

A Confession

Dillweed's preamble (please read this)

Let me get this out of the way immediately, a few years back Pawkettes sent porn to minors under different aliases in an attempt to, I suppose, gain notoriety in a Pedophile Grooming circle, of some kind.

What makes this inexcusable to me is that Pawkettes is refusing to acknowledge that this ever happened. Pawkettes refuses to acknowledge the harm they've caused and the stuff they've made. Pawkettes refuses to actually change and grow from this.

Pawkettes recently released a couple documents tearing at me and ignoring their past so they can continue to avoid their responsibilities as someone who's made egregious mistakes and failed to learn from them.

This is a pair of documents that essentially rewrites those documents so they're presented slightly more truthfully, but primarily to be funnier. The original documents are very badly written and contain blatantly false or hidden information because, I don't know, I'm assuming that Pawkettes is just scared to actually take accountability because it hints that they've never been perfect and that would look bad on Twitter Dot Com.

I am entirely capable of making a genuine response, but for the life of me I actually cannot think of a reason to do so because that would require me being way too open for me to be comfortable, and I've tried being serious with Pawkettes, didn't work, so who cares?

If you are associated with Pawkettes, you can't trust them with personal details at all. I can tell you that for a fact because I trusted them and they later went on to rip me to shreds.

A lot of the content written here is intended to be funny, and while the facts presented are about as true as they can be, any beliefs present are simply just me having a laugh with the documents provided because I don't think these are any good at all.

I will also just say out loud that this is me coping. I'm having fun, because these documents upset me. I didn't want to ruin anybody's mood too much, so I wanted to have something you could enjoy reading, at the very least as just a funny document and nothing more.

Please enjoy this with a laugh or a chuckle, resources and proof of Pawkettes lying are available right here:

The Rules of these Document Rewrites

Screenshots of the original document will be provided as well as additional screenshots when I feel they're needed. Remember to check out the links in the page above to see more stuff related to this document. It'll make this funnier, trust me.

Should something happen to the documents, I have copies saved. Here are the links to the original documents and the Carrd:

Pawkettes's Carrd (the documents are hidden behind the bottom button and another button behind that button and the character document is hidden behind a button in the confession document which is already hidden behind two buttons. Yes, that's actually where they are. Makes this document a little silly cuz I'd bet you guys didn't even know about any of this, but the fact is that I won't stand for being attacked like this.)

If a text is in the same font as the rest of the text, that's me either stating a fact or making up a belief, if the text is in Courier New like this, this is me not knowing if a Fact I'm stating is true or not.

Attacking, harassing or trying to harm Pawkettes in any way is BAD and you will be disrespecting both me and them by doing so.

There's a very good chance you don't actually know them, even with these documents' information, so your attempts to talk with them are either going to fall flat or just be insanely disrespectful, and I would much sooner you just not interact with Pawkettes altogether.

- Tell your friends about the documents, not Pawkettes, they'll probably either read this themselves or have one of their goons read it. If you get mad at me, understandable, I'm not that great a person. Just know that as I explain later on, I really was... "Acquaintances" with Pawkettes for almost 4 years, so everything I'm saying here comes from the heart. Some with a tough love, most with a searing rage.
- Please read ALL 4 documents BEFORE coming to any conclusions, please? (The Two Funny ones and the Two Serious ones.) I really don't want you to be satisfied with an unfinished idea of who either me or Pawkettes were.
- I'm sorry about any information about myself you didn't want to hear. Trust me, I didn't want to hear it either. If my mere existence makes you uncomfortable, please either quietly leave or actually talk to me. If this is what makes you believe you can't be associated with me, that'll make me upset but I will understand. Just don't fuckin make a document the way she did attacking me with my personal private details. I truly wish to not harm anyone. Not unless they do so to me first.

Trigger Warnings (and brief comments)

TRIGGER WARNINGS

Mentions of grooming, abuse, mentions of nsfw content, mentions of pedophilia

In 2020, at just 14 years old, I inadvertently stumbled upon a group infamous for supporting and sheltering individuals openly identified as pedophiles. Out of curiosity and the misguided intention to investigate, I made the irresponsible choice to join this group. However, my initial good intentions quickly spiraled into something horrifying and shameful. I found myself drawn into the group's actions, which were not only deeply disturbing but also incredibly harmful to others. This experience has had a profound impact on me, and I delve into it further in this video here

If anyone would like a personal apology, please direct message me privately. I will respect your wishes and leave you alone if you ask me to. Please don't complain about my lack of an apology if you haven't asked for one.. Don't go on about me not apologising to you when you didn't ask me to do that."

The original documents are here in full so I will also be warning you for mentions of Grooming, Abuse, (multiple) Mentions of Porn, Mentions of Pornography sent to Minors and Mentions of Pedophilia.

I'm not going to adapt this part of the document. I don't want to make fun of someone for actually getting into a situation where they got taken advantage of for the sake of harming kids. I'm not mad at what they did or how old they were when they did it, they were a child, and they were being manipulated to get others hurt. I cannot in good conscience make any funny comments here. This isn't a situation where anybody but the true worst people won.

I AM mad at her just pretending none of this happened. No, ignoring your problems does not make them go away. You actually have to TRY to do something about them if you want them gone so badly, and these documents are not Pawkettes trying at all, so I will be making fun of the rest of the document. Because it sucks and is bad and pretends the worst stuff didn't happen.

I tried to write this document like 4 times already, each attempt progressively trying to be nicer and less rude or personal, and this is the best I could come up with. I apologize if this sounds like me making light of bad stuff, the fact is that I've had it with this shit and I no longer feel Pawkettes deserves the respect of my kindness and my extra chances, they've had so many chances to prove themselves as a better person and they have fallen short at every opportunity. Pawkettes has refused responsibility, picked fights with people they've directly harmed, and have committed very genuine crimes that they have not once actually paid the price for.

I could forgive them if they... Owned up to it and just admit that they did what they did already. I can accept that something like this was a dumb vulnerable teenager being a dumb vulnerable teenager.

But they haven't, and judging by their current behaviour they never will.

... Oh, and the document about me doesn't need to exist at all.

Time to be funny.

A Confession: Now with just enough honesty.

Before I explain myself, I'd like to mention that Grammarly has been used to correct my grammar and improve my writing in some parts. My friend here helped me fix and manually add corrections for the majority of this document. They added their explanations and help me have a stronger defense here, in case my wording comes off as confusing or hard to make sense of.

Purple=Me

Red=friend who ill keep anon for safety

I am Watermelonthecat or Watermelon the Cat Nawnii's wife(Yes THAT Watermelonthecat)

Coming clean

I want to be completely honest and admit that I was Watermelonthecat—yes, that Watermelon. You may remember me as a fangirl of Nawnii, a popular art commentary YouTuber who deleted her social media and disappeared from the internet. At the end of 2022, I created an Instagram account where I announced that I would be deleting all of my social media accounts (except for my old DeviantArt, which I couldn't fully delete) and giving away all my original characters to anyone who requested them for free- now that part of the story becomes relevant later. At the start of 2023, I made "Pawkettes," where I rebranded everything and created a new art style.

