

PLEASE READ to UNDERSTAND: this is to be printed from a printer that is front and back so when reading it outright before printing, the answer next to the question is not correct.

Check the header area to see the corresponding front and back.

i.e. "A front" is the question on page 1 and "A back" is the answer on page 2. So on and so forth...

Print instructions: Click print, Be sure your printer is set to color and print all pages.

Make sure you go into the advanced settings and go to the scale option.

Change it to custom and put in 150 so that it formats properly.

Under "two-sided", check print on both sides.

The drop-down box should be "flip on long edge".

DASSIT! Try a test page just to make sure its the same for your printer. If you have a front and back printer, you may have to manually flip the pages around based on your printer. DON'T ASK ME, ASK HP (or whatever printer you have lol)
