Inspired by	Three Promises

The story takes place in Belgrade during the war and revolves around a family who strongly values the importance of keeping promises to each other. Despite facing numerous difficulties, they stay committed to supporting each other and fulfilling their promises. Through their struggles, I felt the pain and fear that the family endured during the war. However, despite the challenging situation, they showed immense strength through their self-sacrifice. This story fascinated me, as it reinforced the importance of never cutting off love and respect for family and friends, no matter the circumstances.
