

Topics and Discussions of ideas for A New Beginning sequels and other book series.

What is Jake's big secret, and why does he not want anyone to know? How does Seth get to find out about Silver mines and why does he think it's a good idea to buy one? Does any one out there know about Silver mines in Nevada. There are some great research sites you can check out. Give me some answers to these questions and send me some of your ideas if you were writing a western, what would happen, who are the characters and what trouble could they get into.
