Can pull around stars and black holes in astral strength form.

Now able to control Argo Navis' fleet, which is made up of an entire galaxy.

Durability - Slugged it out with a villain that can create mag 9.5 earthquakes with every punch without dodging, coming out scratchless(In base)

The Astral Strength Form uses the energy of the 9 main stars from the constellation Leo. Can survive against Argo Navis' fleet.

IQ - 168

Abilities - Master of 8 martial arts and grandmaster in 5 of them, widely considered the greatest fighter by other heroes, Golden Prowess, Lion's Roar, Regal Presence, and Pride Leader.

Hax -

Golden Prowess: boosts her physical stats, enhanced strength, agility, durability, senses and reflexes. Toggable gravity and her effective body weight by 10. Her soul is as durable as her physical body.

Lion's Roar: a devastating sonic attack charged with golden energy that can incapacitate enemies, disable technology, scramble enemy communications, and disrupt metaphysical/magical effects and destroy terrain.

Pride Leader: a team buffing aura of 20× but caps to match her stats, and weaker version of her abilities. When in Astral Strength Form the cap of both 20x and match her stats are lifted.

Regal Presence: an unshakable aura of authority that slightly weakens, slows, or paralyzes opponents in fear depending if you're equal or higher, lower, fragile in willpower and also makes it nearly impossible to intimidate or manipulate her, increases mental resistance.

Astral Reinforcement (upgraded Golden Prowess): Her physical attacks gain astral weight, allowing them to strike incorporeal entities and bypass conventional durability.

Phantom Gauntlets: Her fists leave behind glowing lion claw marks, increasing the impact of every consecutive strike. Sovereign's Mantle (upgraded Regal Presence): The Crown of Dominion fully integrates, becoming part of her astral self, making her immune to mind control, illusions, and intimidation. The Astral Strength Form uses the energy of the 9 main stars from the constellation Leo. Full Activation needs 2 minutes. Can use partial transformation. (Astral Strength Form)

Weapons / Tools - Black with gold trim self regenerating nanotech suit that fuses with the body with a subatomic transmutation engine that results in super regen, assimilation, adaptive protection/shielding, with bladed high heel boots, and clawed gauntlets.

Crown of Dominion: grants a 3x boost to all base abilities except strength. AoE gravity manipulation/telekinesis that is thrice her physical strength, specks level control, 3000 mile range, and speed that matches hers. Combat style switches to ranged AoE. Immunity and reflection of mind control and domination effects. Change in personality from confident heroine to arrogant dominatrix.

Argo Navis' fleet equipped with type 3 civilization tech.

Weaknesses - Lack of hero work experience(only 4-12 years), her arrogance, and rapid supernatural/esoteric attacks.

Tab 2

Zara was born as the youngest daughter to a pair of half south african, half Irish billionaires. Unlike most of her family which were at most lightskinned, she was completely white with golden blonde hair.

From childhood, she and her siblings were brought up to become leaders of separate parts of their family's enterprise.

She was trained to take over the beauty and fashion companies due to her sheer looks and personality but she was also given military and security industries because of her talent in martial arts that at first was taught to her for self-defense but became a true interest.

After graduating from an elite academy at 16, she was sent to roam both northern europe and south africa for 4 years to take in all she can learn, no money, no identity, no safety. She fought the elements, wild animals, street weirdos, underground fight clubs, working as a bar maid, a game hunter, an underground fighter, a vigilante, a bouncer.

Returning home at 20 years old, she takes over her share of the companies and finds out how deep the unnoticed corruption was, starting a culling of the rotten. Within her first few months she has already driven the corruption to such a corner that they forgot about the shareholders, the bribery, the embezzlement, the money laundering, the legal battles and went and hired an army of mercenaries which included a dozen or so awakened aura users acting as terrorists to just kill her. Sure she had her own personal army from her military and security businesses but she has yet to find more than 7 awakened aura users which had her in a dangerous spot.

In a dire life threatening situation, fighting for her life against 20 armed mercenaries and 4 low level awakened aura users, she gets a flashback to her best friend from the elite academy right before graduation, her friend was born with awakened aura with the ability to see a persons unawakened aura, she didn't tell Zara that she looked at hers, that she would awaken, nor what she would awaken, she only told her that she would become the greatest in the world. There, in the 62nd floor of Royale Security HQ building, awakened a golden star.

Many things happened after. Her rise to the top of the hero world, Stardom, the growth of her Business Empire, her modeling career, fashion design, claiming Royale Industries' Aura Labs, founding of Alpha Martial Academy, Union Heroics Academy and Alpha Heroics Agency.

In modern day, she has established herself as the undisputed No. 1 hero in the world.

Cemented herself in everyone's top 10 hottest women in the world.

Surpassing all licensed heroes in pure martial skill, only rumored to be rivaled by a handful of vigilantes and villains.

Owns 2 licenses given by the presidents of most countries. one is so that she can legally do bad stuff to bad people, the other is so that she can do bad stuff to dumb people.
