

RAID TEAM 2 Raid Team Info:

Hello MurFam! Welcome to Raid Group 2, affectionately known within the group as the "Murloc Party Bus". We are a casual raiding group that likes to work towards clearing content while having the most fun we can and we are looking for more to join our team!

We are friendly to new raiders and willing to coach/teach those new to this scene. We also like to banter and rib one another, a lot.

Schedule:

We are looking for dedicated players that can commit to Thursdays 10pm EST/ 8PM Server Time. We highly encourage being online and at the raid entrance by start time so we can at least start pulling trash. Raids run for 2 hours max. Maybe longer if all members agree to continue.

Rules:

We may be a very laid back group and banter quite a bit, but we do expect that if someone says they do not want to be the target of the banter and ribbing, that it's respected. We run with the 3 R's of Murlocs in Disguise. Respect, Rest and Reciprocity.

We value communication, so if you can't make a raid that's okay but please be clear in letting the raid leaders know so we can try and fill that empty spot.

While not required, we do suggest also having at least one raiding addon like DBM or Big/Little Wigs.

While we might be lax and chill as a group, we do not tolerate toxic behaviours.

Loot:

We currently run on a basic Need over Greed system, but this doesn't mean we accept people just needing everything that drops.

Going into Phase 3 we plan to do MS over OS and hash out any details if required on the fly. Ideally we hope that members will know what they need as an upgrade. However if you're not sure, ask. Renestrael can even help hook you up with a shopping list for your class/spec.
