

Name: Blair
Gender: Female
NorthernHowl village
Bisexual gurl
Kind but a bit aggressive
Regrets a lot Generous
Shy
Jumpy
Observant
Stutters a lot
Bad memory
Half Fire/Lava tribe

STORY

Blair is a 14 moon old she-cat. She is wandering around the village until another she-cat sees her. Blair tries to ignore her reminding herself she would just stutter and embarrass herself. But the she-cat keeps talking to Blair. "Hello! I haven't seen you around, can I get to know you?" The Silver she-cat questioned. Blair hesitates. "I'm Blair, I'm 14 and I-I am-um-somebody." Blair stammers. The silver cat beams. "I'm Caroline! I'm also 14 and I'm also a "somebody". Blair chuckled a bit and then tried to walk away. The she-cat kept following her, she was rather talkative. "Wanna be friends?" Caroline questioned after minutes. Blair hesitates. Maybe a friend wouldn't be so bad. "Sure." Blair says. Blair walks home and tells her mom the news. The next day her mother encourages Blair to go and talk with her new friend. Blair is desperate to say no but she nods and goes to Caroline's house. Before Blair could knock on the door she heard someone. "HEYYY, BLAIRRR!" Blair jumps and whirls around to see Caroline. Blair softens. "Oh- um-hey." Caroline is smiling. "Do you want to go fishing? Maybe we could go prank some people!" Caroline asks. "Oh! And maybe we could go camping tonight!" Blair finds it weird that Caroline wants to do all that just after a day of becoming friends. This girl just can't match up with me. Blair let out a quiet sigh. "Okay." After 2 years of being friends Caroline confesses her feelings to Blair. (You know what feelings those are lol.) Blair And Caroline start dating. But then one day, Blair finds a black Wolf, light shining off his eyes. His name is Ace. Ace says Hi to Blair when she is sitting near the river. "U-um-Hello." Blair replies. Blair steps back as she sees that some of his fur had ashes and a bit of sparks and flames. "Um-sir, are you on Fire?" Ace shook his head. "I'm a Lava Tribe member." Blair jumps back. Recently, the Ice tribe asked for an alliance just a day ago, they were now enemies with the Fire tribe. "And I'm here to tell you," Ace continued. "You are a Fire Tribe member too." Blair is shocked and runs away but Ace pins her down. He grabs her scruff and drags her away. Blair tries to call for help but Ace is covering her mouth so no one would hear her. Later they arrive at the Fire Tribe camp. Ace pins Blair down and faces her head up to see a Fire lion and a blue cat staring down at her. Blair could tell the blue and white cat was Shard, an Ice tribe member who joined the Fire tribe. The Fire lion was Kai, a heartless Fire lion. "Ah, hello." Kai greets her. Blair bares her teeth mainly with fear. "W-why did you bring me here?" She questions, shaking. Kai lets out a chuckle. "You are a Fire Tribe member, well, not completely." He says. "Your father, was a Fire Tribe member, but he fell in love with some stupid mortal." Kai explained. "He ran away from the Fire Tribe camp and betrayed us. Your mother gave birth to you, but shockingly, you were born with Fire powers." Blair is too freaked out by this; she is very close to fainting. "I-I think there's other-villagers who have Fire tribe and Ice tribe blood." Kai thinks for a moment. "Well, you're the only one we know of-that's the problem." Kai stands up. "If you trick us, tease us, or we find out you're staying loyal to the village-we'll not be hesitant to kill you." Blair shivers at the thought of being killed. What about Caroline? She'll be devastated about this! I'll have to go to war with her! "How