

Hey (Resilient's Name),

I find your channel quite educational for those who suffer from emotional overeating.

This can help me enhance your program's sales and your impact.

I use emails to increase customers and Landing pages to increase conversion rates.

In order to make my work special and obvious, I need great content that deserves more visibility.

That's why I concluded that your channel is a good opportunity after doing research.

I can start by creating a Landing Page to attract a larger audience.

Don't mind the prices; it will be free.

Are you ready to start this journey?
