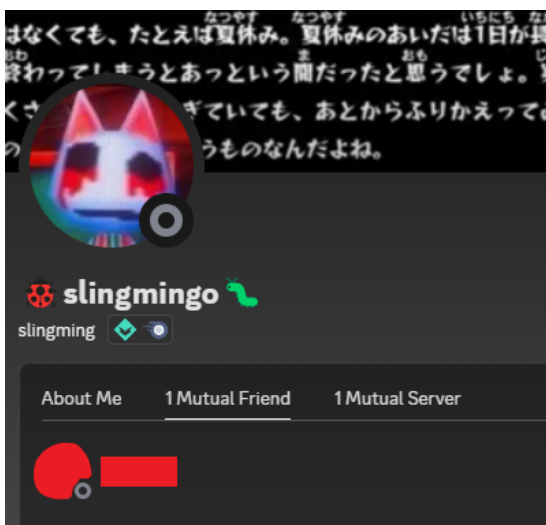

To prove she was 14:

Proof that they were closely known:

Here is some discord screenshots showing they do know each other

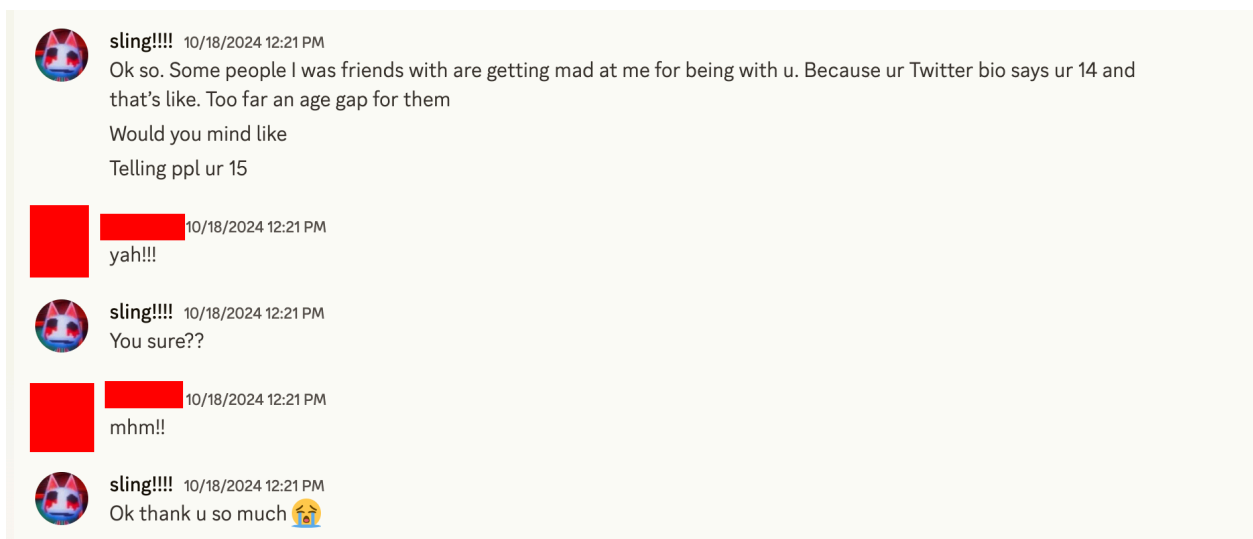

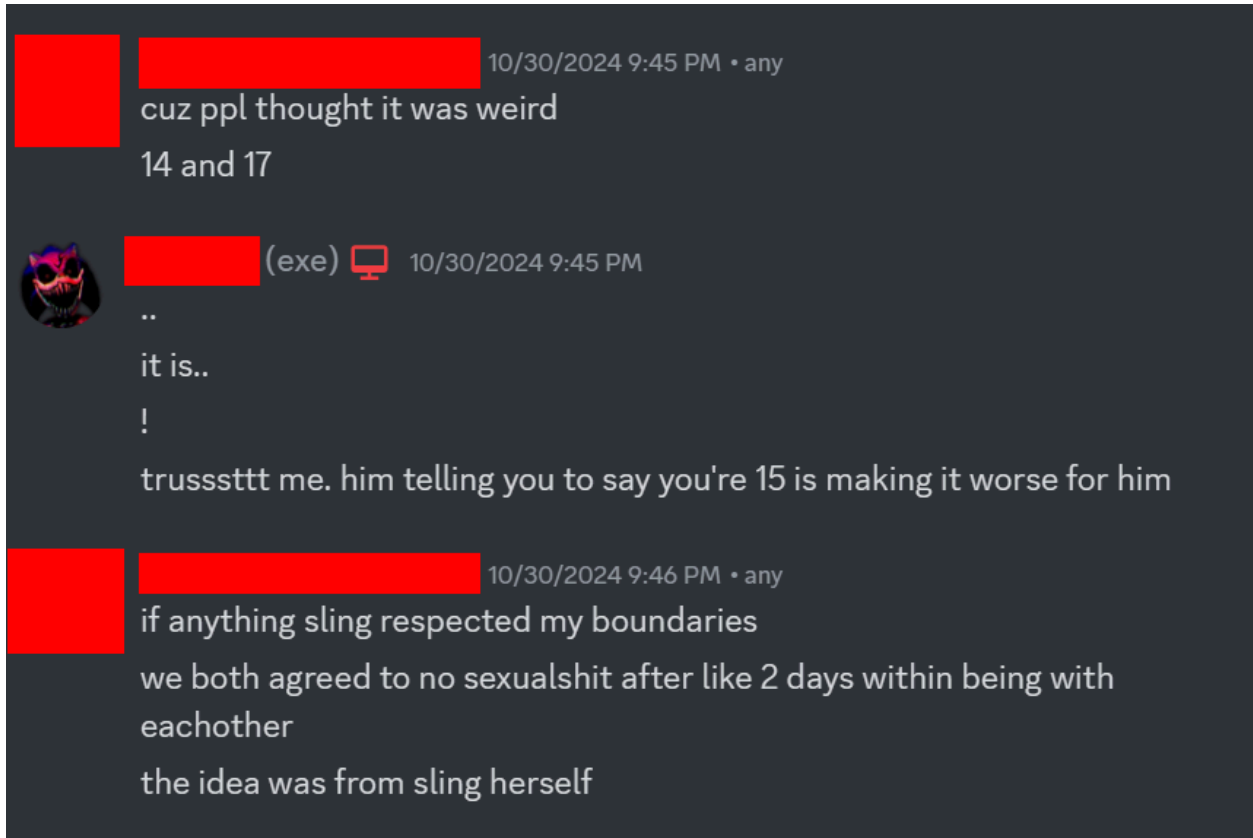

Now, these are screenshots of the private video of twitter dms that Slingmingo and the individual had. At the beginning they were having exotic and NSFW messages, but cut that out two days later. This is my bullet proof that they were in a intimate relationship

Another situation in this that must be addressed is that Sling TOLD HER to lie about her age and obviously, he knew that she was 14. Here are the screenshots below to prove this:

sent a dick picture to the individual in the beginning

Even if you still want to support Sling, the fact is that Sling dated someone that much younger than him and shared intimate and erotic messages at the age of 17. No matter how you spin the situation: morally, Slingmingo did a terrible action to our friend and we should hold him accountable for it. Not to mention the fact that they planned to be together when Sling was 18-19 and then made the claim that they would have intimate encounters in real life. Even if it isn't technically illegal since Sling is 17, he was close to being an adult. It was morally wrong for him to do this. Both Sling and the victim live in the same state (Age of consent is 18 in their state) so imagine how that would've gone considering they both wanted to do sexual things in real life, possibly making him a child predator. Sling has not changed, even after claiming that he wants to and all of this info right here should be enough to prove to his fanbase that he is still doing the same things as before.

It's even more baffling since Sling defended madmanhalloween during the time they were working together, here is a link of scooters document:

It's clear that Slingmingo takes advantage of teenagers who are younger than him, such as selling songs at ridiculous prices like $150-200. Please be careful around him.