do you know I have fire powers?" She asks. Shard steps forward. "A few days ago, Kai sensed your power when he was spying on the village." Kai nods and turns away. "Until you show your loyalty for a moon, we will treat you as a prisoner, but you won't be locked up. You have 2 chances for your loyalty until you're dead." Kai announces. "We will show you how to use your powers tomorrow." And with that, he leaped off with Shard at his tail. Ace lets go of Blair and Blair walks away, trembling. After a day, Kai showed her how to use her powers, it was simple, Blair just had to get angry, suddenly, magma started dripping off her tail. The day after that Blair thinks of Caroline. Maybe I could just see her for just a few minutes. Blair is quiet and careful, it is night and Blair is trying to visit Caroline. Blair makes it through the camp without being noticed and she runs off into the night. She has a small problem of forgetting where the village was but she made it. She knocks on Caroline's door. Caroline's mother is staying the night with her sister from the DewRiver village so Blair knows that Caroline was answering the door. Caroline opens the door, she looks sleepy but yet awake. Caroline sees Blair and jumps up with excitement. "Blair!" Caroline yells. "Shh..." Blair hushes her. "Caroline is confused until she sees Blair's magma tail. Blair tries to hide it but Caroline had already seen it. "What was-that?" Caroline questions. Blair sighs. "I'm- half Lava (/fire lol) tribe." Caroline steps back. "The tribe we're going to war with?!" Blair slowly nods. "But I promise I won't attack you, and I'll go soft on others." Caroline seems a bit less scared but still frightened. "Are you sure you can't just return here?" She asks. "Sorry Caroline, But-they'll kill me if I return here. And I have to meet with you secretly if we're gonna be together." Blair confirms. Caroline softens, nods and trots back inside before closing the door. "Maybe once a week." She said. Blair returns back to the camp. After the night. Blair finds herself happy again. She suddenly starts bonding with Ace, surprisingly, he was quite friendly. One day, Kai leaps up to the rock. "Today, we strike! We will attack the village at dusk. They must be cowardly! The ice tribe will be at the village too, we will attack them both." Kai announces. For some reason, Blair didn't feel very bad, at this point Blair couldn't manage to worry about Caroline. All she could think of was Ace. It's only been a few days though. Kai glared at Blair. "We'll let you in battle, but I've got my eye on you, if you kill somebody from our tribe, all your chances are gone." Kai warned. Blair gulps and nods. In the battle they're explosions and fire, lava and a bit of some ice everywhere. Some water puddles were on the ground too. Blair sighs. I'll have to do my best. Blair runs into battle. She sees blood scattered everywhere. She is horrified, then in the reflection of one is Caroline...facing Ace, teeth bared and claws unsheathed. Blair is overwhelmed, she hoped that this wouldn't happen but her fears came true! Blair looks up to see what had just been in the reflection. Ace pins Caroline down and opens his jaws to release boiling hot lava. Caroline closes her eyes with fear and preparation for pain. Blair shoves Ace off but is still trying not to hurt him. Ace gets up and sees Blair, he is shocked and sad. Suddenly, claws grasp Blair and she is pinned down on her side by Kai. "You have one more chance now! And least you didn't kill Ace." Kai growls. "And this is a little reminder." Kai raises his claw in the air and claws her violet eye.