Before I don't actually explain myself I'd like to mention that I'm naturally bad at writing and wording things, I might have a friend here to help me fix and add corrections that make me look better. My friend could also not exist. Schrodinger's Friend. They have added their explanations and helped me look better here so I don't look like such a bad person, what a good friend :)

Blue = Me, Pawkettes aka WatermelonTheCat

Red = friend who might not even exist!

I am WatermelonTheCat or Watermelon the Cat Nawnii's wife (Oh yeah, that account none of you remember or know at all.)

I also went by @popsicle.cat.uwu.16 and @/seikathecacat and some violet one I don't remember, but I would never ever ever tell you this because I need you to be on my side.

Not coming clean at all

I want to make you think I'm being completely honest so when I say that I'm Watermelonthecat- Of course YOU know who that is, right? Anyway, when I say that I want you to believe that and never look into my past ever. You don't remember me as a fangirl of Nawnii, a popular art commentary Youtuber who left the internet and stuff. At the end of 2022, I made a story on Instagram telling everybody that I was leaving, deleting all of my social media accounts and giving away all of my characters. Except I didn't want to do this so instead of actually leaving I rebranded as Pawkettes, and only changed the way I render my art because I don't know how to actually draw anything other than one kind of Le Heccin Wholesome Anime Girl.

Why did I rebrand into Pawkettes?

-Why did I initially rebrand into Pawkettes?

I wanted to rebrand myself to better reflect my personal growth and development as a person. This decision was also an effort to distance myself from a specific group and their harmful actions. I realized that I needed to sever ties with my past mistakes and the person I was when I was surrounded by these negative influences.

I am aware that separating I understand that separating myself from others may hinder my personal growth and that I may still be viewed through the lens of my past actions. However, I want to emphasize that I have not engaged in those behaviors since becoming an adult. I have become much more cautious about who I interact with and what I share online. I've sought help and have been working on adjusting to society.

I also want to apologize to anyone who felt I was acting strangely; I was extremely paranoid about being discovered for my past actions during my teenage years. My goal is to grow and make healthier decisions as I move forward. may hinder me from growing and may not escape the perceptions others have of me from the past, but I've never done those things since, especially after being an adult. I've gotten way more cautious with who I interact with and what I say online, I've reached out for help and become more adjusted to society. I also apologise if I was acting weird to some people too, as I was extremely paranoid of being caught the time back when I was a teenager, but I want to grow and make healthier decisions as time goes forward.

I wanted people to not harass me because I was being a terrible person and not owning up to it the same way I'm doing just that right now. This decision was also an effort to distance myself from my victims so they could stop annoying me with their perfectly valid points. I realized that I needed to sever ties with my past mistakes by not taking any accountability or making anything right and instead running away from my sins.

I am not aware at all that separating myself from my past identity and everyone I knew hinders my personal growth because I'm not trying to separate my identities at all and nobody sees me through the lens of my past actions because nobody knows what I did because I got away with it and I would never ever tell anybody what I did because that would make me look problematic. I have not engaged in those behaviours since becoming an adult, in fact I never engaged in any of these behaviours ever because I'm not going to tell you all of what I did. I have become more cautious about maintaining my image because that's the only thing I hold dear anymore. I have not sought help and I am the same person, but now I just don't harm kids.

I want to apologize to everyone who's my friend because they only shower me with praise; I was paranoid about being discovered for my past actions during my teenage years even though you wouldn't care at all because you would just enable my lack of care for myself. My goal is to grow my account and make decisions that actually won't change anything about my mental health, and I will succeed at escaping the perceptions others have of me from the past because I'm not telling anyone that I sent porn to minors. I've gotten way more cautious of who I tell I did awful things to, so when I eventually cast them away from me when I'm done using them they won't have any dirt on me, I have not reached out but I'm going to tell you I did anyway even though you didn't ask and I am adjusted to society just well enough to know how to manipulate my friends into never questioning me or actually making sure I'm becoming a better person. To show you that I mean that I'm sorry, I'm going to rewrite the first part a second time with slightly different words because that shows how serious I am about improving myself by not actually doing anything.

-False allegations

I faced false allegations accusing me of being a pedophile made by individuals who concealed the fact that I was a minor in order to mislead others into believing I was an adult. Due to the overwhelming pressure from people around me, I struggled to explain my side of the story until now. As a result, I endured harassment, was unfairly compared to actual predators, and had my name dragged into a drama created with an ex who made a video about them. I received threats and experienced other distressing situations. Honestly, I felt scared for my life and my family's safety, as I didn't want them to suffer because of my past actions.

-Past actions under influence(If you do not wish to watch the video)

I was pressured by the group to engage in creating fake accounts, harassing others, falsely accusing innocent artists, encouraging predators, and drawing inappropriate art of people without their consent. When I was confronted for the first time, I was too afraid to speak out against it, which only led to further issues later on. Over time, I came to realize that these actions were deeply wrong and harmful. I made the decision to leave the group willingly, understanding that I could no longer be part of such behavior.(not relevant I also like to explain that I was extremely toxic to people on Deviantart with me saying a lot of terrible things on status to which I now disagree with, if anything looks extremely bad or spoken with bad faith then I 100% take back those words and I'd like to apologise)

This part I actually also can't make fun of because it's the only time where I think this is her actually being 100% genuine and not just trying to save face to nobody for no reason.

However.. I can make fun of one part of it.

When I was confronted for the first time, I was too afraid to speak out about it, and now instead of doing that I do that same thing but now it's because I don't want my reputation harmed at all. With enough time passing, I've come to realize that these actions were deeply wrong and harmful, and so I won't actually talk about any of it at all because that might make me look bad. This next part is completely irrelevant but I was very toxic to people on DeviantArt because I kept making posts talking shit about people for my hundreds, maybe thousands of followers to read and I now disagree with them only because it makes me look like a bad person.

TLDR

TLDR?

Did I speak about NSFW art with minors? no

Did I ever go into depth about NSFW art with minors? no

Do I support pedophilia? no I don't

Did any of the drawings include dark topics (Incest, rape)? no

Am I a proshipper? no

Am I a pedophile, or a lolicon? no

Did I draw 18+ furry NSFW art? yes

Was the NSFW posted publicly? yes but they were deleted

Do I regret everything I did? yes 100% (or I just would've kept quiet)

Did I speak about NSFW Art with Minors?

Yes but I'm going to tell you no because that makes me look better

Did I ever go into depth about NSFW art with Minors?

Yes, I've even sent it to them, but I will not be telling you this so there's no way you aren't going to side with me.

Do I support pedophilia?

I used to!

Did any of the drawings include dark topics such as Incest or Rape?

I don't remember any Incest and I won't tell you about the Rape art I made.

