

What is a Corrido?

The corrido is a musical form developed in Mexico during the 1800s and originally sung throughout the country. Although still popular in Mexico, over time it became known as “música de la frontera” (border music) because it was especially popular along both sides of the U.S.-Mexico border. This musical-poetic form continues to be popular wherever Mexicans and Mexican Americans live.

Language

The following elements characterize the language in corridos:

- Corridos are stories told in poetic form and sung to simple, basic music, much like English ballads.
- Corridos use common, everyday language.
- Although traditional corridos were always in Spanish, in recent years some have appeared in English as well, or have mixed the two languages.
- The audience, if addressed, is always addressed politely.
- The tone can vary from sincere to satirical.

Structure

The stories that corridos tell, either fictional or historical, must be sung in the vernacular language of the people in order to be remembered (whether in English, Spanish, or a mixture.)

There is some variation in the poetic form, but most corridos have the following structure:

- 36 lines (6 stanzas of 6 lines each or 9 stanzas of 4 lines each)
- 7 to 10 syllables per line (sometimes the lines are repeated)
- Rhyme scheme that varies but most commonly uses an ABCBDB form in a six-line stanza or ABCB in a four-line stanza. (Sometimes couplets are used: AABB.)
- By tradition, the first stanza provides a setting for the story by either giving a specific date or naming a place.

Content

The traditional historical corrido told about actual events, especially the exploits of famous heroes or the tragic deaths of individuals fighting unjust authorities. When corridos became more commercially exploitable, some became mostly fictional. Today, a corrido can be about almost anything. These are some of the popular subjects:
