Idioms

These are the idioms we have learnt so far:
1.-All the tea in China
2.-A tall tale/story
3.-Small talk
4.-A big noise
5.-Make ends meet
6.-a bitter pill
7.-a blessing in desguise
8.-to be at a loose end
9.-a close shave
10.-a rolling stone
11.- a jack of all trades
12.-to give someone the sack
13.-to give someone a lift

Now let´s do some practice.

COMPLETE THE SENTENCE WITH THE SUITABLE IDIOM

1.- I took odd jobs -telephonist, clerk and so on. Eventually, I just couldn´t .....and I had to go back home to get some support from my parents.
2.- His boss.....him .....for coming in late every morning
3.- He lost his job, but that turned out to be a.....because he has set up a business on his own and is doing very well.
4.-After I finished school I .....because due to my bad marks I didn´t enter any degrees.
5.- My father´s account of his adventures during the war sounds like a collection of ..... but most of them are actually true

WRITE EXAMPLE OF A SITUATION IN WHICH YOU WOULD....

1.-SMALL TALK

2.-BE AT A CLOSE SHAVE

ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS

1.- What type of person are you if you are called "a jack of all trades"?

2.-What wouldn´t you wear for all the tea in China?

COMPLETE WITH A RELATIVE CLAUSE

1.- A BIG NOISE IS .....

2.-A ROLLING STONE IS.....

COMPLETE SO THAT YOU SHOW YOU UNDERSTAND THE MEANING

1.-I gave John a lift because.....

2.-It was a bitter pill when.....