

bleach The “Ichigo & Rukia TT” WW Project

Hi, everyone.

This document tries to explain better for those who doesn't know yet what is the Ichigo & Rukia TT WW Project. We all want your help and today we really need you, ichiruki!

How it all began?

-> One day, me and other ichiruki friends were talkin' at twitter about the saddest and prettiest episode ever, and surely, you all know that we were talkin' about and is the chapter 423 of Bleach manga.

So the anime finally has come to the cliffhanger and we got the crazy idea that at the day that the animated episode would be airing, we would put “Ichigo & Rukia”, this expression exactly, at the twitter trending topics. But WHAT IS TT?! As it says, TT researches the most commented tags at twitter and we think and most important, WE BELIEVE that we'll got the TT WW.

Reaching TT WW means that our expression “Ichigo & Rukia” may reach the worldwide most commented tag, since we are being help by so many countries.

The episode date would be probably at 22th february. Some people says Ichigo would still be sleeping through fillers and the goodbye scene won't be airing that day, but it really doesn't matter. Our intention was already explained and even in the worst way the goodbye won't be shown at 310 episode, we don't have to worry. We keep the twitter the 22th day and so when it will be aired too.

So we need our help!

But let's keep the rules too!

Don't say anything bad about Ichihime, Orihime or her fandom. Please, people, we know Ichiruki rules we all have faith in our shipper. We don't need to detract Inoue's image and so, we wouldn't be happy if anyone talked bad stuff about our dear Rukia, right? So, let's make this a celebration! Let's not pick fights with Ichihimes, even if they bash us! We will do it and it will be awesome, so don't worry.

The TAG will start with the most far timezone from Japan.

So when you are in your country and your timezone says: It's midnight 22th february at Japan, COME ON! Let's write everything with the tag “Ichigo & Rukia” at twitter! No #, no Ichigo&Rukia , anyways, for us to reach faster with single one tag! ^__^

I count with everyone and I'm very happy that our project came to a great stuff like that.

We even adviced Kubo-sensei, Morita-sensei and Kudo-sensei, the last even answered when a friend, curious, asked when the episode would be airing and very kind he answered he couldn't say it, because it was a secret.

So, go, my ichiruki friends! ^__^ Let's spread ichiruki to the world!
And remember...

"I promise I will make you happy..."
