

Basics

- Name: Caleb Ode
- Species: Human (Mage)
- Age: 20
- Height: 5'9"

Background

- Origin Story: Caleb Ode is a young mage who had been studying under a sorceress named "Vivianne" since he was very young. His parents were both sorcerers, but one night, they both mysteriously disappeared, leaving Caleb in the care of his "aunt" and godmother, "Vivianne Endless". The "Lady of the Lake" (or "Nimue"), as she was referred to by her peers, did her best to raise the boy, though she had many troubles due to her lack of experience raising children. She raised him as she would an apprentice, though she did her best to give him the love he needed, in the absence of his real parents. Caleb has always done his best to take care of her and harbours no ill-will towards her, given how swiftly she took him in without a moment's hesitation. Caleb trained under her, earning five out of his seven stars for the Sorcerers' Society before being whisked away into the Devildom. To give him some sense of normalcy and let him make human friends, Vivianne enrolled him in ballet classes at a young age at Caleb's own request, a skill which Caleb still has to this day.

- Personality: Caleb is a bubbly, happy-go-lucky, expressive, extroverted young man who loves to go out. He can't stand being stuck in one place for too long and longs to leave buildings after more than an hour or so. Caleb loves to drag others out of the house with him as well, as he really likes to share his experiences. However, Caleb also has a calmer, more serious side that shows through whenever he is performing magic or performing ballet. Caleb also has a strong fear of being abandoned. This originates from knowing that his parents abandoned him as a child. He always did his best for Vivianne—even if it took a toll on his health—because he was afraid that she might leave him, as well. Caleb is aware of his mistakes, and panics when they're exposed to others, fearing that they might react badly and leave him. He's not the type to bite off more than he can chew; it's more that if he chews it wrong, rather than spitting it out, he'll choke.
- Relationships
  - Lucifer: Though the two of them had a rocky start, Lucifer and Caleb eventually grew to be good friends. Both of them share a tendency for perfection; Lucifer out of pride, Caleb out of fear. Both of them also care much for the family, and both of them have a serious side that comes about when work or studies arise. The two of them also have a shared fondness for magic and its study. They also share a fondness for music.
  - Mammon: Caleb has mixed feelings about Mammon. He is very critical of Mammon's spending habits, but is grateful to Mammon for taking care of him when he first arrived in the Devildom. When he later finds out about Mammon's undying loyalty to Lucifer during the Celestial War, his outlook on Mammon changes drastically, becoming impressed by Mammon's steadfastness and ability to support and mediate, though Caleb still does his best to keep Mammon's spending habits in check, notably by pulling his ear.
  - Leviathan: Caleb finds Leviathan interesting, to the point where Caleb would often stick around Leviathan. The two of them are very different, and that's what Caleb enjoys about their dynamic; Caleb whole-heartedly believes in the phrase "opposites attract". Leviathan has taught Caleb to slow down and enjoy life at a relaxed pace inside, while Caleb has dragged Leviathan outside to enjoy a more exciting side of life. The two compliment each other, with Leviathan leaning heavily into technology and Caleb leaning heavily into magic. Both are able to teach each other many things, and it is for that reason that Caleb often found himself calling on Leviathan first and foremost. The two of them are not completely different, however; both of them are proficient in sewing, and both of them are able to sit far apart in a room that's dead silent for long periods of time, and still enjoy the experience. They're also both cat people, and also both enjoy bufo-egg milk tea. They also both are notably quite obsessed with their specific interests, making a point to talk about it to anyone and everyone all the time. This mirror of passionate excitement for hobbies and franchises led to the two becoming very attracted to one another. Eventually, the two decided to just make it official and declare themselves in an official romantic relationship.

- Satan: Caleb relates to Satan's secret fear of being too normal, so the two get along alright. Caleb's serious outlook on studying and willingness to learn magic means that the two are able to discuss magic and read books together just fine. However, Satan can sometimes become frustrated at Caleb due to Caleb's erratic and explosive behaviour. The spontaneity makes it nigh-impossible to predict Caleb's moods and desires, which makes Satan both curious and ever-increasingly angry at not being able to predict Caleb's behaviour. Even worse, it seems that Leviathan can predict Caleb's behaviour perfectly, which also makes Satan kinda annoyed.
- Asmodeus: Caleb and Asmodeus get along well. Both of them enjoy going out, and both of them care a lot about their appearances. Caleb and Asmo often paint each other's nails, and Asmodeus has helped Caleb maintain his pink hair after moving to the Devildom, even giving it an "update" by switching Caleb's normal pink dye with a special dye that glows faintly in the dark and becomes luminous when the wearer casts magic. They can often be seen going shopping together, and Asmodeus is more than happy to purchase small accessories for Caleb here and there. Asmo is particularly fond of Caleb's personal visual motif of "swan lake", and ever since Caleb moved to the Devildom, has bought small swan-themed items to give to Caleb. Caleb similarly occasionally buys and gifts heart-shaped objects to Asmo.