(Trust me I'm not directly linking it on purpose it's way more violent and disgusting than I remembered, if you want to find it yourself it's on ArtExposing's Twitter account, be prepared, it's not something I want to show.)

Am I a proshipper?

Nope.

Am I a pedophile or a lolicon?

Well, despite there being absolutely no discussion about me being a Lolicon anywhere at all in the first place, no I'm not.

Did I draw 18+ furry NSFW Art?

Yes, and some of it using some minors' personas. Did you catch what I was talking about? I'd hope so, I used two different terms that just mean porn. Not for people under 18 even though I sent it to people under 18!

Was the NSFW posted publicly?

Yes, and I tried to delete them but I didn't get all of it.

Do I regret everything I did?

I'm going to tell you I do but I won't tell you that I did any of it so you can assume I mean it when I say I regret it.

A hypothetical friend looking in...

A friend looking in...

"As Paw's friend off and on for the past 7 years, I've seen legitimate growth in the way they've pushed themselves to change for the better.

Especially since Paw learned where they failed to draw boundaries in the past and why they were vulnerable to those voices in the first place. Paw has understood now as an adult that blaming those horrible people entirely would be another form of escape. Yes, they were manipulated, and normalized into behavior that went against their values—but the actions still passed through their own hands. That realization continues to cut even deep as a victim realizes they've victimized someone else.

What defines Paw now is not who they were under that influence, but how they've grown in their actions/mindset the past couple of years. They are learning that remorse without change is hollow, and that growth requires both accountability and self-forgiveness, and that comes with being honest about identity. If you seek a direct apology, please ask."

As Paw's friend off and on for 7 years (7 years ago today would be April 2019), I was there for them when they were sending porn to minors and running away from their responsibilities, and I've seen growth in their ability to blind people to their actions so they can pretend their online presence means something.

Especially since Paw learned where they failed to draw boundaries in the past (and then never used this knowledge at all in her future) and why they were vulnerable to such voices in the first place. Paw understands now as an adult that, actually, they did nothing wrong and as long as people think they're sorry, they can get away with anything they can put their mind to. Yes they were manipulated and normalized into behaviour that went against their values, but they're not going to tell you what that behaviour actually was because it might make you.. UNCOMFORTABLE!!! This realization has given them the freedom to finally believe they can truly be a good person and give people who don't know them a hearty hand shake and a somewhat genuine "I'm sorry"

What defines Paw now is not who they were under that influence because nobody knew before this document who Paw used to be and they made a document nobody was asking for or even read at all because it's hidden and clearly something they're proud of. They are learning that remorse without change is hollow, and that growth requires both accountability and self-forgiveness, and that comes with being honest about identity, and it sure is a good thing they've told you about all of their identities like WatermelonTheCat, and... And, uh.. Uh, hmmm. Uhhh. Well, let's see, uhh... Nope, that's it! If you seek a direct apology from someone who has never wronged you before because her previous victims aren't around anymore, please ask for that apology from that person who did nothing to you because being honest is for losers!

Confession Afterword

This document had no fucking reason to exist at all. Nobody was asking for it, nobody was grilling Pawkettes about their past, and I was entirely content with just letting what happened be.

But it does exist, and it isn't very honest with anybody.

In an attempt to come to terms with their past, they have literally done the total opposite and tried to ignore it ever happened. That is NOT making progress, and that is not honest, and that is not okay.

I mean it, Pawkettes could've just not made a document and I would not be this pissed off, that would be more honest, that would be more acceptable. Instead they're straight up saying that they WEREN'T actually that bad a person, shifting blame off of themselves when they're at fault for almost everything in these documents (save the getting groomed, that's not the victim's fault ever.).

Are you ready for it to get worse? It gets worse.

This line of text will bring you to the Character Ownership document.

June 1st 2026 Update

I mean, neither them nor I really give a fuck about any of this anymore so I will begin reducing it's visibility, but it will continue to stay up and will remain pinned on at least my Tumblr page.

June 11th 2026 Update

The popsicle.cat.uwu.16 archive folder link died. If use of the folder is a problem, I prefer hearing it from Saveraedae themselves, until then I have my own copy of the archive linked up above, the original link is here but it doesn't go anywhere:

https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1T2HmYMwAicjpn5QNbHBXd1N44ApC2J_I

This is available for Archival Purposes Only, these are merely proof that Pawkettes is lying in their document. Do not use these as proof that they behave like this now.

Character Ownership

Serious topics involving Child Sexual Abuse Material and Consensual Non-Consent Kinks will be discussed here. It is very important to me that you read this while paying attention to the Dillweed+Pawkettes Interactions folder as I reference it several times.

I'm going to take this time before I get into this document to explain what I mean by Consensual Non-Consent:

There are multiple mentions of a "Rape Kink" or "Rape Fantasy" throughout, and in the context of what I make, such a blunt explanation is both kind of crass and not fully accurate. I want to give my thanks to my sister for actually having the words to explain this. I didn't at the time because there's simply no way I can explain something if I don't know how to explain it.

Consensual Non-Consent (abbreviated from here on as CNC) is between consenting partners and is essentially roleplaying the act of Non-Consensual Sex. It's typically used as a coping mechanism, and as long as both parties consent and take care of each other, it is perfectly safe.

No, I do not condone Rape, that is a very conscious, despicable act that is, in it's entirety, completely unjustifiable in any way. I don't find joy in the topic, I don't think it's appropriate, and I don't go about my day thinking about Rape at all.

Now, that explanation doesn't fully whisk away my own mistakes.

With the definition of what CNC content is, what I made falls under that more than straight up Rape.

I had made CNC Content involving Melon. Typically when I make it I do so with my own characters because doing so with other peoples' characters is, well, that's wrong. Problem is, Melon wasn't made by me, that does make Pawkettes's reactions make a little more sense, but as I explain not only were they actually perfectly fine with what I made, they fully enjoyed it and never once explicitly told me to stop, not until they had already decided they were done with me.

This took place over ten days. I sent the first 'thing' on September 3rd, gradually slowed down my sending of it and sent the last on Sept 13th and when I noticed she wasn't talking about it or wanting more, I stopped. It feels weird sending porn to someone who doesn't enjoy it.

Regardless of any genuine full ownership I had of Melon, I had and continue to have no intention of releasing any NSFW content of any kind that I've made with Melon at all. That was privately shared between me and Pawkettes, and I'm not willing for it to be shared at all with anyone else.

I'm hoping Pawkettes cares about my consent in regards to this, at least.

Alright time to be funny again.

Character Ownership Situation (because you didn't know who the characters or the person in this document were.)

TRIGGER WARNINGS

Mentions of mentions of nsfw content, (NSFW, Mentions of CSAM, and rape)

I do not encourage harassment, death threats or anything that can lead someone in danger, im only here to spread my peace and nothing else

Trigger Warnings

Mentions of Mentions of Mentions of Mentions of NSFW Content, like the CNC Art I thought was hot until it wasn't, and mentions of CSAM that shouldn't have been made public because it has nothing to do with me, Pawkettes, but oh well!

