- Petitioner: In a legal case, a petitioner is the person who brings a formal request or complaint to a court or other legal authority seeking a specific outcome or resolution. They're the one asking the court to take action or make a decision on their behalf.
- Respondent: In legal proceedings, a respondent is the person or party who responds to the petitioner's request or complaint. They are the party against whom the petition or complaint is filed, and they typically have the opportunity to answer or defend against the allegations or claims made by the petitioner. Essentially, the respondent is the party being sued or challenged in the legal case.