- Beelzebub: Beel and Caleb have a funny relationship. Caleb thinks he likes to eat, but Beelzebub puts his appetite to utter shame. Both of them like exercising, though Beelzebub participates in more normal sports and exercise, while Caleb participates in things such as ballet and sword fighting. Similar to his relationship with Lucifer, Caleb's relationship with Beelzebub is also strong due to their shared love for the siblings. Caleb finds it funny that Beelzebub drinks potions, though it is also a point of concern.
- Belphegor: Though Caleb and Belphegor share many traits (enjoying white chocolate, loving relaxing piano music, enjoying nighttime stargazing, disliking "baby talk", etc.), Caleb resents Belphegor for manipulating him, and also for literally killing him at one point. Though Belphegor has tried his hardest to make up for these incidents (when he's awake, that is), Caleb is very disinterested in these attempts, having been scarred for the rest of his life by the memory of being suffocated to death, and of seeing his corpse. Caleb continues to hold Belphegor's murder against him, which can lead to fights among the two of them, which can further extend to the rest of the brothers. A lot of times, this ends with Caleb crying, though Belphegor "cries on the inside" a lot as well, and is especially hurt when Caleb calls him "heartless monster".
- Diavolo: Caleb and Diavolo get along surprisingly swimmingly. Though Diavolo can discern lies from truth, when Caleb lies in front of the Demon Lord, he gives Diavolo a wink, and Diavolo quiets himself to let Caleb either have his fun, or uphold responsibility by lying to (one, or all of) the Demon Brothers for the sake of maintaining tranquillity. Caleb also occasionally tries to mimic Diavolo's abilities—often ending in failure—much to his dismay, though when Diavolo finds him doing so, he offers to tutor the young mage. Despite Diavolo being more powerful than Barbatos, Caleb doesn't fear him, and often goes to visit him.
- Barbatos: Caleb maintains an amicable relationship with Barbatos, but fears his power. After the revelation that Barbatos can manipulate reality by establishing timelines, Caleb keeps Barbatos' immense power in mind at all times. However, Caleb tries his best not to do anything that would increase Barbatos' workload, which eventually led to Caleb learning to cook Devildom food. Caleb eventually discovered that Barbatos was proficient in ballet, and now occasionally meets with Barbatos to maintain both of their dancing abilities.

- Luke: Caleb enjoys teasing Luke, despite knowing full-well that Luke is an angel. His teasing is much less aggressive than the others', though, as Caleb tries his hardest to remember people's boundaries. He often seeks out Luke when he wants to bake sweets or tend to plants, though (the latter occurs when Caleb wants to make gifts).
- Simeon: Caleb finds Simeon to be someone he can always fall back on. Simeon seems to always have good advice for Caleb in dealing with the Demon Brothers, so the two are on good terms. Though, Caleb frequently finds himself having to help teach Simeon how to use his D.D.D.
- Solomon: Caleb is distrustful of Solomon due to the other brothers warning him not to trust Solomon, but gives him the benefit of the doubt due to Leviathan saying that Solomon is great, though he still attributes this to Solomon's enjoyment of "TSL". When asking Vivianne about him, his mentor only states to be wary of one who has lived so long.
- Vivianne: Caleb has a very positive attitude towards his mentor and caretaker, Vivianne. Though Vivianne has seldom been to the Devildom, she is familiar with the Royal Family and does her best to guide Caleb whenever they are able to make contact. Caleb tries his best to satisfy her requests so that she won't leave him, but she has assured him on several occasions that she would never do such a thing. Caleb is eternally grateful to her for taking him in after his parents left him.

Powers and Abilities

- Power Level: [Idol Level]
- Power Type: Due to having a "double dose of magic" from human Lilith and Merlin the Great, as well as pacts with the demon brothers, Caleb has extremely powerful magic that can even exceed that of Solomon's at full scale, though Caleb and Vivianne both admit that at full power, Caleb would lose control. Caleb already has five out of the seven stars needed for sorcerer certification, as he's been training under Vivianne for most of his life. Caleb is able to cast light spells with ease, and is well-trained in illusory magic. He is also proficient in music-based magic. He is versed in magical healing methods, and is also able to levitate and fly. After moving to the Devildom, Caleb became more familiar and more proficient with curses and hexes. Caleb is also well-trained in most types of elemental magic.

However, Caleb's prime magical ability lies in potion making. From a young age, everyone around him noted Caleb's ability to mix potions and produce not just adequate, but exemplary results. In fact, the Applied Magical Potions class at RAD is Caleb's best subject, and Caleb considers it "extremely easy". Because of this, a running gag is that everyone at the House of Lamentation is wary of their drinks when Caleb serves them, though Caleb always reassures them that he doesn't tamper with their beverages.

