

Grades 2-5 - Kids on Bikes, an RPG Podcast (5:00PM) Monday

Welcome to Kids on Bikes, a role-playing game inspired by ET, Stranger Things, and The Goonies! Is there something strange in your neighborhood? Whoyou gonna call? The Dwight Englewood Lower School students, naturally! Each week, students in the class will record an episode of a radio play, set in a town they have created, and populated with monsters and mysteries pulled from their imaginations. The story will be improvised but each episode will build from where the previous episode left off. Once it has been edited it will be sent out to the lower school so that everyone can follow along on this exciting adventure! Is the new 4th grade teacher actually an alien? Has a secret government organization taken over the local bowling alley? Are the cats in town spying on their owners?? Find out next week in Kids on Bikes!

Check out some episodes from last year's podcast, One More Quest!

What Lurks in the Forest....

Episode 4: Boaty-McBoat-Heist

About the instructor: No one loves telling an unexpected story more than Glenn Stott. He's an actor, a wood crafter, an experienced coach and an instructor with a heart for exploration. His classes are like no other!