

Match the words to the sentences:

deed, envy, excitement, fabulous, friends,
motorcars, pardon, skins, toast, Year

Mole: Oh Look. They're all asleep.

MacBadger: Nay lads, they're drunk. They've been hitting the bottle.

Rat: But where's Winky?

Toad: There he is!

MacBadger: Shh! He's got the paper on him! We'll have to climb up on the balcony.

Mister Winky: The paper! It's gone! Hey! Get him, you blokes! Get him!

Rat: I beg your (1)_____!

Toad: Moley! Moley! Moley, over here! Egad!

Weasel: Get him!

MacBadger: After it!

Toad: Ohahaha. Just one more!

Mr. Winky: There he is! Get him!

Rat: Where's Moley?

MacBadger: Well, laddies, we saved our (2)_____, but we didn't get the (3)_____.

Toad: Ahem.

Rat: Well done, Thaddeus!

Rat, Mole, MacBadger: Hip, hip, hooray!

Song: Should old acquaintance be forgot...

Narrator: And so it was a happy ending, after all. Of course Toad's (4)_____ were dreadfully proud of him. And why not? He was a new Toad now, completely reformed, through with gypsy carts and (5)_____ for ever. And so, on this happiest of New Year's, a (6)_____ was in order.

MacBadger: To the New (7)_____ and

Macbadger, Rat, Mole: to the new Toad!

Toad: Hello, you fellows! Come! I'll show you the world.
Travel, change, (8)_____! Ahaha.

Narrator: And that was the fabulous Thaddeus Toad. But let's weigh our judgment carefully, we Moles and Rats and Badgers. Really now, don't we (9)_____ him a bit? Aha, I know I do. And so when we speak of fabulous characters, the most (10)_____ of all will always be, to me at least, the master of Toad Hall.

https://quizlet.com/\_25o9aa

the outer layer of a person or animal's body_____

used to say 'sorry' after you have done something rude_____

extremely good_____ a feeling of being very happy and enthusiastic_____ to wish that you had something that someone else has_____ used for saying 'sorry' when you have made a mistake or done something wrong_____

to protect yourself from danger or difficulty, without trying to help other people_____

Answers:

Mole: Oh Look. They're all asleep.

MacBadger: Nay lads, they're drunk. They've been hitting the bottle.

Rat: But where is Winky?

Toad: There he is!

MacBadger: Shh! He's got the paper on him! We'll have to climb up on the balcony.

Mister Winky: The paper! It's gone! Hey! Get him, you blokes! Get him!

Rat: I beg your pardon!

Toad: Moley! Moley! Moley, over here! Egad!

Weasel: Get him!

MacBadger: After it!

Toad: Ohahaha. Just one more!

Mr. Winky: There he is! Get him!

Rat: Where's Moley?

MacBadger: Well, laddies, we saved our skins, but we didn't get the (1)deed.

Toad: Ahem.

Rat: Well done, Thaddeus!

Rat, Mole, MacBadger: Hip, hip, hooray!

Song: Should old acquaintance be forgot...

Narrator: And so it was a happy ending, after all. Of course Toad's (2)friends were dreadfully proud of him. And why not? He was a new Toad now, completely reformed, through with gypsy carts and (3)motorcars for ever. And so, on this happiest of New Years, a (4)toast was in order.

MacBadger: To the New (5)Year and

Macbadger, Rat, Mole: to the new Toad!

Toad: Hello, you fellows! Come! I'll show you the world. Travel, change, excitement! Ahaha.

Narrator: And that was the fabulous Thaddeus Toad. But let's weigh our judgment carefully, we Moles and Rats and Badgers. Really now, don't we envy him a bit? Aha, I know I do. And so when we speak of fabulous characters, the most fabulous of all will always be, to me at least, the master of Toad Hall.