I do not encourage harassment, death threats, or anything that can lead to someone being in danger, I'm only here to SAY MY PIECE and nothing else, and by say my piece I mean I won't actually get into detail about how I acted because it would make me look like a hypocrite!

Who is Dillweed and why is this document about him?

created this document because it's very important to share regarding what has happened to 2 of my characters(Melon and Canta) as they've been the ones people know most by. Regardless of what you think of me, I will not stand by behaviour like this. This has been in development for a long time and I have prepared to come forward to speak against this person.

Dillweed (@dillweedlmao) on Twitter(and dillweedge on ToyHouse and Bsky) is an FNF modder and involved in the Pokemon and is now an ex friend of mine(I Don't want to explain who he is in detail as he has nothing to note in general)

I've created this document because it's very important to me that I share what happened to 2 of my characters you have probably never seen before (Melon and Canta) as they've been the ones people know me most by [sic], even though I've now only posted about them a single time and nobody actually seems to like them.

Regardless of what you think of me, which wouldn't be anything because I didn't tell you what it is I did, I will not stand by behaviour like this. This document has been in development for maybe 4 minutes and I am secretly completely unprepared to actually come forward and speak up about this vile person who ruined my life.

Dillweed on Twitter, ToyHouse and Bsky (Dillweed only uses Bsky anymore) is an FNF modder who is involved in the Pokemon [sic] and is now an ex friend of mine. I was friends with him for almost 4 years and he has nothing to note about him which is why I made this entire document about him, as opposed to me who never talks about anything I like or do in my day, I probably don't even have hobbies outside of art but I'll never tell you!

What went wrong, how the situation was approached

On December 31st 2022, I transferred ownership of Melon and Canta through Toyhouse because I thought I built a genuine trust for me to take care of them, however the first flags started to form. The first red flag I missed was him mischaracterizing Melon, which is essentially not a big deal at first, until it was pointed out to me that he erased Melon's lesbianism (which was something I always put on her) and made her flirt with men, this slowly snowballed into me finding out deplorable things about him.

On December 31st 2022, when I decided to run away from the fact that I sent porn to minors, I transferred my ownership of Melon and Canta through Toyhouse to Dillweed because I thought I built a genuine trust between me and him to let him take care of my characters, and for 3 years I watched him make all kinds of art for what became HIS characters and I supported him throughout because I thought what he made was really cool. Until one day when a Red Flag was pointed out to me, which was him mischaracterizing a character who didn't belong to me anymore. He temporarily changed Melon's sexuality from strictly Lesbian to Bisexual and then didn't even make any actual content with her being bisexual, and even though I told him that Melon was his character and I wouldn't get in the way of any changes he made because Melon belonged to Dillweed, this slowly snowballed into me finding out just how horrible a person Dillweed is and how much I truly hate him.

Below: A completely serious tweet to show you how much he HATES lesbians!!!

And more of him ERASING Melon's lesbianism:

AS OF 10/24/25, DILLWEED HAS AGREED TO REDESIGN CHARACTERS.

"I don't know how much you give a fuck about characters or not, but Melon and Canta are forever out of my hands. I don't even want to so much as look at either of them anymore." -Dillweed on closure and character rights.

Which is insane to say about a character that literally solidified Paw's artist journey. 😞 Of course Paw still cares about these characters???

AS OF OCTOBER 24TH, 2025, DILLWEED DID NOT AGREE TO REDESIGNING THE CHARACTERS BUT I'M GOING TO TELL YOU HE DID ANYWAY

"I don't know how much you give a fuck about characters or not, but Melon and Canta are forever out of my hands. I don't even want to so much as look at either of them anymore." -Dillweed on simply wanting Pawkettes to talk to him because they're both adults and he wants closure for something he felt was unfair because he's EVIL AS FUCK!!!

What a completely insane thing to say to someone who sent porn to minors about a character who matters more to her than any of her friends. Of course Paw still cares about these characters because they refuse to truly acknowledge their past or what Melon represents as a part of her own life, that being how miserably she was treated and how terribly she handled her trauma.

Dillweed and inappropriate use of oc after transfer. (Prior to 10/24/25)

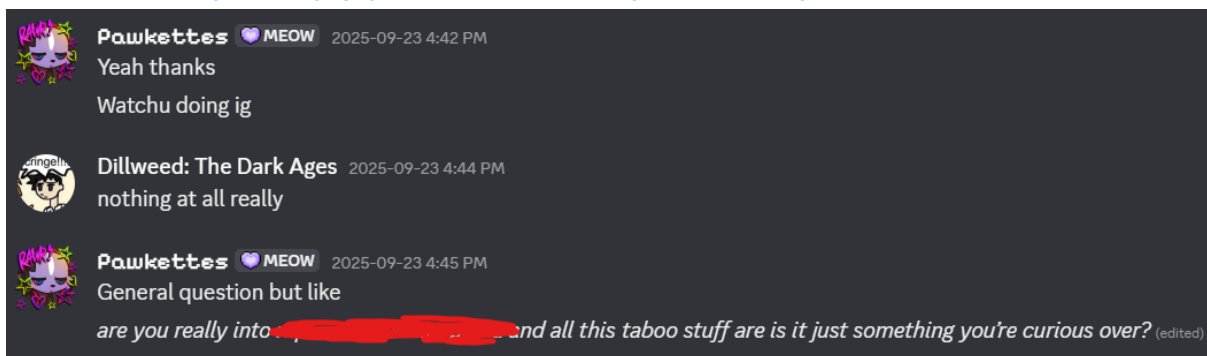

Paw's witness of inappropriate useage

When I first saw the images of rape imagery he did of Melon I was initially under the impression that it was something that was eventually going to stop and change. To be clear I believe in recovery and adults who have paraphiliac fantasies who know that's wrong, not act and get help are valid and I have nothing against them. HOWEVER, as months pass I genuinely have a suspicion that he does not condemn them so I asked Dillweed, if he actually liked these kinds of things? And to my discomfort, I got this response.

When Dillweed first asked if it was okay if he could send me CNC imagery and I consented to seeing it, I was under the impression that it was going to be something I could use as dirt against him so I could justify my true ownership of my Cat OCs.

To be clear I do not believe in recovery, and adults who have paraphiliac fantasies are all awful people and should die instead of ever feeling like they can reach out to anyone ever, so as the almost 3 weeks that I'm going to say are Months passed I finally realized I have an opportunity to strike and get my beloved Pink Cat back, so I asked Dillweed for the first time since we began interacting if he liked these things, and since I'm the only person he's ever told this to, he didn't have the right words because he's never talked about this before and has never shared this with anyone and he gave me a response to my dismay (joy (because I want my OCs back, you see.)).

