

LGBTQIA+ (OT6): Straight as a Rainbow!

Welcome to another episode of Furthering the Agenda (™)! Where we try to take over the world, and make it as fabulous as we possibly can! We are a large and diverse group of Gaffers from all walks of life, who at times can be extremely thirsty and flirtatious to anyone who posts selfies (what can we say, we love selfies!). But fear not, everyone and anyone is welcome!

On a more serious note, this thread is open to anyone regardless of gender, race, and or sexual orientation. Everyone is welcome! Newcomers, Lurkers, Juniors, feel free to tell us a bit about yourself by using the IceBreaker Questionnaire (IBQ) ™ :

The IBQ ™

- Your gender?
- Your sexual orientation?
- Where Are You From?
- Where Do You Live?
- How Old Are you?
- Favorite Type of Music?
- Profession or Career interest?
- Favorite video game(s)?
- What are your hobbies (other than gaming)?

You don't have to answer every question but a simple introduction is mandatory! (Not really). Feel free to answer any questions you feel comfortable answering. Or don't answer any questions in the ICB at all, and simply jump in!

So.... What's going on with the acronym? Well, we realize that human sexuality spreads across a broad spectrum where there are different variations and deviations. That is to say, that there are various sexualities and therefore, many terms that many people feel comfortable identifying with. For example, someone might identify him/herself as Pansexual, someone else might identify as a Pomosexual. There are many different terms that are constantly being created, and that is okay. We are constantly creating new terms to describe something new, or simply because we might feel comfortable identifying under a certain label (because identifying as gay is too mainstream yo!). Henceforth, the acronym stands for the following:

L - Lesbian
G- Gay
B - Bisexual
T - Transgender/Transsexual
Q - Queer/Questioning
I - Intersex
A - Asexual/Ally

+ - Any other terms that describe a certain type of sexual orientation.

We can only include so many letters in the acronym, forgive us if we don't include a P or a C - otherwise the whole title would be the alphabet! Or simply LettersGaf as some of you have previously called it (we know who you are... ;).
