

Questions for checking quotation eligibility

Does the author work at a public institution (school, university, government, publishing house, well-known club, or association)? Has he/she written several texts on this topic= Has he/she already been cited in other works?

Are the homepage/online offers provided by a public institution?

Is the offer aimed at a specialist audience? Is it aimed at schoolchildren? Is it at all clear who it is aimed at?

Are the sources of the information given? Is it possible to understand how the author arrived at this information?

How up-to-date is the source of information and how up-to-date is the information given in the work?

Is it clear why the author produced the work? Is it research work? Is there a political or economic interest?

What is the style of the source? Is it well structured? Is the language as value-free and factual as possible?