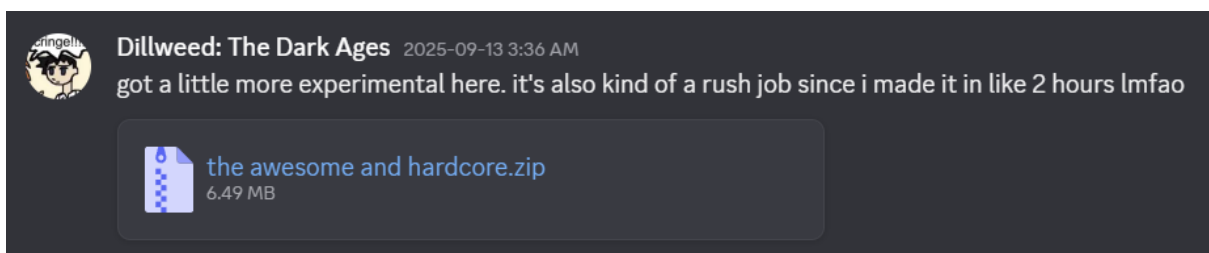

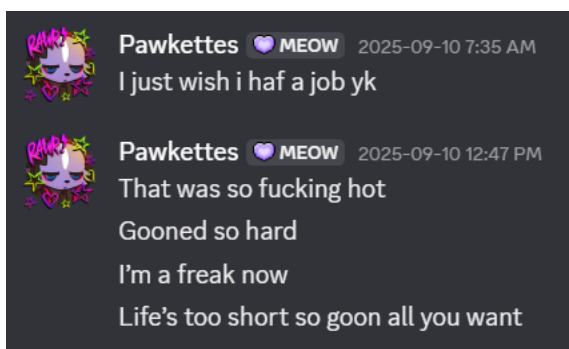

(i'm not actually giving you guys my response, fuck off, i'm not gonna stand by outdated words)
(no I don't enjoy it, yes i'm able to live a perfectly fine life because I don't support this kind of thing at all and it never actually affects my life, yes i'm ashamed about it and even more so now that she's just said this shit out loud, and i'm only this angry about it because rather ironically she didn't care about my consent or opinion on sharing this despite my many concerns about her consent, to which she consented to seeing more. Please look at the Dillweed + Pawkettes interactions folder for reference.)

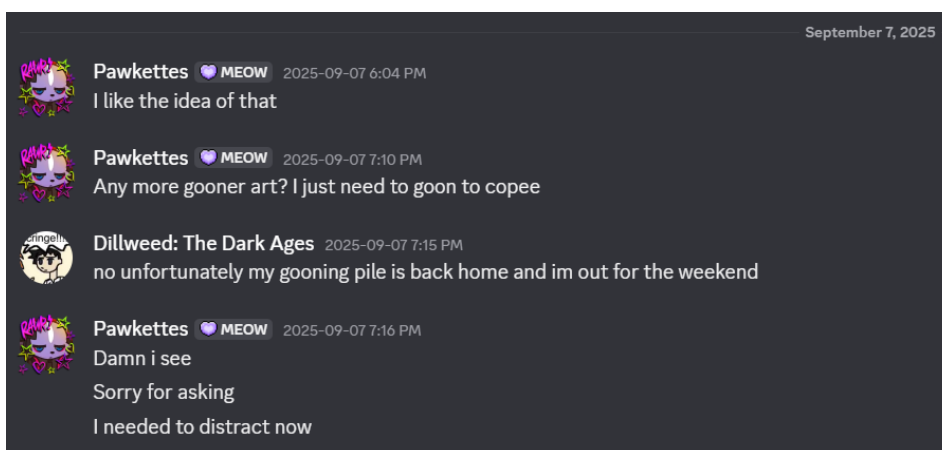

"Dillweed's use of Watermelon the cat (character) was extreme, suggestive and violent. To do this when someone trusted you with a character that once represented a mascot is unnerving. This kind of misuse directly harms Pawkette's reputation as a creator wanting to regain back their rebranding, as audiences may associate the OC with material Paw would never represent.

Dillweed has known Paw since they were a chronically online minor. Back when users online were actively encouraging and suggestive artwork of Watermelon out of Paw. To know the significance of the character, the history and content of it— and still go on to create a sick fantasy of it is beyond me. There is no reason Dillweed should have a problem to completely change the character so it's unrecognizable out of basic respect. Continuing to use the image of Watermelon will get you a dm. Paw taking back ownership of this character shouldn't be a conversation because it's the bare minimum."

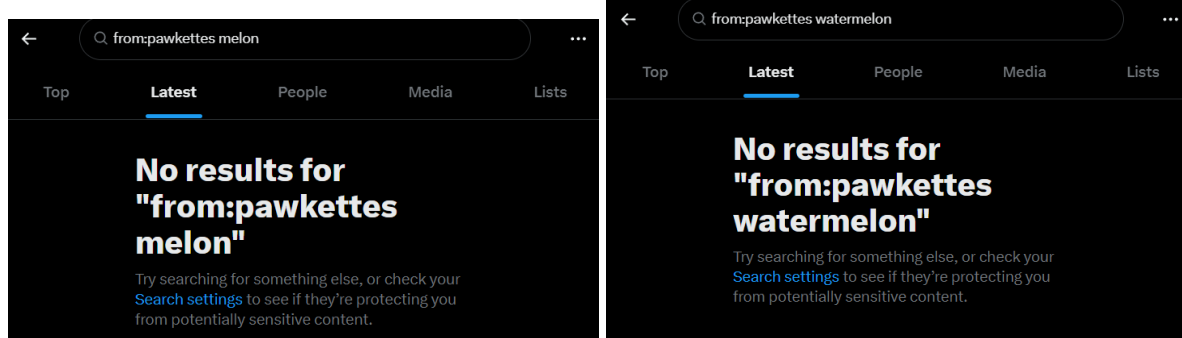

Dillweed's use of Melon The Character was extreme, suggestive, violent, and perfectly okay by Pawkettes until she stopped talking about it which is when Dillweed stopped sending anything. (below is the last time she explicitly reacted, and the next and last time I sent anything. They never said anything at all and I don't want to send 20 messages that aren't related to this topic.)

To do this with a character you own because the person who made it says you own that character and then send this imagery to them and they approve of it and want more of it until they don't and you respect their boundaries is unnerving.

This kind of misuse of one's own character that was given to them directly harms Pawkettes's reputation as a creator, even though only two people in the world knew about this stuff before Pawkettes decided to just post it online publicly, and audiences may associate the OC with material Paw would never represent because Melon was not Pawkettes's OC anymore and therefore are entirely incapable of doing so because Melon might as well not exist in the Pawkettes sphere, even now when she owns them again because she barely ever posts about them at all.

Dillweed has known Paw since they were a chronically online minor, and while he didn't know that users online were actively encouraging Pawkettes to draw sexual imagery of Melon or about the sending porn to minors, he knew this was happening. To know the significance of the character, which he does because I said so, and still going on to create a completely private sick fantasy of it that Pawkettes liked watching is beyond me.

