

Wolf numbers continue to grow in Washington state, but still no hunting as in Idaho April 23, 2021 Washington

OPB News

... The gray wolf population in Washington state increased by 22% in the past year, raising the minimum number of wolves documented by state and tribal biologists to 178 in 29 packs [in 2020] — up from 145 wolves and 26 packs at the end of 2019..,