

Name: Roslyn Hart

Hero Name: Pixie

Age: 22

Height: 5' 2"

Weight: 132 lbs.

Eye color: Green

Quirk: Flies via fairy wings, a genetic trait passed down through the women in her family, can shrink in size, blows glitter (pixie dust) from her mouth with varying effects.

Drawback: Can only use one effect at a time. While smaller, she moves more quickly, but becomes more fragile towards damage. This form can only be held for a limited amount of time.

Appearance: Her eyes are a striking green and her hair is a vibrant ginger (and I mean actual orange/ginger, not red.) She has a pixie cut that's short in the back and longer on top, thick, but not curly. When specified that her hair is grown out, it's the same as her reference photo.

Her skin is fair and has a few freckles here and there, mostly her arms, shoulders, a light amount on her face, and one at the top of her right breast. She is busty and her build is athletic from years of taking dance , but she still has enjoyable curves in natural places that she just can't shake. She often wears red lipstick and a subtle pink or gold eyeshadow depending on her outfit. Her nails are well manicured and kept at a medium length and a curved shape for the tips. Unless specified otherwise, she keeps her nails polished red to match.

Her wings are such a light pink that they look almost white, all four (bigger on the top, smaller on the bottom) are shaped like hearts, the tips coming together in between the lower space of her shoulder blades. All of her clothing requires thin slots to put them through and when not in use she either shrinks them or keeps them tucked against her shoulders and sides.

Personality: She is mature and calm, though she isn't against being around others that are not. Despite the fact that she isn't hyper, she still enjoys having a bit of fun every now and again, although a small streak of anxiety puts a cap on the frequency of her outings. Her sweet disposition and nature makes her friendly until her mind is changed and naturally nurturing towards a friend in need.

Being born and raised into a working class family meant that she was taught to have a good work ethic, be level-headed and have a sharp eye. Though her temper is slow to build, there are still a few things that can set her off quickly, and she is a force to be reckoned with when she hits her limit.

Roslyn feels with her whole heart which is both a blessing and a curse. When she gets overwhelmed it doesn't take her long to either cry or go silent.

Background: Transferred from America to Japan for High School to attend U.A. Went onto open her own agency, specializing in avian and stealth tasks. More can be discussed during the plotting phase. She became close friends with Mina Ashido, Tsu and Jiro, all of whom she remains close to. They reminded her of her sisters back in the states whom she missed dearly. With a passion for dance, which she had taken from a young age, and arts and crafts, she hosted many fun sleepovers over the course of their schooling.

Likes: Fruity cocktails, all things girly (She's never caught without her nails done), dogs, flowers, cheesy romance novels and movies, b-rated horror movies

Dislikes: Overly spicy and sour foods (although she doesn't mind making them), bullies, liars and hypocrites, big crowds

Favorite colors: Pink, white and red

Hobbies: Gardening, dancing, baking, painting and scrapbooking

Fears: the dark, being alone, snakes and spiders, being rejected