It's been a week. Blair was walking towards Caroline, meeting together. Recently, Kai had given Blair a golden necklace with a blood red ruby on it. Blair was confused that he would be so generous after Blair had pushed Ace but she didn't question him. Blair sat down on the mountain, Caroline beside her. They were silent for a moment, watching the stars and figuring out what to say. "So, I saw a black wolf, you keep talking to-after the battle.." Caroline trailed off. Blair felt a bit of panic and annoyance in her. "And.." She mewed. Caroline hesitated to speak. "Ah, your Jealous that I'm growing a bond with someone else, great." Blair meowed sharply. I hate drama. Blair thought. Caroline said nothing, showing it was true. "What else do you have to say?" Blair questioned. Caroline turned her head back up to the sky. "Maybe you could-....stop??..." Caroline winced at how hurtful her own words sounded. Blair felt more angry than she had ever felt. "You just want me to stop?" Blair stood up, claws flexed out with anger. "Well.. you don't have to." Caroline got to her paws and backed away from her. "Are your eyes supposed to be red?" Caroline questioned. Blair didn't even bother to listen to her. "YOU WANT ME TO STOP?" She repeated, appalled. Blair raised her claw in the air and lashed at Caroline's muzzle. Caroline let out a small yowl and stepped back, looking at Blair, terrified. "Blair! It was just my opinion!" Caroline pointed out. However that didn't matter to Blair. Villagers began waking up and rushing towards the mountain due to the noise and stared up at Blair and Caroline, shocked that Caroline's lover had scarred her. "I CAN HAVE THOUGHTS TOO!" Blair hissed. She glanced down, a lake of ice was just under the mountain. She pinned Caroline down. Caroline winced and looked up at Blair. "What's gotten into you?" Blair bared her teeth. Blair thought for a moment. "YOU! You never caught up with my humor, my taste, my thoughts, barely anything! You need to learn a lesson here!" Blair grasped Caroline's scruff. "Blair-BLAIR, WHAT THE HECK ARE DOING?" Caroline squeaked. "See you in the afterlife!" Blair tossed Caroline off of the mountain, making sure she wouldn't land on her paws. Blair could hear screams of the villagers and Caroline below her. Suddenly, Blair didn't feel angry anymore-she felt bad. She whipped her head around and darted away to the Fire tribe, ashamed. She woke up. Ace was glancing at her, he hadn't completely forgiven his friend yet. Blair turned away and padded outside the den. Everyone was looking at Blair a bit frightened except Kai, he was looking at her proudly. What did I do? Blair wondered as she tried to avoid everyone's eyes. I need to apologize to Caroline! Blair rocketed out of camp, but then she slowed when she realized she had killed her lover. Blair shook her head. She has to be alive! Blair ended up at the village. She snuck behind the houses and got to Caroline's house where she should be recovering. Blair knocked on the door. Blair realized that Caroline's mother would've answered the door so she stepped away. She managed to pull open a window and sneak in. She crept towards Caroline's bedroom. Caroline was alive! She was sitting on her bed, head hanging and she had a cast on the back of her head-but there was a scar on her muzzle, the scar Blair gave her. "Psst, Caroline!" Blair whispered. Caroline was alarmed by the voice and she turned to Blair. Blair stood up. "Sorry that I tried to kill you the other day." Blair mewed. Caroline softened. "It's okay." She meowed, her voice shaking a bit. "Why were your eyes red when you attacked me anyway?" Blair felt confusion run through her. "I don't know, but- I was really angry." Caroline stood up. "Maybe the eyes are why, they look like the same shade of red as the necklace." Blair glanced down at the necklace Kai gave her. Blair's eyes widened. Kai must've given her the necklace to make her more violent! Without a word Blair zipped out of the room, she leaped through the open window and rocketed towards the Fire Tribe camp. She tore off the necklace but she was still angry. She entered the camp. "Oh hey Blair-" Blair ran past Ace before he could finish. She arrived at the den and immediately began attacking Kai. Kai looked at her in surprise. "HEY!" Shard yelled he raced over to the two and tried to pull Blair off. Blair managed to kick Shard away. Suddenly, claws grasped her scruff. Ace's. Blair twisted her head around and sank her teeth into Ace's chest fur. Ace pulled himself back, but Blair had just ripped out his chest fur. Kai and Shard were struggling as Ace and Blair went face to face with each other. Ace ripped off Blair's ear. Blair yowled with pain and began fighting. Blair clawed Ace's muzzle. Ace shoved his snout forward and bit Blair's chest fur. Blair leaped on top of him and sank her teeth into his throat. She sank deeper and deeper and then ripped his fur out. Orange blood was splattered all over him. He couldn't breathe. Blair hopped off him, a bit pitiful. The wolf collapsed and died. Blair felt blood pour out of her ripped out chest fur. She fell to the ground, coughing out blood. After struggling a bit more- the light in her eyes faded, and she was dead.

DESIGNS (Wip)

Blair's mom

