Abstrak

[Abstrak berisi : (1) Penyajian latar belakang dan tujuan utama penelitian, tanpa referensi, tanpa singkatan/akronim, dan tanpa footnote; (2) Penjelasan metode pelaksanaan penelitian; (3) Rangkuman hasil temuan dari penelitian yang telah dilaksanakan Keempat, Dampak (tambahan) jika ada dan mencukupi; (4) Dampak (tambahan) jika ada dan mencukupi; (5) tidak menyebutkan nama aturan; (6) Satu spasi dan satu paragraf dan menggunakan huruf cambria ukuran 10.

Introduction

The introduction is written with approximately 10% of the total number of words in the entire article. The introduction is made using Cambria letters, Font 11, Spacing 1.5 and consists of 5 to 15 pages. The introduction contains the background and urgency, so that research is important to carry out, by containing the following things: (1) Contains the background, theoretical studies, problems, gap analysis, novelty of research results (state of the art), and ends with objectives study; (2) Gap analysis contains the gap between das sollen and das sein; (3) The novelty of the research results (state of the art) contains a description of the research study with previous research (literature review); and (4) Objectives and benefits of activities.

The submitted article is the result of research without engineering in any form and has never been published anywhere. If the article has been sent, it will be accepted through a review process first. Then it will be published via the Open Journal System (OJS) in stages.

Footnote writing uses APA style citation style. Use the Reference Manager application (Mendeley or Zotero) and the font used is Cambria 9, aligned left-right (justify), 1 space spasi.

Research Methods

Research methods describe the methods used to answer problems or solve problems. The methods described here include: (1) research specifications, (2) research materials, (3) research location, (4) data used, (5) data collection techniques, (6) data processing techniques and (7) data analysis.

Results and Discussion

A. Sub Titles (11pt Bold)

Research and analysis results contain research findings and discussions which are the results of scientific analysis. Write down scientific findings obtained from the results of research that has been carried out, which must be supported by adequate data. Research results must be explained scientifically, including:

1. What scientific findings were obtained?
2. Why did this happen?
3. Why are there varying trends?

All these questions must be explained scientifically. Apart from that, it would also be good to explain the comparison with the results of other researchers who discussed almost the same topic. Research results, findings and analysis must be able to answer the research hypothesis or problem formulation as described in the introduction.

B. Sub Titles (11pt Bold)

Tables are numbered using Arabic numeration. Table captions in the middle and Cambria font 11 pt. Every word in the table title is lowercase except for short words. Table number captions are placed before the related table, as shown in Table 1.

Closing

A. Conclusions

Conclusions describe answers to hypotheses, problem formulations, or scientific findings obtained. The conclusion does not contain a repetition of results and analysis, but rather a summary of the findings as expected from the research or hypothesis.

B. Suggestion

In the final section, things that cannot be answered are also explained with conclusions in the form of suggestions and responses to the research results.

Attachment

Writing footnotes uses APA style citation style using the fullnote technique. Use the Reference Manager application (Mendeley or Zotero) and the font used is Cambria 9, aligned left-right (justify), 1 space.

In this guide, students can learn the various uses of footnotes as well as how to format footnotes according to APA Style. Footnotes use superscript numbers and must be displayed sequentially. Footnote numbers usually appear at the end of a sentence or clause, after a period or other punctuation mark.
