Information for Sponsors, Vendors and Scarecrow Trail Participants

Dear Ardmore Public Library Supporter,

The Ardmore Public Library will hold its third annual Scarecrow Trail and Fall Festival on Saturday, October 24th, 2026, from 1:00-6:00 pm at John Barnes Park in Ardmore, Tennessee, and because you're an influential part of our community, we'd love to have your support.

At last year's Second Annual Fall Festival we added vendors, more games, and stage and audience experiences. Over 700 people attended the Fall Festival last year. We also had over 1300 engagements online through social media and our website for this event. Last year over $3000.00 in proceeds was raised for the library. This year, we look forward to adding more vendors, food options, and scarecrows on the trail. We are also adding a "goody bag" incentive for all attendees who stop by every game and vendor spot which will drive even more traffic to all vendors this year. We will cap off the night with the announcement of the Scarecrow Awards and raffle winners, and send everyone home after a pass through Trunk or Treat Lane. This fun, family-friendly event has been a huge hit the last two years, and we can't wait to ramp up the excitement by adding your involvement in 2026.

Your support goes a long way toward helping the Ardmore Public Library fund programs and add resources to the library - benefits for our entire community. We ask you to join us in contributing to a vibrant community in Ardmore by participating in the Scarecrow Trail and Fall Festival in at least one of these ways:

Sponsors are visually represented and recognized on materials leading up to and throughout the event

Vendors sell products/services and increase the profile of your commercial or personal business

Create a Scarecrow to promote advertisement for your business and promote your team's creativity and engagement with the community

Donate an item from you or your business to our raffle. Additionally, financial donations to the library are always appreciated as they help us provide more resources and programs for the community.

Volunteer to help with a game or event at the Fall Festival to help make this event another big success

If you have another way you'd like to participate or support the Scarecrow Trail and Fall Festival, please contact us directly with your ideas. We look forward to a great event for our community that includes YOU!

Sincerely,
Tina, O'Driscoll
Director, Ardmore Public Library