Caleb is also proficient in using his pact powers, most notably with Leviathan. He can summon Leviathan with mere thought, and has a strong understanding of Leviathan's own magical abilities. To complement this specific power, Caleb learned master-level water magic, able to perform actions such as advanced hydrokinesis and walking on water.

Under Diavolo's tutelage, Caleb also learned how to manipulate time; Caleb can slow down the flow of time around himself for 15 seconds (in his own perception), allowing him to move extremely fast for 15 of his own seconds.

Caleb finds this ability very taxing and reserves it "only for dire situations".

Caleb's magic manifests itself as feathers, bird's wings, and stars. His magical aura is violet.

- Physical Capabilities: Caleb is incredibly flexible, able to do a full split on command. This stems from having been trained in ballet at a young age. Caleb is also strong enough to raise one leg completely vertically without holding it; this can also be attributed to Caleb's ballet. Caleb is also strong enough and fast enough to fight with a sword, though he admits that he is only decent at best and is not proficient by any means.
- Equipment: Caleb carries a double-edged shortsword with differing halves; half of the blade is rose gold, and the other half is silver. The hilt and the pommel are gold, and the hilt is notably inlaid with a purple gem. The centre of the blade is hollowed out. The sword was named "Evilbane" by Caleb's mentor, Vivianne; Vivianne also notably gifted him the blade.

Caleb also wears two necklaces: The first one is a single purple gem that is identical to a necklace that Vivianne wears. The second necklace is a chain of seven beads; the centre bead is orange to represent Leviathan, and the other six are colours relating to the other brothers. He also wears a ring on his index finger with a black gem, representing Diavolo, and his middle finger has a ring with a teal gem, representing Barbatos.

- Other Skills: Caleb's most notable skill is his knowledge and execution of ballet. Because of his strength and flexibility, Caleb is able to perform ballet steps with ease due to having begun his ballet training at a young age. Caleb is also proficient with a blade, even owning a sword as mentioned previously. Caleb has combined these talents and practised "sword dance" before as well.

Caleb's List of Spells
Name	Incantation	Description
Sword Call	"I claim my rightful place as son of Vivianne, slayer of monsters! Evilbane rests within my person, virtue lies within my hands!"  "Virtue lies within my hands!"	Causes Caleb's sword "Evilbane" to materialise near him.
Spell Reflection	"I reject this spell with all my heart, and send it back to its master! Begone, return! From whence you came!"	Reflects a spell back at its original caster.  One of Caleb's most proficient spells, practised to the point where Caleb

	"From whence you came!"	doesn't even require an incantation to cast it. He may use a shortened version of the incantation for extra power.
Temporal Deceleration	"Time is a guillotine, in which all hands point to the nearest death. Slow me now, and show me how eternity feels under the blade."  "Time is a guillotine."	Slows down time for 15 seconds within Caleb's own perception.  Developed alongside Lord Diavolo.
Summon a Demon	"Hear me, denizens of the darkness, you who are born of shadow and you who give birth to it. Hear me and do as I command! I, Caleb, call upon you to send forth one of your number! I summon the Avatar of Envy, Leviathan!"  "Leviathan!"	Practised without mercy. Caleb is very good at controlling the brothers with his pact powers when necessary, but tries not to when unnecessary.
Life Drain	"I see the end of all things within my iris, spiralling towards misfortune. I drag you now into the depths, awakening the world beyond."	...  (Slowly kills everything within a certain range)
Walk on Water	"I accept my role in the Swan Ballet, and grace the waters with my step."	Allows Caleb to walk and run on water. Can be deactivated at will. Because of how easy it is to cast, it can be cast silently.
Hydrokinesis	"Rising oceans, crashing waves. Emerald crests become binding forces holding down the shores."	Grants Caleb an immense proficiency increase for manipulating water.

	"Emerald crests hold down the shores."
Broken Heart Curse	"I bless you with a broken heart, to walk with someone worlds apart. To never sin and never love, and never meet your true beloved."	A curse used to ensure that a person never finds love. Caleb attempted to use this on himself after coming to believe that he would never find romance anyways.  Leviathan interrupted this spell before it could be finished.
Heal	"I bid farewell to all the pain in you, and welcome a better feeling. I'll sink the ship of bitter tears and drown you in my love. This spell is for you, as all things are, and all things will be. Let me take away your pain and heal you, a whisper in your ear."	Best cast in tandem with a corresponding spell circle... and a kiss.
Levitation and Flight	Spell Circle	Does not require an incantation. Allows Caleb to fly.
Light Spell	Spell Circle	Does not require an incantation. Creates light.
Illusion Creation	Spell Circle	Does not require an incantation. Allows Caleb to create incredibly immersive illusions.
Magically-Enhanced Music Manipulation	Spell Circle	Does not require an incantation. Does what it says on the tin.
Miscellaneous and Other Spells	Spell Circle	Caleb is a skilled mage who has more than enough magic in him and experience from Vivianne to learn and grow. The list above is only a small sliver of what he can do.