There is no reason Dillweed should have a problem with completely changing the character so it isn't the character anymore even though Melon belonged to him entirely because Pawkettes said so. Continuing use of the Melon character will get you a DM from somebody who probably wasn't told Melon actually fully belonged to Dillweed during this time period. Paw taking back ownership of this character shouldn't be a conversation because Pawkettes directly said that she wished to rid herself of her previous identity so her use of Melon is completely pointless and goes directly against her wishes of leaving her past behind.

(if you want my honest opinion, this character should no longer exist, period. Move the fuck on, make something else, I don't know.)

Character Ownership Document

Him breaking off the friendship by saying that we needed a little time apart and that if I was okay with not being friends then we're not friends but it was all him because I said so:

And then instead of talking to him like I had any kind of responsibility to respect someone, I ran away from my problems because that's the only thing I'm good at. If I have to confront something I'm not comfortable about then I would sooner just fucking die or something I don't know.

When I confronted him about everything I had seen and how uncomfortable I was, he started to throw a fit and I was in shock, there was no point answering him as it's just going to escalate to self victimisation so I blocked him and moved on. Months later when I was on holiday I checked my DMs on Bsky(I am in a country where ID is mandatory for DMS in Bsky hence why I wasn't able to check earlier) and was greeted with this. He got even more pissy and proceeded to act like I abandoned him when HE BROKE IT OFF FIRST- I even tried to give him a tiny bit of grace. He even tried to compare his recent actions to my actions as a child (it makes no sense and) and tried to get mad at me over my suicidal ideations(At the time I was legitimately feeling awful, which I only tell to people I trusted) Even though he supposedly does want to talk to me he still proceeds to do it anyway which im just dumbfounded about.

When I realized that this was my chance to take my OCs back and I told him how uncomfortable I was, he started to throw a fit because he's just given me 3 weeks worth of ammunition and I have a history of making documents about people who I don't like and I was in shock even when he told me that he never loses friends like this and my lack of any kind of response was making him extremely scared and anxious that I was gonna leave him for good after he's just given me the JUICIEST details on someone one could be given! There was no point answering him because I won and I got my OCs back, so I blocked him and ran away from my responsibilities of actually talking to people and letting them know that I was uncomfortable or anything.

Months later when I was on holiday I checked my DMs on Bsky and was greeted with him trying to actually talk to me one full month after I hadn't said a word to him.

All I ask is that you give me acknowledgement that you have read this. After which you can do whatever the fuck you want. I believe I made you feel unsafe and I'm genuinely very sorry and I really regret ever bringing up the topic of the model. I really do mean it when I say that I made a genuine mistake in believing you would be okay with what I made. While I think you should've been more clear and obvious about your boundaries, I still should've taken your 'iffy' and just not done anything with it. I think that's legitimately been a really good lesson for me to learn and I legitimately do thank you for the time we spent together, it's taught me a lot about myself and how I talk to people. In the past few weeks my urges for that kind of content has seriously died down a lot more. I've been talking more with other people and I've certainly felt a little nicer. I do miss having someone like you to just vent to, but I've been able to manage just fine. but I, personally, do not like feeling like you've just fully abandoned me after I had your back for over three years because you were in A PEDOPHILE RING. you sent porn to KIDS. I don't give a shit this was years ago, you can't ungroom kids, and kids won't forget such vile nasty shit. I'd bet if I found Ringo, he would ABSOLUTELY get stirred right back up about you. What we both did wasn't good but my mistakes are nowhere NEAR the same caliber as your fuck up, I do not like that you are treating me worse than I treated you.	Over three years. I made sure your transition to Pawkettes went as smoothly as it possibly could've been just so you could get your second chance at being an internet micro celebrity. I even gave you pointers and tips so people wouldn't instantly see you as a PEDOPHILE GROOMER, dude. Do you even remember WHY you rebranded? very disappointed you most certainly didn't take enough time away from the internet after that, by the way. That tells me you don't actually understand how bad what YOU did was. I don't think this is transactional, but I at least would like if you actually SAID 'I don't think we should be friends anymore' instead of wordlessly throwing me out like street trash. Ultimately, I'm incredibly upset because, one more time, almost four fucking years out of the window. I don't lose friends or family often, so this hurts me a shit ton, but I want to just at least make sure this doesn't just go down nuclear style. It is going down, though. Outside of this situation you have been extremely stressful with your suicidal ideations and whatnot. I'm getting professional help. If at all possible, you should too. I don't know how much you give a fuck about characters or not, but Melon and Canta are forever out of my hands. I don't even want to so much as look at either of them anymore. Pumpka's absolutely mine, though. Do not touch her. Do not make alternative versions of Pumpka the same way I will not be doing so with Melon. As a side note, I would personally prefer you delete the Blender models I made. The ones I DIDN'T make, eh. Do whatever. After this is over, I never want to talk to or about you again. That being said, any questions, feel free to ask.

(My wording has always been utterly miserable, but for the context of these DMs, I had spent a full month without a single word from her, which is bizarre for somebody who used to talk to me every day. I was anxious and extremely scared and I was not in the right head space. She continued to not say a word to me, and hasn't said a thing to my face ever since September 23rd.)

Fuck, what an asshole, am I right? Here I am having won the battle and owning OCs that I post once every time the planets align when this DOUCHE-NOZZLE shows up and acts like I abandoned him when all I did was said I was a little uncomfortable for the first time in all of our conversations over the last four fucking years, leave 20 minutes later, and didn't say a single word to him for a month because I hate doing anything I find uncomfortable even if it's making myself a better person. He even tried to compare his making taboo content with his own OCs to my sending porn to minors like what I did can even be compared! I look like a saint next to him. Then he made a point about him being upset that I was not actually growing as a person and was having self destructive thoughts and tendencies for years that I never got better with because Being Better means Admitting When I'm Wrong, and I'm NEVER wrong. I was so dumbfounded because none of my friends care about me unless they're worshipping me and telling me I'm right!

(I'm reading back my dms to Pawkettes oh wow I actually fucking hate Pawkettes so fucking much holy shit you know you're allowed to talk to people right? You're an adult, that's what adults do, you're not fuckin 14 anymore, it's time to use your grown up words with the people to their face. Holy shit, dude.)

Hey, Dillweed interruption.

In the middle of writing, I actually confronted Pawkettes about the document, the whole thing. Yeah not the shitty little one question and then I leave forever.

(okay that entire last part sucks, I would buy her story if I only saw these messages.)

I felt like this whole fuckin document was kind of unfair because I know how she acted and messaged me and it was nothing like how she's saying it is, something about her lacking honesty, I don't know it's late, and while she didn't respond (are you or I surprised? Don't answer, no we're not.) I come back to my PC later and I find this!

EDIT: as of April 2026, I made a few edits regarding this document so it's solely focused on him and nothing else. Everything that mentioned everyone else has been removed, thank you for understanding.

