

Hey <name>,

I have seen your videos and wanted to say that your videos are <compliment>.

I have an Idea, that will help you grow your channel more easily.

While your channel grows, fans aspect better and better videos as well as better video quality which needs more expensive equipment.

One easy way of making money is to sell Merch on your website but that can be annoying itself. You need to be aware of things like the law or shipping in both ways.

But I can take care of these problems for you. I'm a Web designer as well as a salesman and can handle these problems quite easily.

Maybe you are questioning yourself if I am any good so here is an example for you => [link / Video link]

If you are wondering how I'd love to chat with you further about my approach, what's an appropriate time for you?

Sincerely,
Brad Kent
