

Affinities: the different forms of magic. They are listed here by proper name, rarity, aspect, and domain. The domains of the affinities are the different sorts of things they can be used for. The world of Protea is replete with magic. Practically everyone, 'magical' or not, has an affinity determined by what 'touches' them, be it through ancestry, circumstance, or exposure. Physical fighters' might see their natural affinity brought out in their special Martial Arts; mages would have a knack for learning and developing spells that correspond to or include their affinity