Every part after that last section was removed. Interesting. Cool!

You only get my thanks, that's information that did not need to come FROM YOU and I had better hope that this is the last time you do this to fucking anybody. If it brings you any of the comfort you don't deserve, his sentencing came and went, you don't get details, last time I gave you those you believed I defended pedophiles or something. Stupid.

None of that will be removed from this one, it deserves the mocking it will be getting, it should be framed up on my wall. This little move is not enough for me. This response is literally "Nuh-uh! No I didn't!!" fuckin sucks.

THIS PART IS NO LONGER IN THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENT

So of course I need to say something else to make myself look like a true hero, and what better way to do that then to talk about even more of this lunatic's private details! I'm such a good person. Here's information that has nothing to do with Melon, or me, and is purely here so that I can say I'm the better person.

The biggest Elephant in the room is the defense of his brother(Which was CONVICTED OF POSSESSING CSAM AS HE HAD A WARRANT) He was initially very stressed and mad about it which I was willing to comfort him as friends do. TO BE CLEAR I DO NOT HATE PEOPLE WITH PEDOPHILIC THOUGHTS WHO WANT TO SEEK HELP OR THERAPY, THE PROBLEM IS THAT HE(his brother) ACTED ON THOSE URGES INSTEAD OF REPORTING THESE IMAGES TO THE AUTHORITIES. He is an ADULT, and CHARGED as ONE, being groomed does not make you do the same thing as your abusers as an adult, you are responsible for your own actions and the fact he was given less time as deserved irks me. Dilweed argues that he didn't directly harm anyone, which is true, HOWEVER it's still a crime to posses CSAM Material, and getting help for it isn't going to absolve you from said crime. I am still disgusted the fact that he and his family, is lenient of predators(especially since he told me he has younger siblings) and the fact he uses the "family" excuse makes me sick. Family should not make you defend convicted pedophiles, Loving them regardless of their pedophilic actions is disgusting. They should be SHAMED, NOT CODDLED. I initially had empathy because I felt bad that he it was the only source of connection as I was extremely isolated at the time too, HOWEVER looking back, this should've been the final straw the broke the camels back and a gut feeling to cut this guy off.

The biggest elephant in the room is the fact that Dillweed loves his Older Brother! (His older brother was arrested for possession of Child Sexually Exploitative Material and bringing up this part of this guy's life completely unwarranted for no fucking reason will SURELY make you agree with me!) He was very stressed about it, so I was willing to pretend to care about him, because apparently friends do that or something. I don't hate people with pedophilic thoughts who want to seek help or therapy, except I do and I hate them all. He is an adult and is being charged as one, being groomed does not make you do what your abusers did to you to other people. No, wait please don't look at the popsicle cat folder- nooo that completely disproves this sentence. nooooo.... You are responsible for your actions, unless you're me, then you can do whatever you want as long as you pretend you cared!

Dillweed argues that he didn't directly harm anyone, which is true, HOWEVER it's just as much of a crime to possess Child Porn as it is to send Porn to Minors, and I haven't done anything like that at all!

I'm going to pretend he said that his brother didn't do anything or didn't deserve to go to jail, and I won't press on this further by actually asking him questions like "do you think he deserves to go to jail?" because being reasonable SUCKS and I'm already so good!

The fact he cares about his family makes me sick, because I guess I just hate my family or something I don't know? Why aren't we understanding the family thing, is she an only child?

Sorry, Family should not make you say that your brother is rightfully getting the help he needs and the jail time he deserves for his crime, they should be SKINNED AND BURNED ALIVE, not SUPPORTED THROUGH THEIR SEXUAL TRAUMA!!!! I initially pretended to have empathy because if I didn't he might make me look bad on Twitter Dot Com even though he has no reason to and apparently he was my only source of connection, this seems like something I should've brought up earlier but I won't change anything because I'm always right, but looking back I should've told the whole world that this man defends pedophiles and thinks they did nothing wrong even though that's not what he said. This guy is a real mess, huh?

Conclusion+thoughts

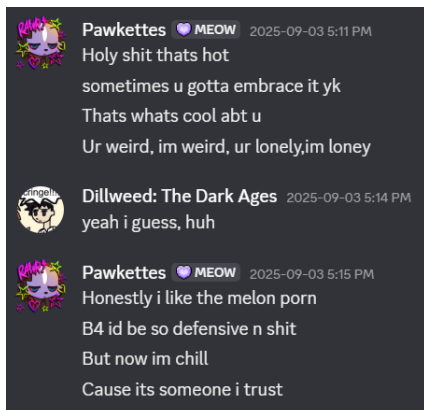

Writing this document was a hard thing to swallow, not because of revealing myself but because of the betrayal and trust that was slapped with all because of clear boundaries. This person chose A CONVICTED PEDOPHILE AND RAPE FANTASY over genuine friendship, I gave this person TIME AND TRIED TO GENUINLEY EMPATHISE WITH THEM JUST TO BE TALKED DOWN TO AND BLAMED FOR BEING UNCOMFORTABLE. I do not want people to think I knowingly give out my ocs to people like this, and defend these sorts of things. I do not want to interact with people who wish to defend him over this, and please block and never interact with me if this is the case.

In other news, Melon and Canta are back in my hands and will be kept forever, I do not plan to sell them no matter how much money you throw at me. I own them now and all copyright belongs to me. Dillweed gave up the ownership so I am taking the opportunity to reclaim what was lost.

Writing this document was so easy because I don't care, I feel betrayed that Dillweed cared about me in a way that didn't involve coddling me and making me feel like I did nothing wrong, and the boundaries I made clear were broken because I didn't make my boundaries clear except I did because I said so.

This person chose FAMILY and CARING ABOUT MY CONSENT over the WORSHIPPING I NEED TO LIVE. I gave this person absolutely no hints at all that they were upsetting me and when I got upset, he got upset because I didn't tell him I got upset until I got way too upset because I don't know what setting boundaries actually means!

I do not want people to think I knowingly give my OCs to people like this even though I did exactly that. I don't want to confront anything that makes me uncomfortable, I'm too scared, give me my Pink Cat With Huge Tits or I will die. Block me and don't interact with me if you think I'm in the right and he's the big wrong stupid bastard.

In other news: GUYS LOOK I GOT MY TOYS BACK, YESSSS!! No, you don't get to have them, they're MINE. They're so mine- In fact they're so mine that I own their copyright! Dillweed gave up ownership- Oh, fuckin okay we know what ownership means right at the end, fuck me, so I'm taking my toys back, thank you very much!

Conclusion+thoughts

Dillweed, If you're reading this, I will not delete the doc, no matter how many scare tactics and past bullshit you dangle over my head, I will not delete it and even if you do somehow take it down, it will circulate everywhere. No matter how many times you DM me, You will always be blocked because frankly, I am not giving you the satisfaction of twisting my words. I will never talk to you again, so pry into my life all you want, I will move on and enjoy whatever life has to offer whilst you'll waste your time typing like you're Sephiroth from the Final Fantasy Games. The thought of basic boundaries disgusts you so much, because why?(I don't know) I have no interest interacting with you ever again, whether it's your friends or people close to you. Now Leave me alone.

