Appearance

Personality

She is brave and determined. She is not afraid of going against powerful enemies even when she is outmatched. She is selfless and has a sense of responsibility. She puts the needs of others in front of her own. She is not demanding of any attention and does not prioritize herself above anyone else. She places value in her citizens and lives in her friends above own needs. She loves her country and will do anything to protect it. Is not afraid of doing tasks that are unsuitable for her class. She grew up knowing she was responsible for a country and one day she would rule it. She is very skilled with diplomacy. She is also very self-conscious about her lack of physical strength.

After the time skip she missed her time at sea and has an adventurous side she developed while being with the Straw Hat crew. She will not hesitate to stand up for someone.

Relationships

Straw Hat Pirates—(Friendly, highly respected, heroes) They saved Alabasta and she considered joining their crew. She unfortunately declined their offer and worked to restore her country. She still remains close to the Straw Hats and follows them in the newspaper despite the newspaper taking creative liberties with their articles.

Abilities & Powers

Vivi has known about her responsibility as a princess and is quite skilled with diplomacy. She knows what it means to be a princess and acts with wisdom beyond her years. An example is as follows: when she met the Straw Hat Pirates, she managed to persuade Zoro and Nami to protect her from the Baroque Works. She also managed to persuade Nami from charging her for their protection. She holds the ability to keep the more childish members calm, focused and motivated during their travels.

Vivi is capable of espionage and shows great skill in stealth. She is able to move about without getting detected. She managed to maintain her role as a princess and kept her past from the marines and World Government. She is able to hold her own in combat. Her weapons of choice are twirling Peacock Slashers. She is left-handed and capable of dual wielding. (More can be said from here.)