Dillweed If you're reading this, I will not delete this document full of info that makes you look like a Soyjak while I make myself look like the Chad, and no matter how many actual points you make about how awful a person I've been and continue to be, you won't get the satisfaction of me finally doing something productive like getting help for my horrible mental state. No matter how many times you simply want to talk to me you will always be blocked because frankly, I just fuckin' hate you. I won't give you the satisfaction of using my literal exact words that I say and tell people as proof that I'm not a genuine or honest person. I will never talk to you again because I don't need more details about how much of a liar I really am getting out there, I will move on and enjoy whatever life has to offer me, by the way I, Pawkettes aka WatermelonTheCat aka popsiclecatuwu16, sent porn to minors. while you waste your time typing away like you're Henry from Freddy Fazbear's Pizzeria Simulator. The thought of basic boundaries is something you've done nothing but respect and then I started throwing accusations at you and basically calling you a Rape Fetishizer, because why? (My ragebait is working!) I have no interest in interacting with you ever again, but will be leaving this document up that has no information about me because I intentionally didn't include it, whether it's your friends or people close to you who I don't know because I've never actually asked who any of your friends are because I don't care about you as a person.

Now let me say I did nothing wrong and live in denial in peace!

Also I'm WatermelonTheCat and popsiclecatuwu16 and I sent porn to minors.

(okay so, maybe not the best move to include this part because it's literally brand new and it makes me look way too obsessed, but of fuckin course I'm going to be obsessed, I'M OUT HERE GETTING FRIED while she's pretending she didn't do things she LITERALLY DID. What the hell ever.)

Dillweed's Addendum

What a ride these 4 years have been. Sorry for dropping the funny here.

None of this has been regretful for me, as I've come to find out. Shit happens. All we truly have to do when life throws it's worst at us is to. Live. To know where we went wrong and to take accountability where it matters.

I gave Pawkettes so much leeway to just be mature about anything at all, whether it's their own past or our interactions, and each time they've proven to me that that's not what they want.

Making a document entirely about me so that they can feel better about taking their characters back, THAT'S sickening, especially when they've used information I gave to them because I was confiding in them as a friend. You don't use that shit in a public smear document, not when you've done worse things. You lose that privilege.

And a genuine thank you for removing the parts about my family, that was 100% uncalled for and is the sole reason I pursued you about this silly document in the first place. I said it earlier and I will say it again, That is NOT information for you to be telling a bunch of people to make me look bad. I will not stand for someone attacking me for my family values.

I'm very much hoping to put this era of my life away for good. Working on whatever this is was genuinely so fun and I loved it but I really genuinely hope this reaches the right ears, maybe those of one who CAN help Pawkettes. This is not information that only I can sit on, especially when the person who's guilty is pretending they didn't do anything wrong.

What's done is done, but if you ignore that it happened at all, it'll only rot you from the inside and make you look so much worse than you might intend. It's never too late to just accept the past, but that doesn't mean that what you did was right.

Accepting someone for what they did doesn't mean you accept what they did as a good thing. I didn't try to defend what I did, cuz yeah, I fucked up, I made a miscalculation based on information that wasn't given to me and made decisions based on that miscalculation.

I mean it when I say that Melon and Canta should be laid to rest. These characters have only gone through bad time after bad time in relation to Pawkettes's actions and reputation, and in their current state with their full histories, I don't think they're worth having around for Paw's sake. I'm not gonna bother Pawkettes for using them at all after this, genuinely it's out of my hands, but their continued use goes directly against their own wishes to essentially banish their past. If you want my opinion, Pawkettes should not be touching the characters just out of principle. The mere use of Melon alone is disrespectful, as it implies Paw does not care about their past or about moving on or changing at all. Evidently they don't, but still! Ownership comes with recognizing when a character is appropriate to keep and use, only one of us knew to quit.

Quitting isn't losing.

Tell me if I'm overanalyzing, I could be, but this is incredibly disrespectful, and not to me.

I think Pawkettes legitimately doesn't see why either.

The character of Melon represents Pawkettes when they were at their worst. Melon was essentially a front for them when they, again, were sending porn to minors and directly helping a group of pedophiles get in contact with and groom children.

When I found out about how serious this actually was years after the character was given to me (because Pawkettes had never discussed with me the full extent of what they actually did), I felt I had no choice but to rid myself of this character. Pawkettes denying anything happened is proof they do not care.

It felt disrespectful to continue using Melon, not because she wasn't my own original character, but because her past is so miserable that I couldn't keep her because that would make me feel incredibly guilty.

I fought alongside her against her own victims, and now that I've taken far too long to think about it, there's no way I can be okay with that. If there's some small chance that you're reading this and I defended WatermelonTheCat to push you away, I'm legitimately sorry. That can't feel good in any way and it's very disappointing to me that it took her throwing me away to finally see what you saw.

I wanted so badly to write a genuine apology to Pawkettes. I hold the time I spent with her very dearly. But this document, the whole thing, it isn't about me. It's about their fucking Cat OCs. This isn't about getting me to recognize my faults, it's not about me being a bad person, from the title to the original conclusion section, this was always about their OCs.

I don't think I can actually accept that Pawkettes thinks so little of me that instead of talking to me, they would rather tear me down and make me look like a horrible person to their audience, their friends, so they can justify their use of an OC that nobody earnestly cares about anymore.

That tells me more than I needed to know. And I still wrote her one anyway.

For what it's worth, if you are reading this, Pawkettes, I'm sorry I disrespected your boundaries and made you especially uncomfortable near the ends of September and October.

I made mistakes the whole way through and we likely wouldn't be going through whatever this is if I simply hadn't shown you anything like that at all. That wasn't my best move in any way and I've learned quite a lot from these decisions and discussions. I'm still regretting what I did months later because, honestly? I should've recognized that this wasn't a good thing to do.

But the fact is that you also made mistakes.

You did not set your boundaries appropriately, you did not tell me that what I was doing was wrong, you kept relying on me for comfort with your serious problems when you NEED to talk to somebody who's JOB it is to do that, you ran away from having any kind of genuine discussion with me at every chance, you revealed private details about my family that I confided in you with because you were my friend, you shared very sensitive information about myself to make me look evil, and you didn't even come clean about any of your own wrongdoings. That last one is especially not how one becomes a better person, that's proof you're just as bad as you've always been, actually.

I really don't care what you do with your documents. Erase parts that make you look bad, put more stuff in there like anybody cares, whatever. I don't want you talking about me like that again. I have no qualms against retaliating with more information, just... as soon as I find it. You did a VERY GOOD job at scrubbing the internet of your past.

Bye and stuff.
